Would You Convict? Paul H. Robinson, 1999-09-01 A police trooper inspects a car during a routine traffic stop and finds a vast cache of weapons complete with automatic rifles thousands of rounds of ammunition and black ski masks a veritable bank robber's kit Should the men in the car be charged If so with what A son neglects to care for his elderly mother whose emaciated form is discovered shortly before she dies a painful death Is the son's neglect punishable and if so how A career con man writes one bad check too many and is sentenced to life in prison for a check in the amount of 129.75 Is this just A thief steals a backpack only to find it contains a terrorist bomb He alerts the police and saves lives transforming himself from petty criminal to national hero These are just a few of the many provocative cases that Paul Robinson presents and unravels in Would You Convict Judging crimes and meting out punishment has long been an informal national pastime High profile crimes or particularly brutal ones invariably prompt endless debate in newspapers on television in coffee shops and on front porches Our very nature inclines us to be armchair judges freely waving our metaphorical gavels and opining as to the innocence or guilt and suitable punishment of alleged criminals Confronting this impulse Paul Robinson here presents a series of unusual episodes that not only challenged the law but that defy a facile or knee jerk verdict Narrating the facts in compelling but detached detail Robinson invites readers to sentence the transgressor or not before revealing the final outcome of the case The cases described in Would You Convict engage shock even repel Without a doubt they will challenge you and your belief system And the way in which juries and judges have resolved them will almost certainly surprise you
