Originally published in 1954 this was a new study of aggressive behaviour and phantasies in children of school age combining the scientific experimental with the clinical approach It was therefore at the time likely to be of interest both to experimental psychologists and to clinicians as well as to all who worked in the fields of child guidance and mental health and were concerned with the welfare of children including parents and teachers The author's group studies of normal neurotic and delinquent children made with the help of a specially designed pictorial projection test and the individual studies of her young patients demonstrated objectively the close connection between the forms taken by the aggressive impulse of the child and their relationships with the members of their family The writer redefines the concept of aggression taking a closely argued view that the aggressive urge is a manifestation of the vital impulse to self realization through exploratory and constructive activities and that destructive aggression arises only when the ways to constructive activities are blocked at an early age This theory with its wide social and educational implications is put forward as a well reasoned and hopeful alternative to the traditional view which represents aggressive behaviour as an outcome of an instinct by its very nature asocial and destructive

Russell, 2012-12-06 This book is written from the perspective of a social psychologist As a consequence the topics covered in the upcoming chapters were chosen from among those traditionally of interest to the discipline of social psychology A criterion for inclusion was the topic's usefulness in providing insights and or understanding of the social processes at work in sports settings To this end I have drawn extensively from mainstream journals in social psychology e.g. Journal of Personality and Social Psychology and grounded the discussion of topics and issues on the methodologically sound studies experiments they generally provide There is also an equally strong interdisciplinary emphasis that features research from physical education sociology management science and education I have made a further attempt not as successful as I would have liked to incorporate a substantial amount of the fine sports research that has been conducted overseas particularly in Europe and Australia I am hopeful that in bringing together the works of international scholars from a variety of disciplines a clearer and balanced outline of this field will take shape And now a word about the audience for this text and how to get the most from its pages I would suggest that the reader have taken a course in social psychology following an introductory level course An introductory course in research methodology would also be helpful Prescription for Anger Gary Hankins, Carol Hankins, 2000 This fully revised and expanded edition includes insightful self assessment tools for greater self awareness a selection of the most popular handouts from Hankins's anger management workshops and a new comprehensive reference list and suggested readings Anger Disorders Howard Kassinove, 2014-02-25 Anger is a daily experience It is encountered in a number of interpersonal family and occupational situations Research indicates that even normal parents worry that they will lose control of their anger and harm their children When short lived and of low intensity anger may be of some help to us in contrast when it is persistent and intense it is typically highly disruptive This text reviews facts and theories of anger Anger is differentiated from annoyance fury rage hostility and the behaviours of aggression and violence and attention is paid to understanding anger both as a normal experience and as a clinical disorder Specific anger diagnoses are presented to describe disruptive anger states and traits Anger in criminal populations is also discussed and behaviour analytic cognitive constructivist and cross cultural perspectives are presented in detail The book argues that it is important to understand the causes correlations and outcomes of anger and to develop effective remediation programmes when anger is excessive and disruptive Thus following a meta analyses of the effectiveness of published treatments two chapters present ideal therapy programmes for adult and childhood adolescent anger disorders Finally a model is presented to help understand anger development and resolution
