Creating Reading Instruction For All Children:

Creating Reading Instruction for All Children Thomas G. Gunning, 1996 This book will not tell you how to teach reading Teaching reading is in large measure a matter of making choices Should you use basal readers or children s books or both Should you teach children to read whole words or to sound out words letter by letter or both Should you have three reading groups or four or no groups There are no right answers to these questions The answers depend on your personal philosophy your interpretation of the research the level at which you are teaching the kinds of students you are teaching community preferences and the nature of your school or school district s reading program

Creating Literacy Instruction for All Children Thomas G. Gunning, 2000 Creating Literacy Instruction for All Children is a comprehensive practical text that provides its readers with step by step guidance for teaching all major aspects of reading and writing Gunning s text helps students discover approaches and techniques that fit teachers personal styles and situations It aims to present as fairly completely and clearly as possible the major methods and strategies shown to be successful in research and practice The text features sample lessons for virtually every major literacy skill strategy and offers numerous reinforcement suggestions and generous listings of materials With two updated chapters on word analysis skills strategies the text continues to give teachers the information and techniques they need to implement a systematic and functional program of word analysis that is integrated with students reading and writing The text also presents the theory behind the methods so students will be free to choose adapt and or construct their own approaches as they create literacy instruction This edition endorses the viewpoint that a well prepared classroom teacher is capable of effectively instructing most struggling readers and writers

Creating Literacy Instruction for All Students Thomas G. Gunning, 2010 This book recognizes that reading is part of a larger language process and gives readers the theories behind the methods and encourages them to choose adapt and construct their own approaches as they create a balanced literacy program Emphasis on adapting instruction for English language learners struggling readers and writers
