Risky business: Uptake and implementation of sustainability standards and certification schemes in the Indonesian palm oil sector Sophia M Gnych, Godwin Limberg, Gary Paoli, 2015-11-12 Evolving international sustainability norms demand greater environmental and social responsibility from business across global commodity chains from countries of origin to countries of consumption Conventional command and control regulation has had limited success in addressing negative environmental and social impacts As a result advocacy groups and NGOs have championed a diversity of market based and multi stakeholder governance approaches aimed at shifting the private sector towards delivering more sustainable business models Multiple non state market driven social and environmental standards have emerged for palm oil Through interviews with growers and key stakeholders in the Indonesian palm oil industry this occasional paper explores the motivations driving the uptake of sustainability standards as well as the factors supporting and preventing implementation of sustainability standards and asks what model of sustainable oil palm agriculture is ultimately being built Country Living

, 2005 The Woman Fencer Nick Evangelista, Anita Evangelista, 2001 While fencing was once the prerogative of men alone by tradition and by choice fencing has evolved into a sport that is no longer gender exclusive It is a game that may be mastered by anyone Today women play an important and equal role in fencing and yet there has never been a volume specifically addressing the issue of women as fencing entities until now Narrative Progression in the Short Story

Michael J. Toolan, 2009 One of our most valuable capacities is our ability partly to predict what will come next in a text But linguistic understanding of this remains very limited especially in genres such as the short story where there is a staging of the clash between predictability and unpredictability This book proposes that a matrix of narrativity furthering textual features is crucial to the reader s forming of expectations about how a literary story will continue to its close Toolan uses corpus linguistic software and methods and stylistic and narratological theory in the course of delineating the matrix of eight parameters that he sees as crucial to creating narrative progression and expectation The book will be of interest to
