Armin Linke:

The Appearance of That Which Cannot Be Seen Ariella Azoulay, Lorraine Daston, Bruno Latour, 2015 Heterotopia and the City Michiel Dehaene, Lieven De Cauter, 2008-05-15 Heterotopia literally meaning other place is a rich concept in urban design that describes a space that is on the margins of ordered or civil society and one that possesses multiple fragmented or even incompatible meanings The term has had an impact on architectural and urban theory since it was coined by Foucault in the late 1960s but it has remained a source of confusion and debate since Heterotopia and the City seeks to clarify this concept and investigates the heterotopias which exist throughout our contemporary world in museums theme parks malls holiday resorts gated communities wellness hotels and festival markets With theoretical contributions on the concept of heterotopia including a new translation of Foucault's influential 1967 text Of Other Space and essays by well known scholars the book comprises a series of critical case studies from Beaubourg to Bilbao which probe a range of post urban transformations and which redirect the debate on the privatization of public space Wastelands and terrains vagues are studied in detail in a section on urban activism and transgression and the reader gets a glimpse of the extremes of our dualized postcivil condition through case studies on Jakarta Dubai and Kinshasa Heterotopia and the City provides a collective effort to reposition heterotopia as a crucial concept for contemporary urban theory The book will be of interest to all those wishing to understand the city in the emerging postcivil society and post historical era Planners architects cultural theorists urbanists and academics will find this a valuable contribution to current critical argument

Prospecting Ocean Stefanie Hessler, 2019-12-17 Investigating the entanglement of industry politics culture and economics at the frontier of ocean excavations through an innovative union of art and science The oceans are crucial to the planet's well being They help regulate the global carbon cycle support the resilience of ecosystems and provide livelihoods for communities The oceans as guardians of planetary health are threatened by many forces including growing extractivist practices Through the innovative lens of artistic research Prospecting Ocean investigates the entanglement of industry politics culture and economics at the frontier of ocean excavation The result is a richly illustrated study that unites science and art to examine the ecological cultural philosophical and aesthetic reverberations of this current threat to the oceans Prospecting Oceans takes as its starting point an exhibition by the photographer and filmmaker Armin Linke which was commissioned by TBA21 Academy London and first shown at the Institute of Marine Science CNR ISMAR in Venice Linke is concerned with making the invisible visible and here he unmask the technologies that enable extractions from the ocean including future seabed mining for minerals and sampling of genetic data But the book extends far beyond Linke's research presenting the latest research from a variety of fields and employing art as the place where disciplines can converge Integrating the work of artists with scientific theoretical and philosophical analysis Prospecting Ocean demonstrates that visual culture offers new and urgent perspectives on ecological crises

Talk to Me Paola Antonelli, 2011 Published in conjunction with an exhibition at The Museum of Modern Art Talk to Me thrives on an important late 20th century cultural development in design a shift from the centrality of function to that of meaning From this new perspective objects contain information that goes well beyond their immediate use or appearance providing access to complex systems and networks and acting as gateways and interpreters Whether openly and actively or in subtle subliminal ways things talk to us and designers write the initial script that lets us develop and improvise the dialogue Talk to Me focuses on objects that involve direct interaction such as interfaces information systems communication devices and projects that establish a practical emotional or even sensual connection between their users and entities such as cities companies governmental institutions as well as other people The featured objects range in date from the early 1980s beginning with the first Graphic User Interface developed by Xerox Parc in 1981 with particular attention given to projects from the last five years and to several ones currently in development Included are a diverse array of examples from computer and machine interfaces to websites video games devices and tools and installations Organized thematically Talk to Me features essays by Paola Antonelli Jamer Hunt Alexandra Midel Kevin Slavin and Koi Vinh By introducing design practices that are becoming increasingly crucial to our world the book presents a highly distilled sample of today s best design production that uses technology in creative and unexpected ways showing how rich and deep design s influence will be on our future

Field Guide to the Patchy Anthropocene Anna Lowenhaupt

Tsing, Jennifer Deger, Alder Keleman Saxena, Feifei Zhou, 2024-05-07 Nature has gone feral How can we re attune ourselves to the new nature A field guide can help While the global scientific community recently made headlines by ruling the Anthropocene an era many date to the Industrial Revolution when human action truly began to transform the planet did not qualify for a geological epoch quite yet understanding the nature of human transformation of the Earth is more important than ever The effects of human activity are global in scope but take shape within distinct social and ecological patches discontinuous regions within which the key actors may not be human but the plants animals fungi viruses plastics and chemicals creating our new world Field Guide to the Patchy Anthropocene takes stock of our current planetary crisis leading readers through a series of sites thought experiments and genre stretching descriptive practices to nurture a revitalized natural history Field guides teach us how to notice name and so better appreciate more than human worlds They hone our powers of observation and teach us to see the world anew Field based observations and place based knowledge cultivation getting up close and personal with patchy dynamics are vital to truly grapple with the ecological challenges and the historical conjunctures that are bringing us to multiple catastrophic tipping points How has commercial agriculture runoff given rise to comb jellies in the Black Sea What role did the Atlantic slave trade play in the worldwide spread of virus carrying mosquitoes How did the green revolution transform the brown planthopper into a superpredator in Philippine rice fields Questions like these open up new ways of understanding and ways of living through the epoch that human activity has ushered in This Field Guide shifts attention away from knowledge extractive practices of globalization to encourage skilled observers of many stripes to pursue their commitments to place social justice and multispecies community It is through attention to the beings places ecologies and histories of the Anthropocene that we can reignite curiosity wonder and care for our damaged planet

(Un)sighted Archives of Migration Cathrine Bublatzky, Fiona Siegenthaler, 2022-11-28 Un sighted Archives of Migration acknowledges that migration is a fundamental part of social practice and collective memory However archives that have undergone migration or were established by individuals or communities with migration experience gain little public and institutional attention This volume with its transversal perspective across the fields of art anthropology and social activism offers new perspectives on the enormous potential of migratory archives as resourceful spaces for encounter and remembrance and as a contribution to the plural collective memories and identities of post migratory societies Emphasizing the archival agency by migrants the chapters raise new questions with regard to the multi directional collaborative forms of knowledge production within and beyond an archive its boundaries and its materiality Focusing on the complexities of power relations spatial and temporal dynamics media practices and meaning production involved in the making maintenance viewing appropriation destruction and loss of such archives the chapters contribute to a critical methodological and theoretical discussion about un sighted archives as spaces of encounter and resistance in a liminal zone of visibility and invisibility This book was originally published as a special issue of Visual Anthropology

The Culture of Curating and the Curating of Culture(s) Paul O'Neill, 2016-09-02 How curating has changed art and how art has changed curating an examination of the emergence contemporary curatorship Once considered a mere caretaker for collections the curator is now widely viewed as a globally connected auteur Over the last twenty five years as international group exhibitions and biennials have become the dominant mode of presenting contemporary art to the public curatorship has begun to be perceived as a constellation of creative activities not unlike artistic praxis The curator has gone from being a behind the scenes organizer and selector to a visible centrally important cultural producer In The Culture of Curating and the Curating of Culture s Paul O'Neill examines the emergence of independent curatorship and the discourse that helped to establish it O'Neill describes how by the 1980s curated group exhibitions large scale temporary projects with artworks cast as illustrative fragments came to be understood as the creative work of curator auteurs The proliferation of new biennials and other large international exhibitions in the 1990s created a cohort of high profile globally mobile curators moving from Venice to Paris to Kassel In the 1990s curatorial and artistic practice converged blurring the distinction between artist and curator O'Neill argues that this change in the understanding of curatorship was shaped by a curator centered discourse that effectively advocated and authorized the new independent curatorial practice Drawing on the extensive curatorial literature and his own interviews with leading curators critics art historians and artists O'Neill traces the development of the curator as artist model and the ways it has been contested The Culture of Curating and the Curating of Culture s documents the many ways in which our perception of art has been transformed by curating and the discourses surrounding it

Paper Revolutions Sarah E.

James, 2022-03-29 The experimental practices of a group of artists in the former East Germany upends assumptions underpinning Western art's postwar histories In Paper Revolutions Sarah James offers a radical rethinking of experimental art in the former East Germany the GDR Countering conventional accounts that claim artistic practices in the GDR were isolated and conservative James introduces a new narrative of neo avantgarde practice in the Eastern Bloc that subverts many of the assumptions underpinning Western art's postwar histories She grounds her argument in the practice of four artists who uniquely positioned outside academies museums and the art market as these functioned in the West created art in the blind spots of state censorship They championed ephemeral practices often marginalized by art history postcards and letters maquettes and models portfolios and artists books Through their lived modernism they produced bodies of work animated by the radical legacies of the interwar avant garde James examines the work and daily practices of the constructivist graphic artist painter and sculptor Hermann Glöckner the experimental graphic artist and concrete and sound poet Carlfriedrich Claus the mail artist concrete poet and conceptual artist Ruth Wolf Rehfeldt and the mail artist visual poet and installation artist Karla Sachse She shows that all of these artists rejected the idea of art as a commodity or a rarefied object and instead believed in the potential of art to create collectivized experiences and change the world James argues that these artists entirely neglected by Western art history produced some of the most significant experimental art to emerge from Germany during the Cold War

Terrain Vague PATRICK BARRON, Manuela Mariani, 2013-08-15 As planners and designers have turned their attentions to the blighted vacant areas of the city the concept of terrain vague has become increasingly important Terrain Vague seeks to explore the ambiguous spaces of the city the places that exist outside the cultural social and economic circuits of urban life From vacant lots and railroad tracks to more diverse interstitial spaces this collection of original essays and cases presents innovative ways of looking at marginal urban space with studies from the United States Europe and the Middle East from a diverse group of planners geographers and urban designers Terrain Vague is a cooperative effort to redefine these marginal spaces as a central concept for urban planning and design Presenting innovative ways of looking at marginal urban space and focusing on its positive uses and aspects the book will be of interest to all those wishing to understand our increasingly complex everyday surroundings from planners cultural theorists and academics to designers and architects
