Bruce Goff Arn Henderson, 2017-04-27 Renowned today as one of the most important architects of the twentieth century

Bruce Goff 1904-1982 was only twelve years old when a Tulsa architectural firm took him on as an apprentice. Throughout his career he defied expectations not only as a designer of innovative buildings but also as a gifted educator and painter. This beautifully illustrated volume featuring more than 150 photographs, architectural drawings and color plates explores the vast multitude of ideas and themes that influenced Goff's work. Tracing what he calls Goff's path of originality, Arn Henderson begins by describing two of Goff's earliest and most significant influences: the architect Frank Lloyd Wright and the French composer Claude Debussy. As Henderson explains, Goff embraced from a young age Wright's ideal of organic expression where all elements of a building's design are integrated into a unified whole. Although Goff's stylistic dependence on Wright eventually waned, the music of Debussy with its qualities of mystery and discipline in freedom was a perpetual source of inspiration. Henderson also emphasizes Goff's identification with the American West, particularly Oklahoma where he developed most of his ideas and created many of his masterful buildings. Goff served as a professor at the University of Oklahoma between 1947 and 1955, becoming the first chair of its School of Architecture. The new studio course he introduced was a pivotal development ensuring that his ideas were imparted to the next generation of architects. Part biography of a well-known architect, part analysis of Goff's work, this book is also a finely woven tapestry of information and interpretation that encompasses the ideas and experiences that shaped Goff's artistic vision over his lifetime. Based on scores of interviews with Goff's associates and former students as well as the author's firsthand study of Goff's extant buildings, this volume deepens our appreciation of the great architect's lasting legacy.

Architecture Series: Bibliography, 1988 An Early

Encounter with Tomorrow Arnold Lewis, 1997 Chicago in the late nineteenth century was the wonder city of the Western world, its famous Loop the laboratory in which to study innovative commercial architecture. There, Old World assumptions were overthrown by New World realities as the past was discounted, the present glorified and the future eagerly anticipated.

Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture: Kate Nesbitt, 1996-03 Theorizing a New Agenda for Architecture An Anthology of Architectural Theory collects in a single volume the most significant essays on architectural theory of the last thirty years. A dynamic period of reexamination of the discipline, the postmodern era produced widely divergent and radical viewpoints on issues of making meaning, history and the city. Among the paradigms presented are architectural postmodernism, phenomenology, semiotics, poststructuralism, deconstruction and feminism. By gathering these influential articles from a vast array of books and journals into a comprehensive anthology, Kate Nesbitt has created a resource of great value. Indispensable to professors and students of architecture and architectural theory, Theorizing a New Agenda also serves practitioners and the general public as Nesbitt provides an overview, a thematic structure and a critical introduction to each essay. The list of authors in Theorizing a New Agenda reads like a Who's Who of contemporary architectural thought: Tadao Ando, Giulio Carlo Argan, Alan Colquhoun, Jacques Derrida, Peter Eisenman, Marco Frascari, Kenneth Frampton, Diane Ghirardo, Vittorio Gregotti, Karsten Harries, Rem Koolhaas, Christian Norberg-Schulz, Aldo Rossi, Colin Rowe, Thomas Schumacher, Ignasi

de Sol Morales Rubi Bernard Tschumi Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown and Anthony Vidler A bibliography and notes on all the contributors are also included The American Architect and Building News ,1892
