

(904) Crack Baby

Pregnant again she confides in a friend.
No where to go, no one will take her in.
Walking the streets in the dark of night.
Hiding in alleys, trying to stay out of sight.

She's hurting and frustrated with pain,
anxiety hits over and over again.
What will become of this new born babe,
a decision certainly must be made.

Crack, heroin, marijuana, cocaine,
what will happen to the poor baby's brain.
She carries this baby while drinking beer,
no one stops her, nobody cares.

In the eight month baby comes early,
a cute baby boy with hair very curly.
Doctor's stand by, but baby won't cry.
He looks at Mom, please say goodbye.

Through poetry I have undertaken the task of advocating for the weakened beaten forgotten and many times silenced LIFE THROUGH POETRY's mission is to bring to light these very complex and pushed aside issues which affect us all one way or another by bringing them to the forefront of the public's consciousness I'm hoping to stimulate each individual whose hands this book finds itself in to do something more than just feel sympathy for those directly affected by them

Affection and Other Poems Carmelita Ledesma Agnas, 2012-07-12 I think poetry is the dancing and singing of words at the back of the brain hoping to get out and be written down When I felt these words struggling I wrote them down It became the poems beautiful and not too appealing to some senses They are the words expressing my thoughts and feelings looking at the focus of the poems words that aim for the soul's perfection but never attained I believed perfection is beyond the human reach C L Agnas

English as a Second Language and Other Poems Jaswinder Bolina, 2023-10-24 Warm tenderness and fiery critique sit side by side in Bolina's English as A Second Language a collection that skewers laments and celebrates America with intelligence humility and a disarming sense of humor In Jaswinder Bolina's English as A Second Language and Other Poems we are asked to imagine the tender and harsh realities of this world within a single breath a Steiff monkey resting next to a child in a crib and the tired hands of a thousand women in Sidi Bouzid assembling the stuffed animal Coated in an armor of wit and humor and steeped in the idiosyncrasies of language English as a Second Language pits sentimentality against cynicism and the personal against the national What remains is the kaleidoscopic image of the modern American condition From elegy to persona wide ranging poems tell the story of a child of immigrants becoming a parent against the tumultuous backdrop of our politics and culture Where the collection asks What chance do any of us have the poet finds hope possibility

Bolina's musical poems zip across time challenging the fixity of the book Clues offer the possibility of an alternate reading where backwards a new emotional arc appears dreamlike the nostalgic origin story of a sleep deprived parent tracing a path through language and history Forwards backwards English as a Second Language skewers laments and celebrates America with intelligence and humility Library Journal, 1990 The Household Book of Poetry Charles Anderson Dana, 1882
