1520 Into A Golden Land:

German Histories in the Age of Reformations, 1400-1650 Thomas A. Brady, 2009-07-13 This book studies the connections between the political reform of the Holy Roman Empire and the German lands around 1500 and the sixteenth century religious reformations both Protestant and Catholic It argues that the character of the political changes dispersed sovereignty local autonomy prevented both a general reformation of the Church before 1520 and a national reformation thereafter The resulting settlement maintained the public peace through politically structured religious communities confessions thereby avoiding further religious strife and fixing the confessions into the Empire's constitution The Germans emergence into the modern era as a people having two national religions was the reformation's principal legacy to modern Germany

From Puritanism to Postmodernism Richard Ruland, Malcolm Bradbury, 2016-04-14 Widely acknowledged as a contemporary classic that has introduced thousands of readers to American literature From Puritanism to Postmodernism A History of American Literature brilliantly charts the fascinating story of American literature from the Puritan legacy to the advent of postmodernism From realism and romanticism to modernism and postmodernism it examines and reflects on the work of a rich panoply of writers including Poe Melville Fitzgerald Pound Wallace Stevens Gwendolyn Brooks and Thomas Pynchon Characterised throughout by a vibrant and engaging style it is a superb introduction to American literature placing it thoughtfully in its rich social ideological and historical context A tour de force of both literary and historical writing this Routledge Classics edition includes a new preface by co author Richard Ruland a new foreword by Linda Wagner Martin and a fascinating interview with Richard Ruland in which he reflects on the nature of American fiction and his collaboration with Malcolm Bradbury It is published here for the first time

The Age of the Reformation Preserved Smith, 2024-01-20 Preserved Smith Ph D 1880 1941 was an American historian best known for his works on the Protestant Reformation The Age of the Reformation is his greatest work as it is a comprehensive analysis of the economic intellectual and social aspects of Protestantism in the 16th Century Facsimile reprint edition

Bring Out Your Dead Anthony Grafton, 2001 The work of the Renaissance humanists comes to life in Anthony Grafton's exploration of the primary sources and modern scholarship classical and modern elements in the world of European letters from the fifteenth to the nineteenth century Tracing the ties that bound the world of humanistic learning in early modern Europe to other social and cultural spheres Grafton defines the current state of the art of scholarship on early modern European cultural and intellectual history while simultaneously demonstrating how entertaining enlightening and relevant that history can be Covering a dazzling variety of topics and authors as different as Alberti and Descartes Grafton maps the grand and meticulous efforts of the past to connect the realm of nature with that of books the realm of everyday experience with that of passionate reading in massive tomes and the realm of codes of etiquette and institutions with that of extravagant and joyous erudition efforts that this book itself brilliantly carries on

Collecting Across Cultures Daniela Bleichmar, Peter C. Mancall, 2011-03-17 In the early modern age more people traveled farther than at any earlier time in human history Many returned home with stories of distant lands and at least some of the objects they collected during their journeys And those who did not travel eagerly acquired wondrous materials that arrived from faraway places Objects traveled various routes personal imperial missionary or trade and moved not only across space but also across cultures Histories of the early modern global culture of collecting have focused for the most part on European Wunderkammern or cabinets of curiosities But the passion for acquiring unfamiliar items rippled across many lands The court in Java marveled at collected and displayed myriad goods brought through its halls African princes traded captured members of other African groups so they could get the newest kinds of cloth produced in Europe Native Americans sought colored glass beads made in Europe often trading them to other indigenous groups Items changed hands and crossed cultural boundaries frequently often gaining new and valuable meanings in the process An object that might have seemed mundane in some cultures could become a target of veneration in another The fourteen essays in Collecting Across Cultures represent work by an international group of historians art historians and historians of science Each author explores a specific aspect of the cross cultural history of collecting and display from the dawn of the sixteenth century to the early decades of the nineteenth century As the essays attest an examination of early modern collecting in cross cultural contexts sheds light on the creative and complicated ways in which objects in collections served to create knowledge some factual some fictional about distant peoples in an increasingly transnational world Ransom Slavery Along the Ottoman Borders Géza Dávid, Pál Fodor, 2007 The volume is an ambitious attempt to give a comprehensive picture of trade in captives along the European borders of the Ottoman Empire especially in Central Europe It brings together a great deal of so far unpublished archival
