

Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation.
The old has passed away;
behold, the new has come.

Creation In Christ:

Creation and Christ Angela Costley, 2020-11-09 The Epistle to the Hebrews is usually associated with its theology of Christ the High Priest. However, the term high priest is not so common in the first four chapters of Hebrews, occurring only four times, with a further reference to sacrifice in 1:3. Rather than emphasising the priestly or sacrificial activity of Christ, these opening sections contain a number of references to creation: 1:2, 3:10, 12:2, 5:9, 10:3, 1:6, 4:3, 4:4 and 4:9, 10. In this volume, Angela Costley uses discourse analysis to explore the importance of the topic of creation to the discourse of the Epistle to the Hebrews, uncovering a close link between creation and salvation. She highlights the interaction of the topic of creation with the topic of salvation in the discourse to uncover a depiction of Christ as the creator who descends to take on human flesh. God who becomes human in order to lead humanity heavenward. Christ and Creation Noel O'Sullivan, 2009 This book sets out to interpret Henri de Lubac's theology of creation from a christological perspective. The challenge of this research has been the absence of a systematic christology in the writings of de Lubac. Yet it is possible to posit a Lubacian christology by sifting through the author's work on a myriad of subjects. The point of entry is the patristic distinction between image and likeness, whereby image is understood as an inamissible seal which bestows the divine prerogatives of reason, freedom, immortality and dominion over nature. Likeness is a potential given at creation and realised in the course of the economy of salvation. De Lubac describes it variously as divinisation, divine union, the supernatural dignity of the human being and participation in the internal movement of the Trinity. The originality of this book consists in the gradual emergence of the role of Christ in the process whereby image becomes likeness. De Lubac records his intention to publish a book on Jesus Christ, an ambition he never realised. The present book does not just illustrate the omnipresence of Christ in the writings of de Lubac but dares to delineate what a Lubacian christology would look like. The New Creation in Christ Alfred Prempeh-Dapaah, 2016-04-30 What actually makes a person become a new creation in Christ and what should be the lifestyle of the new creation in Christ? This book reveals some of the realities of the new creation in Christ that can be compared to a metamorphosis. Knowing what makes a person become a new creation in Christ is the beginning of a good, strong and successful Christian life. It helps the person to identify themselves and what they have to accomplish God's purposed plan of life for them in Christ. Good to be read by the just born again and all that seeks to grow into spiritual maturity. Christ and Creation Colin E. Gunton, 1992 Weaving pneumatological, teleological, eschatological, anthropological and ecological strands into christology. Gunton draws from and interacts with a wide range of theologians from ancient to modern to weave together a strong incarnation-creation link and the doctrine of the Holy Spirit. The Gospel in Creation Ellet Joseph Waggoner, 1999-06 The Gospel in Creation is a nicely illustrated work setting forth clearly and simply the relation between God's work in creation and redemption. The signs of power and greatness that mark the handiwork of God in the visible universe are shown to be but indications of the unfailing strength with which He works in the lives of those who submit to

His will The confirmation of the truths of the gospel drawn from the study of the creation will make this book a valuable one to all who are watching with interest the attacks that are now made on the authority of the Bible

Christ the Heart of Creation Rowan Williams,2018-09-06 In this wide ranging book Rowan Williams argues that what we say about Jesus Christ is key to understanding what Christian belief says about creator and creation overall Through detailed discussion of texts from the earliest centuries to the present day we are shown some of the various and subtle ways in which Christians have discovered in their reflections on Christ the possibility of a deeply affirmative approach to creation and a set of radical insights in ethics and politics as well Throughout his life Rowan Williams has been deeply influenced by thinkers of the Eastern Christian tradition as well as Catholic and Anglican writers This book draws on insights from Eastern Christianity from the Western Middle Ages and from Reformed thinkers from Calvin to Bonhoeffer as well as considering theological insights sparked by philosophers like Kierkegaard and Wittgenstein

Christ the Heart of Creation concerns fundamental issues for Christian belief and Williams tackles them head on he writes with pellucid clarity and shows his gift for putting across what are inevitably complex ideas to a wide audience

Christ of the Creation Days Gregory J. Girard,2017-08-02 Christ of the Creation Days by Greg Girard I have long been fascinated by the great types of Scripture not clever connections invented by over ingenious preachers but the patterns that underlie the way God repeatedly works both in the people and the events of the Bible Some of them are quite explicit Others you dont see till they are pointed out to you and then you wonder how you could have missed them The more we see one part of Scripture underlining another in what I think of as the repeat of patterns the greater its integrity is seen to be and the clearer its message Greg Girard opens our eyes to a set of correspondences that could not be more basic to the biblical revelation of God Should it surprise us that the sequence of his creative action in the making of the world should be the same shape as the sequence of his redemptive action in revealing himself to his people Yet I for one had never made the connection The creation of light the separation of land and sea the stars of heaven the man appointed to rule all that lives of course these images reappear elsewhere but had you noticed where and at what crucial points in the Bible story The author deserves our thanks for this illuminating and inspiring contribution to the end of the Church knowing itself as the body of Christ Irving articulates a theology of the Church as that which participates in all that Jesus is in his vicarious humanity by the power of the Spirit This is developed through a dialogical or covenantal frame that has its focal point in Christ in whom the faithful love of God toward creation and the faithful love of creation toward God is actualized The Church as the body of Christ participates in the mediatorial work of Jesus Christ Each chapter explores a different element of this participatory ecclesiology This book offers a constructive ecclesiology built from the ground up on the foundation of a dialogical perspective which has participation in Christ as its controlling center This foundation provides the basis upon which an exhilarating vision of the Church can be built to encourage Christians to cherish the Church as the body of Christ which participates in the triune communion through being included into the Son by the power of the Spirit and comes to reflect the triune God in its own structures
