Ecosystem Dynamics in a Polar Desert, 1998 Presents information from the primary abiotic forces defining the system and from the present hydrology biogeochemistry and physics of major sites of organic carbon production of the McMurdo Dry Valleys Additionally research on the physical chemical and biological properties of the dry valley soils is included The role of environmental management in long term ecological studies is also addressed The accompanying CDROM provides details and scale to visualize the McMurdo Dry Valleys from an ecosystem perspective Correlation of the African Silurian Rocks

Geological Society of America, 1934 Geological Exploration in Murzuq Basin D. Worsley, 2000-12-19 The Murzuq Basin is a large intracratonic sag basin located in southwestern Libya Exploration efforts started in this vast and remote Saharan region already in 1957 and 60 exploratory wells have been drilled to date resulting in over 20 discoveries with around 4 000 million barrels of oil in place Most discoveries have been made in Ordovician sandstone reservoirs sourced by hot shales of the Lower Silurian Tanezzuft Formation Oil is already being produced and exported from the area but the basin's total hydrocarbon potential is still poorly understood Recent exploration especially the major discovery and initial development of the Giant Elephant Field has greatly increased interest for the area's potential Many petroleum geologists and companies now believe that the basin may well develop into a new major hydrocarbon province which will significantly contribute to Europe's energy needs in the next decades This book presents papers from a conference held at Sebha University on the eastern margins of the Murzuq Basin in September 1998 The book continues an ongoing series of presentations of the geology of Libya but the 25 contributions herein mostly centre on the Murzuq Basin itself and on nearby areas There are still many unresolved questions in terms of geological and hydrocarbon exploration in these difficult desert areas but the papers herein will hopefully present a first comprehensive overview of an exciting frontier exploration region About half of the papers are directly related to hydrocarbon exploration and to source rock and reservoir development but a wide variety of other features are also described ranging from palaeontology and biostratigraphy to ore geology and water resources covering the entire geological column from the Precambrian to the Holocene The book concludes with a bibliography covering all geological aspects of this challenging but very promising frontier area Lower Palaeozoic of the Middle East, Eastern and Southern Africa, and Antarctica Charles Hepworth Holland, 1981 Pre-Mesozoic Ice Ages John C. Crowell, 1999-01-01 Ancient ice ages are revealed by distinctive stratal facies that tell us much about the times of coolness and how the climate system works Several strong ice ages were recorded in the late Paleozoic time and during transitions from the Devonian in to the Carboniferous and from the Ordovician in to the Silurian In Precambrian time several are documented for both the late and early Proterozoic age This title explores findings on the pre Mesozoic ice ages examining climate in relation to tectonobiogeochemical activities rooted in the changing earth air ocean system

J. Hambrey,Michael J. Hambrey,W. B. Harland,2011-04-14 In this 1981 substantial work M J Hambrey and W B Harland have assembled essays by leaders in the field of pre Pleistocene glacial research The Kirchgasser,2007 The Devonian was a peculiar period characterized by simplified plate tectonic configurations climatic overheating and widely flooded continents The bloom of fishes and ammonoids extensive reef complexes and the conquest of land indicate major biosphere innovations punctuated by many global events including two of the biggest mass extinctions The Devonian was the first system for which subdivisions were formally defined This was achieved by significant advances in pelagic biostratigraphy The chronostratigraphic framework and interdisciplinary techniques allow us to correlate intervals or sudden events across facies boundaries in order to reconstruct the sedimentary and evolutionary history of the system with highest precision This volume honors the lifetime stratigraphic achievements of Michael Robert House 1930 2002 Based on case studies from Europe North Africa and North America it shows how the combination of biostratigraphy chemostratigraphy magnetostratigraphy sequence stratigraphy and event stratigraphy can contribute to a much deeper understanding of both regional and global environmental change Quarterly Creation Research Society,1982 A Revised Correlation of Precambrian Rocks in the British Isles Wes Gibbons,Anthony Leonard Harris,Geological Society of London,1994 Catalog of the United States Geological Survey Library U.S. Geological Survey Library,1976
