An Unladylike Profession Chris Dubbs, 2020-07-01 When World War I began war reporting was a thoroughly masculine bastion of journalism But that did not stop dozens of women reporters from stepping into the breach defying gender norms and official restrictions to establish roles for themselves and to write new kinds of narratives about women and war Chris Dubbs tells the fascinating stories of Edith Wharton Nellie Bly and more than thirty other American women who worked as war reporters As Dubbs shows stories by these journalists brought in women from the periphery of war and made them active participants fully engaged and equally heroic if bearing different burdens and making different sacrifices Women journalists traveled from belligerent capitals to the front lines to report on the conflict But their experiences also brought them into contact with social transformations political unrest labor conditions campaigns for women's rights and the rise of revolutionary socialism An eye opening look at women's war reporting An Unladylike Profession is a portrait of a sisterhood from the guns of August to the corridors of Versailles Purchase the audio edition

War, Journalism and the Shaping of the Twentieth Century Angela V. John, 2006-03-31 Called the king of Correspondents Henry W Nevins 1856-1941 captured the political zeitgeist in his newspaper journalism and books about conflicts across the globe He provided astute first hand observations on events such as war between Greece and Turkey the Siege of Ladysmith in South Africa the aftermath of the 1905 Russian Revolution and the Gallipoli tragedy in the First World War his copy obtained in perilous situations He bravely exposed the persistence of slavery in Angola unrest in India and conflict in Ireland his vivid and exquisite prose shocking and enlightening British readers He cultivated controversy with his brave stance on issues like women's suffrage and the self determination of small nations such as Georgia His first wife Margaret Wynne Nevins was a suffragette and writer their son the celebrated artist C R W Nevins In the 1920s Henry Nevins accompanied Ramsay MacDonald on the first visit of a British Prime Minister to an American President His perspectives whether on the Middle East the Balkans Russia or the United States illuminate many of the conflicts which resonate in today's uncertain world

The War Correspondent Greg McLaughlin, 2016-02-20 What is the role of the war reporter today Through interviews with prominent war and foreign correspondents such as John Pilger Robert Fisk Mary Dejevsky and Alex Thomson The War Correspondent delves into the most dangerous form of journalism From Crimea to Vietnam the Falklands to the Gulf and Afghanistan Iraq and the War on Terror the book examines the attractions and risks of war reporting the challenge of objectivity and impartiality in the war zone the danger that journalistic independence is compromised by military control censorship and public relations as well as the commercial and technological pressures of an intensely concentrated competitive news media environment As history and ideology return to the reporting of international conflict Greg McLaughlin asks what will that mean for a new generation of war correspondents attuned not to history or ideology but to the politics of the next conflict

Bearing Witness Denise Leith, 2004 There are two types of people in this world those who have been to war and seen war close up and those who haven't They're not the same animal The journalists and photographers who document war and conflict are continually challenged personally and professionally by the scenes that they witness How do they live with the horrors of war and human suffering that they witness and the commonly expressed sense of impotence that results while simultaneously claiming their job is a privilege and their work has given their life meaning While passionately arguing their aim is to make a difference why have many repeatedly refused to become witnesses in war crimes tribunals And how do they deal with one of the most difficult dilemmas faced by war correspondents and photojournalists whether to abandon their witnessing role to lend assistance to people suffering from the effects of war or famine or whether to make the decision that the greatest assistance they can provide is to stand back and get the story or pictures out to the rest of the world Some war correspondents and photojournalists are drawn back again and again to the next conflict while others have decided that the risk and personal toll is something they can no longer accept BEARING WITNESS will challenge the way you view and read the world with its remarkable insights into the experiences beliefs and fears of more than twenty of these journalists and photographers including Robert Fisk Monica Attard Marie Colvin David Rieff David Brill Sorious Samura and Ron Haviv people who have spent their careers looking at what others cannot bear to see War Stories Mark Pedelty, 2013-07-24 What are the influences on war correspondents as they report on events in war torn countries Mark Pedelty explores the lives work and culture of the international press corps examining the institutions practices myths and rituals that shape the work of journalists everywhere He looks at the context in which journalists construct their reports By looking at how new stories are actually produced the author highlights the elusiveness of the goal of objective journalism and illustrates how the biases of war correspondents are constrained by the powers of government and how these biases are translated into actual journalistic practices Reporting War and Conflict Janet Harris, Kevin Williams, 2018-10-03 Reporting War and Conflict brings together history theory and practice to explore the issues and obstacles involved in the reporting of contemporary war and conflict The book examines the radical changes taking place in the working practices and day to day routines of war journalists arguing that managing risk has become central to modern war correspondence How individual reporters and news organisations organise their coverage of war and conflict is increasingly shaped by a variety of personal professional and institutional risks The book provides an historical and theoretical context to risk culture and the work of war correspondents paying particular attention to the changing nature of technology organisational structures and the role of witnessing The conflicts in Iraq Afghanistan and Syria are examined to highlight how risk and the calculations of risk vary according to the type of conflict The focus is on the relationship between propaganda censorship the sourcing of information and the challenges of reporting war in the digital world The authors then move on to discuss the arguments around risk in relation to gender and war reporting and the coverage of death on the battlefield Reporting War and Conflict is a guide to the contemporary changes in warfare and the media environment that have influenced war reporting It offers students and researchers in journalism and media studies an invaluable overview of the life of a modern war correspondent Famous War Correspondents Frederic Lauriston Bullard, 1974 War Correspondents Rob Shone, Chris Forsey, 2008-01-15 This graphic nonfiction career book takes a close look at the lives of three war correspondents whose hard work talent and perseverance in reporting the news at the battlefield made them heroes to civilians at home Each journalist's life story is included with explanations of the training and education choices each made for his or her profession This action filled book will incite interest in readers who wish to pursue job opportunities as correspondents covering national and overseas conflicts Chinese War Correspondents Shixin Ivy Zhang, 2016-10-19 This book engages with the Chinese mediation of wars and conflicts in the global environment Proposing a new cascading media and conflict model it applies this to the study of war correspondents from six levels media policy relations journalistic objectivity role perceptions news framing and peace war journalism news practices and audience Based on interviews with 23 Chinese journalists and case study analysis of the Libyan War Syrian War Afghanistan War and Israeli Palestinian conflict the book demonstrates that a new breed of Chinese war correspondents has emerged today They undergo a complex and nuanced mediated communication process Neither traditionally Chinese in their approach nor western in their perceptions they are uniquely pragmatic in negotiating their roles in a complex web of internal and external actors and factors The core ideology seems to be anti West in defiance of the US hegemony and the bias of global media as well as neutral Muslims Exploring the role perceptions values norms and practices of contemporary Chinese war correspondents who go outside China to bring the distant culture back home this text is key reading for scholars and students in international journalism international communication war and peace studies international relations and Chinese studies War Correspondent Fouad Sabry, 2024-06-23 What is War Correspondent An individual who is a journalist and covers tales from a war zone first hand is known as a war correspondent How you will benefit I Insights and validations about the following topics Chapter 1 War correspondent Chapter 2 Peter Arnett Chapter 3 Media coverage of the Iraq War Chapter 4 Anne Garrels Chapter 5 Bob McKeown Chapter 6 Embedded journalism Chapter 7 Bob Simon Chapter 8 Richard Engel Chapter 9 Ben Brown journalist Chapter 10 Jeremy Bowen II Answering the public top questions about war correspondent Who this book is for Professionals undergraduate and graduate students enthusiasts hobbyists and those who want to go beyond basic knowledge or information for any kind of War Correspondent Women War Correspondents of World War II Lilya Wagner, 1989-10-25 Stringer Ann Carpenter Iris Cowan Ruth The First Casualty Phillip Knightley, 2004-10-05 The first casualty when war comes is truth said American Senator Hiram Johnson in 1917 In his gripping now classic history of war journalism Phillip Knightley shows just how right Johnson was From William Howard Russell who described the appalling conditions of the Crimean War in the Times of London to the ranks of reporters photographers and cameramen who captured the realities of war in Vietnam The First Casualty tells a fascinating story of heroism and collusion censorship and suppression Since Vietnam Knightley reveals governments have become much more adept at managing the media as highlighted in chapters on the Falklands War the Gulf War and the conflict between NATO and Serbia over Kosovo And in a new chapter on the post 9 11 wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Knightley details even greater degrees of government manipulation and media complicity as evidenced by the embedding of reporters in military units and the uncritical openly patriotic coverage of these conflicts The age of the war correspondent as hero he concludes appears to be over Fully updated The First Casualty remains required reading for anyone concerned about freedom of the press journalistic responsibility and the nature of modern warfare

THE CORRESPONDENTS WAR CHARLES H. BROWN,

American Correspondents and Journalists in Moscow, 1917-1952 United States. Department of State. Division of Library and Reference Services,1953 What does a war reporter look like? The public perception of female war reporters,2021-02-11 Seminar paper from the year 2019 in the subject Cultural Studies Miscellaneous grade 1 7 University of Duisburg Essen language English abstract Female war reporters are still underrepresented in western media it is commonly assumed that the prototypical war reporter is a male correspondent Thus Korte assumed that the profession of embedded reporters is a world determined by men and in public s perception war correspondents are still considered to be rather male than female This paper points out how female war reporters are perceived by western society and interrogates whether Korte s assumption represents reality or not This essay also examines in how far these representations correspond to existing public perceptions regarding female war reporters but also have repercussions for our conception of war correspondents Since the late 19th century a particular public interest in war correspondents has grown Today attention has reached new heights due to public fascination with people who present and organize images of destruction and misery Public interest in the profession of war correspondents derives from the fact that correspondents deal with socially relevant questions and help to shape people s perception of war they may thus be thought of as essential contributors to the public understanding of military conflicts

American Journalists in Hitler's Germany Norman Domeier,2025 The first book to critically examine American journalists and media companies roles in Hitler s Germany reigniting the debate on the relationship between political power and the media Despite Hitler s international use of propaganda and despite the power of the US press historians have neglected American journalists activity in Nazi Germany American media companies expanded their presence in Germany after 1933 and the Associated Press AP conducted business with Hitler s regime throughout the war Norman Domeier s study now in English is the first to examine critically and in detail the roles of American journalists and media companies in Hitler s Germany showing that they knew about but kept secret the plans for rearmament the occupation of the Rhineland the annexation of Austria the invasions of Denmark Norway and the Soviet Union The book documents the companionship between Adolf Hitler and Karl Henry von Wiegand chief German correspondent of the Hearst press who was the first and last American to interview him Most important it details the secret exchange of news photographs discovered by Domeier in 2017 between the AP and the Nazis from 1942-45 Thousands of AP photos were used in the Nazi press usually with anti American or anti Semitic spin while the AP distributed ca 40 000 Nazi photographs to US newspapers Domeier's book reignites the debate on the relationship between political power and the media opening up new perspectives on the political and cultural history of journalism beyond one sided idealizations

War Reporters Under Threat Chris Paterson, 2014-06-20 War Reporters Under Threat describes the threat of violence facing war reporters from the United States government and some of its closest allies Chris Paterson argues that what should have been the lesson for the press following the invasion of Iraq that they will be treated instrumentally by the US government has been mostly ignored As a result even nominally democratic states cannot be counted upon to protect journalists in conflict and urgent reform of legal protections for journalists is required War Reporters Under Threat combines critical scholarship with original investigation to assess the impact of the US government's obsession with information control and protection of its own troops While the press military relationship has been well researched this book is the first to elaborate the US government threat to journalists

Of Fortunes and War Patrick Garrett, 2017-03-09 The list of female war reporters is long and distinguished But the great grandmother of them all was Clare Hollingworth Mail on Sunday She was a pioneer Kate Adie OBE Unputdownable Alexander McCall Smith One of the most unforgettable journalists I have ever met Chris Patten ONE OF THE INSPIRATIONS BEHIND THE NEW BBC DRAMA WORLD ON FIRE Legendary pioneering journalist Clare Hollingworth died in Hong Kong aged 105 in January 2017 after an illustrious career spanning the great events of the 20th century Clare was famous for getting the scoop of the century the outbreak of the World War 2 From witnessing the first aerial bombings against England in the First World War through Hitler's Blitzkrieg Clare's résumé included desert war in North Africa civil war in Greece terrorism in Jerusalem naming Philby as the Third Man and guerrilla warfare in Vietnam and Borneo She had an uncanny ability to make headlines throughout her century long life And although her style of journalism was very different from the 24 hour breaking rolling news we have today the need for detailed eye witness reporting seems even more important today as we face an onslaught of fake news and alternative facts The story is not just about news and war however through access to family papers and personal accounts her great nephew Patrick Garrett is able to show Clare in three dimensions explain her life and loves and show how she dealt with the pressures of life as a correspondent decades before women were routinely accepted in this role facebook.com/celebrateclare twitter.com/celebrateclare
