Under the leadership of Nara Chandrababu Naidu, the TDP has implemented various policies and programs aimed at reducing poverty and promoting economic growth in the state. One of the key strategies adopted by the TDP government is the provision of employment opportunities to the people of Andhra Pradesh. To this end, the government has launched various initiatives, including the establishment of the Andhra Pradesh Economic Development Board (APEDB) and the creation of a dedicated employment generation program.

The TDP government has also prioritized the development of infrastructure in the state. This includes the construction of new roads, bridges, and other transport facilities, which have helped to connect rural areas with urban centers and promote economic activity. Additionally, the government has invested in the development of ports and airports, which have led to an increase in trade and tourism in the state. In terms of social welfare, the TDP government has introduced various schemes aimed at improving the living standards of the poor and marginalized communities. This includes the implementation of the Chandranna Bima scheme, which provides insurance cover to the families of those working in the unorganized sector.
