tendency in twentieth century art and aesthetics exploring the norms assumptions historical conditions and institutions that have framed the development and uses of theory in art In a series of intricate readings of constructivism Mondrian and John Cage Daniel Herwitz outlines the avant garde s belief that theory can perfectly prefigure the avant garde art object and invest it with utopian force Through similarly insightful treatments of Arthur Danto Andy Warhol Jean Francois Lyotard Jean Baudrillard and postmodern art and theory Herwitz demonstrates how the contemporary art world is heir to the avant garde s theoretical assumptions and practices In fact avant garde art objects live as art only by partly resisting the master theories of their makers and interpreters Skillfully resisting the lure of grand theory himself Herwitz urges the art world to be more self critical and self reflective about its uses of theory Making Theory Constructing Art is as accessible and entertainingly written as it is philosophically incisive Since the book is both a philosophical and a cultural encounter with theory in twentieth century art it will engage all those who have tried to grapple with the inscrutability of the theoretical art muse of the classic questions that philosophy has addressed over the ages from the ancients to today Taking as its starting point debates over the various definitions of art found in history this article presents and discusses some of the major theories offered by both the analytic and continental traditions It then looks at the theoretical reasons that led twentieth century philosophy to reopen the question of definition and in many cases inquire into the ontology of art itself Finally a series of considerations are addressed to help shift the problem of definition onto a new plane one that is able to respond to the challenges of the performing and participatory arts which more than any other form of art present particularly unconventional ontologies      Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,2003      The Works of
