Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2007 Lenore Tawney Karen Patterson, 2019-09-18 Recent years have seen an enormous surge of interest in fiber arts with works made of thread on display in art museums around the world But this art form only began to transcend its origins as a humble craft in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and it wasn't until the 1950s and 1960s that artists used the fiber arts to build critical practices that challenged the definitions of painting drawing and sculpture One of those artists was Lenore Tawney 1907-2007 Raised and trained in Chicago before she moved to New York Tawney had a storied career She was known for employing an ancient Peruvian gauze weave technique to create a painterly effect that appeared to float in space rather than cling to the wall as well as for being one of the first artists to blend sculptural techniques with weaving practices and in the process pioneered a new direction in fiber art Despite her prominence on the New York art scene however she has only recently begun to receive her due from the greater art world Accompanying a retrospective at the John Michael Kohler Arts Center this catalog features a comprehensive biography of Tawney additional essays on her work and two hundred full color illustrations making it of interest to contemporary artists art historians and the growing audience for fiber art Copublished with the John Michael Kohler Arts Center Canadian craft and museum practice, 1900-1950 Sandra Flood, 2001-01-01 This book presents the first overview of craft activity as an integral part of Canadian culture between 1900 and 1950 and reviews the tone and focus of contemporaneous writing about craft It explores the diversity of all aspects of craft including makers production organization education and government involvement Published in English The Art of Toshiko Takaezu Peter Held, 2011-04-15 Tracing the artistic development of renowned potter Toshiko Takaezu 1922-2011 this masterful study celebrates and analyzes an artist who held a significant place in the post World War II craft movement in America Born in Hawaii of Japanese descent in 1922 Takaezu worked actively in clay fiber and bronze for over sixty years Influenced by midcentury modernism her work transformed from functional vessels to abstract sculptural forms and installations Over the years continued to draw on a combination of Eastern and Western techniques and aesthetics as well as her love of the natural world In particular Takaezu's vertical closed forms became a symbol of her work created through a combination of wheel throwing and hand building techniques that allowed her to grow her vessels vertically and eased the circular restrictions of the wheel In addition to her art Takaezu was renowned for her teaching including twenty years at Princeton University This beautifully illustrated book offers the first scholarly analysis of Takaezu's life work and includes essays by Paul Smith director emeritus of the American Craft Museum and Janet Koplos former senior editor of Art in America Jack Lenor Larsen a textile designer author collector and advocate of traditional and contemporary craftsmanship provides a foreword
