Clothing and Accessories Sector Mirela Orlovic, 2003-07-04 Inhaltsangabe Introduction The luxury goods industry is a fascinating field As Jean Louis Dumas Hermès chairman and CEO of Hermès explains Le luxe c'est créer un rêve qui perdure In addition to the dream dimension that defies scientific analysis the luxury goods companies have kept highly secretive Alain D Perrin President and CEO at Cartier International elucidates One of our strengths is our ability to maintain a certain mystery about the economic entity which is the company We bring magic and dreams to consumers who don't want to see their favourite brands discussed in the media and lacking any sense of the romantic Systematic research confines itself mainly to specialised marketing literature especially that of French scholars But recent developments have raised various questions and call for more systematic research in diverse fields Over the past two decades luxury companies in particular in the clothing sector have had to face an increasingly turbulent environment On the supply side French dominance especially in the haute couture sector has been challenged as competition has increased mainly from Italian and American fashion houses Furthermore the traditionally fragmented luxury industry has become more concentrated a visible sign for the consolidation was the merger of Louis Vuitton and Moët Hennessy in 1987 Finally as a result of diversification strategies most fashion houses have extended to more accessible luxury products and as a result realize now a substantial part of sales in both clothing and accessories But also the demand side has been substantially changing In 1899 the American economist Thorstein Veblen published the first proper study of consumerism in which he identified and analysed the traditional luxury customer group which he called leisure class It was not until the 1980s that the leisure class was joined by newly rich and occasional customers from the middle class On the one hand the luxury industry has expanded to more accessible products and to new geographical markets and on the other hand a growth in wealth of the Western industrialized nations has increased purchase of luxury goods These mostly fundamental changes have challenged and will furthermore challenge the fashion houses and the ability to establish a competitive advantage The objective of this thesis is gaining a thorough understanding of the luxury clothing and accessories sector by elaborating on

Accessories to Modernity Susan Hiner, 2011-06-06 Accessories to Modernity explores the ways in which feminine fashion accessories such as cashmere shawls parasols fans and handbags became essential instruments in the bourgeois idealization of womanhood in nineteenth century France Considering how these fashionable objects were portrayed in fashion journals and illustrations as well as fiction the book explores the histories and cultural weight of the objects themselves and offers fresh readings of works by Balzac Flaubert and Zola some of the most widely read novels of the period As social boundaries were becoming more and more fluid in the nineteenth century one effort to impose order over the looming confusion came in the case of women through fashion and the fashion accessory thus became an ever more crucial tool through which social distinction could be created projected and maintained Looking through the lens of fashion Susan Hiner explores the interplay of imperialist expansion and domestic rituals the assertion of privilege in the face of increasing social mobility gendering practices and their relation to social hierarchies and the rise of commodity culture and woman s paradoxical status as both consumer and object within it Through her close focus on these luxury objects Hiner reframes the feminine fashion accessory as a key symbol of modernity that bridges the erotic and proper the domestic and exotic and mass production and the work of art while making a larger claim about the accessory status in terms of both complicity and subordination of bourgeois women in nineteenth century France Women were not simply passive bystanders but rather were themselves accessories to the work of modernity from which they were ostensibly excluded

The A to Z of the Fashion Industry Francesca Sterlacci, Joanne Arbuckle, 2009-10-26 The history of clothing begins with the origin of man and fashionable dress can be traced as far back as 25 000 years ago Recent scientific explorations have uncovered graves in northern Russia with skeletons covered in beads made of mammoth ivory that once adorned clothing made of animal skin The Ancient Egyptians Greeks and Romans each made major contributions to fashion s legacy from their textile innovations unique clothing designs and their early use of accessories cosmetics and jewelry During the Middle Ages fashion trends emerged as trade and commerce thrived allowing the merchant class to afford to emulate the fashions worn by royals However it is widely believed that fashion didn't become an industry until the industrial and commercial revolution during the latter part of the 18th century Since then the industry has grown exponentially Today fashion is one of the biggest businesses in the world with hundreds of billions of dollars in turnover and employing tens of millions of workers It is both a profession an industry and in the eyes of many an art The A to Z of the Fashion Industry examines the origins and history of this billion dollar industry This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced entries on designers models couture houses significant articles of apparel and fabrics trade unions and the international trade organizations
