The surest way to the hearts of a Canadian audience is to inform them that their souls are to be identified with rock rapids wilderness and virgin but exploitable forest. This critical statement no longer explains Canada s largely urban culture. Multiculturalism feminism postmodernism and regionalism these and other vital movements jostle for expression in today s Canada. Wherever there s a centre a new margin vies for attention. Whenever a new voice catches the country s ear another appears to challenge it. However styles form new ways of expression keep shaping themselves. Nation without a narrative. Yes. But in the music literature painting history and popular culture of this country you can always find a soul. The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets, 1880-1897 D.M.R. Bentley, 2013-12-11. As one of the formative periods in Canadian history the late nineteenth century witnessed the birth of a nation a people and a literature. In this study of Canada s first school of poets D M R Bentley combines archival work including extensive research in periodicals and newspapers with close readings of the work of Charles G D Roberts Archibald Lampman Bliss Carman William Wilfred Campbell Duncan Campbell Scott and Frederick George Scott. Bentley chronicles the formation reception national and international successes and eventual disintegration after the 1895 War. Among the Poets of the Confederation Group whose poetry forever changed the perception and direction of Canadian literature. With the aid of biographical political and sociological analyses Bentley s literary history delineates the group s political aesthetic and thematic dispositions and characteristics and contextualizes them not only within Canadian history and politics but also within contemporary intellectual and literary currents including Romantic nationalism Canadianism and poetic formalism. Bentley casts new light on the poets commonalities such as their debt to Young Ireland their commitment to careful workmanship and their participation in the American mind cure movement as well as on their most accomplished and anthologized poems from 1880 to 1897. In the process he presents a compelling case for the literary and historical importance of these six men and their poems in light of Canada s cultural and political past and defends their right to be known as Canada s first poetic fraternity at a time when Canada was striving to achieve literary and national distinction. The Confederation Group of Canadian Poets 1880 1897 is an erudite and innovative work of literary history and critical interpretation that belongs on the bookshelf of every serious scholar of literary studies. Who's who in Canadian Literature ,1997 Speaking with Authority

Michael W. Posluns, 2006-10-27 This work explores the emergence of the vocabulary of First Nations self government into the realm of public and parliamentary discourse in Canada during the decade of the 1970s The emergence of the vocabulary is chronicled through a study of the testimony of First Nations and aboriginal witnesses before a series of Joint Committees on the Constitution and the Commons Committee on Indian Affairs and Northern Development Walt Whitman J. Author and Title Index , 1975 The Canada School Journal , 1880 Alan Crawley and Contemporary Verse Joan McCullagh, 2011-11-01 Little magazines like Alan Crawley's Contemporary Verse are the life blood of literary culture They provide an ongoing forum in which both well established and new poets can experiment and present their latest work and it is often with the little magazines therefore that literary change and originality have their beginnings Today there is no shortage of such outlets in Canada But in 1941 when Alan Crawley began to publish Contemporary Verse in North Vancouver there were only two in the whole country Both of these Canadian Poetry Magazine and Canadian Forum were in the East and neither was in any way committed to modernism Contemporary Verse thus became a major element in the foundations of modern Canadian poetry In this book Joan McCullagh shows how between 1941 and 1952 the magazine charted the establishment of modernism in Canadian poetry by publishing even before 1947 the largest most impressive and most representative collection of early forties poetry in the country Her extensive quotation from the hitherto unpublished correspondence between Crawley and nearly every major poet of the forties also shows how important and valued a literary influence Crawley himself was as a critic and advisor behind the scenes Daryl Hine and Jay Macpherson are only two of the poets who were first encouraged and guided by Alan Crawley's private criticism of work they sent him and then first published in Contemporary Verse Other poets with whom he corresponded at length and whose poetry he published including P K Page James Reaney Louis Dudek Raymond Souster Dorothy Livesay Anne Wilkinson and Earle Birney Very few libraries even in Canada hold a complete set of the 39 issues of Contemporary Verse The index to the magazine that Joan McCullagh has compiled and included here will therefore serve not only as a guide to Contemporary Verse itself but also as an indispensable publishing record of many Canadian poets during the 1940s

The Beaver Bites Back? David H. Flaherty, Frank E. Manning, Frank Edward Manning, 1993 Canadians have demonstrated a remarkable sense of unity about protection of their cultural industries during the continuing national debate over free trade This study of the effect of American popular culture on Canada is therefore particularly relevant
