Hill,2010-01-01 What makes one Anglo Saxon poem better than another Why does Beowulf still have the power to move us after so many centuries What might have been aesthetically pleasing to Old English readers and writers of poetry While there is an apparent consensus by scholars on a core of poems considered to be exceptional literary achievements Beowulf Judith the Vercelli book there has been little systematic investigation of the basis for these appraisals With new essays on rhetoric wordplay meter structure irony form psychology ethos and reader response the contributors to this collection aim to find objective aesthetic qualities in Anglo Saxon poetry Posing questions of quality and beauty as discoverable in artefacts On the Aesthetics of Beowulf and Other Old English Poems significantly advances our understanding not only of aesthetics and Old English poetry but also of Old English attitudes towards literature as an art form Understanding the Under 3s and the Implications for Education Sylvie Rayna,Ferre Laevers,2016-04-08 This book originated from an awareness of the persistent lack of knowledge supporting a more respectful reception and approach to the youngest in our changing societies It follows initiatives of networks of researchers from several countries sharing insights from current studies carried out in their different cultures Introduced by a state of art review like chapter on birth to 3 literature the book which can be pictured as a composition begins with a journey inside the creativity of these young persons and a picture of a companionable learning It deals with the role of the spatial and physical dimensions of the setting and pictures how the educator can create meaningful participation and launch early exercises in democracy with respect for diversities It provides a deeper understanding of a pedagogical accompaniment based on participatory alliance and of the development of communication and language The text will be a useful addition to researchers practitioners and other stakeholders This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal Mind in Architecture Sarah Robinson,Juhani Pallasmaa,2017-03-03 Leading neuroscientists and architects explore how the built environment affects our behavior thoughts emotions and well being Although we spend more than ninety percent of our lives inside buildings we understand very little about how the built environment affects our behavior thoughts emotions and well being We are biological beings whose senses and neural systems have developed over millions of years it stands to reason that research in the life sciences particularly neuroscience can offer compelling insights into the ways our buildings shape our interactions with the world This expanded understanding can help architects design buildings that support both mind and body In Mind in Architecture leading thinkers from architecture and other disciplines including neuroscience cognitive science psychiatry and philosophy explore what architecture and neuroscience can learn from each other They offer historical context examine the implications for current architectural practice and education and imagine a neuroscientifically informed architecture of the future Architecture is late in discovering the richness of neuroscientific research As scientists were finding evidence for the bodily basis of mind and meaning architecture was caught up in convoluted cerebral games that denied emotional and bodily reality altogether This volume maps the extraordinary opportunity that engagement with cutting edge neuroscience offers present day architects Contributors Thomas D Albright Michael Arbib John Paul Eberhard Melissa Farling Vittorio Gallese Alessandro Gattara Mark L Johnson Harry Francis Mallgrave Iain McGilchrist Juhani Pallasmaa Alberto P rez G mez Sarah Robinson
