The Big Fix Albert Palazzo,2025-07-16 The character of war is constantly changing and so too must the approach to national security But Australia s defence policy is broken Successive governments have not approached the nation s security with the intelligence resoluteness and seriousness it requires After more than 120 years of defence policy centred on dependency the geopolitical situation demands new thinking by politicians and policymakers to secure the nation for the future In light of technological progress the shifting balance of power in the Pacific and the worsening danger of climate change Australia needs a new approach in order to charts its own course In The Big Fix defence strategist Albert Palazzo proposes a defence policy centred on the strategic defensive which presents the best military fit for Australia given its geography and the current state of military technology Crucially he elevates climate change to primacy in the national security hierarchy and explains how we cannot afford to ignore it as a security factor And he asks what is stopping Australia s leaders from seriously considering other options for the nation s security

United States Engagement in the Asia Pacific: Perspectives from Asia - Student Edition Sato, Yoichiro,Tan, See Seng,2015-07-30 Note this is an abridged version of the book with references removed The complete edition is also available on this website This study brings together Asian and Asia based experts of international relations and U S foreign policy to present diverse Asian views about preferred modes of U S engagement in the region and compare their views with U S interests in the region a prerequisite exercise to truly multilateral regional security governance With the rise of Chinese power in absolute and relative terms over the next decades as a key driving factor of the international relations in the Asia Pacific the United States has announced its Rebalance to Asia previously referred as Pivot to Asia strategy Asian responses perceptions and even interpretations of the U S strategy have been diverse Misconceptions of the U S strategy can be attributed to the built in contradictions among its objectives deliberate ambiguities left by the architects of the strategy mismatch between the stated strategy and actual policy implementations during the last three years and subjective reading by the Asian countries through the lens of their own interests This book will illuminate the diversity of Asian responses and perceptions and analyze the underlying reasons of the diversity The overarching framework of analysis for this book is the very dilemma of alliances abandonment and entrapment which hedging aims at evading Abandonment fear is primarily of the junior partner of an alliance that its senior partner may not come to its aid in crisis Meanwhile entrapment fear works both ways The United States may drag its allies into its conflict against a third party but U S allies may also drag the United States into their regional conflicts in which the United States has no direct or significant stake The Asian choices of their strategic responses to the U S Rebalancing will be described and analyzed through the lens of the perceived balance between the abandonment and entrapment fears as well as other historical and domestic factors unique to each Asian country The reading of the U S strategy by Asian countries is a subjective matter and their interests likely influence their analysis and consequently strategies It is not the aim of this volume to establish well defined cause and effect chain between the U S strategy and Asian strategies but thick descriptions have enabled some chapter authors to identify reciprocal relations between the two While China s growth is the most important driver of the changing strategic landscape in the Asia Pacific and the new U S strategy the new U S strategy inevitably influence the Chinese strategy which in turn triggers a chain reaction of strategic revisions in Asian countries This book is essential reading for scholars in Asian politics U S foreign policy international relations as well as for policy makers

Quarterly Essay 39 Power Shift Hugh White,2010-08-30 In Power Shift Hugh White considers Australia s future between Beijing and Washington As the power balance shifts and China s influence grows what might this mean for our nation Throughout our history we have counted first on British then on American primacy in Asia Now the rise of China as an economic powerhouse challenges US dominance and raises questions for Australia that go well beyond diplomacy and trade questions about our place in the world our loyalties and our long term security Will China replace the US as regional leader If so we will be dealing with an undemocratic and vastly more powerful nation Will China wield its power differently from the US If so should we continue to support America and so divide Asia between our biggest ally and our biggest trading partner How to define the national interest in the Asian century This visionary essay considers the shape of the world to come and the implications for Australia as it seeks to carve out a place in the new world order This year China overtook Japan to become the world s second biggest economy It is already bigger relative to the US than the Soviet Union ever was during the Cold War A Chinese challenge to American power in Asia is no longer a future possibility but a current reality Few issues are more important to Australia s future than how this plays out You would not know it to listen to our leaders Hugh White Power Shift
