Hamo B. Vassilian,1993 Early Modernity and Mobility Sebouh David Aslanian,2023-01-01 A history of the continent spanning Armenian print tradition in the early modern period Early Modernity and Mobility explores the disparate yet connected histories of Armenian printing establishments in early modern Europe and Asia From 1512 when the first Armenian printed codex appeared in Venice to the end of the early modern period in 1800 Armenian presses operated in nineteen locations across the Armenian diaspora Linking far flung locations in Amsterdam Livorno Marseille Saint Petersburg and Astrakhan to New Julfa Madras and Calcutta Armenian presses published a thousand editions with more than half a million printed volumes in Armenian script Drawing on extensive archival research Sebouh David Aslanian explores why certain books were published at certain times how books were sold across the diaspora who read them and how the printed word helped fashion a new collective identity for early modern Armenians In examining the Armenian print tradition Aslanian tells a larger story about the making of the diaspora itself Arguing that confessionalism and the hardening of boundaries between the Armenian and Roman churches was the driving engine of Armenian book history Aslanian makes a revisionist contribution to the early modern origins of Armenian nationalism The Oxford Guide to Literature in English Translation Peter France,2000 This guide highlights the place of translation in our culture encouraging awareness of the process of translating and the choices involved making the translator more visible Concentrating on major writers and works it covers translations out of many languages from Greek to Hungarian Korean to Turkish For some works e g Virgil s Aeneid which have been much translated the discussion is historical and critical showing how translation has evolved over the centuries and bringing out the differences between versions Elsewhere with less familiar literatures the Guide examines the extent to which translation has done justice to the range of work available A Compendium of Musical Instruments and Instrumental Terminology in the Bible Yelena Kolyada,2014-12-18 A Compendium of Musical Instruments and Instrumental Terminology in the Bible draws on extensive historical research comparative linguistic analysis and musical study to offer the first compilation of its kind The volume examines the entire range of musical instruments in the Bible stringed wind and percussion drawing on ancient and modern translations of the Bible and the works of rabbinic teachers Church Fathers and medieval renaissance and contemporary scholars The book offers a historical survey of Hebrew instrumental music its origins and links with neighbouring cultures the role of instruments in the religious social public and private life of ancient Israel and the system of musical education and explores the understanding of Hebrew musical instruments in post biblical times This comprehensive volume will be invaluable to musicologists archaeologists theologians historians philologists and Bible translators as well as general readers in the subject Letter to Yerevan Andranik Tzarukian,2018-12-24 This story begins with a short slanderous political attack by one writer and continues with a lengthy rebuttal by another a self appointed target who took it upon himself to respond in kind in verse Written in 1944 in response to Soviet Armenian writer Gevorg Abov s Menk chenik moratsel We Have Not Forgotten and published the following year Tught ar Yerevan Letter to Yerevan made

Tzarukian a prominent voice in the Armenian Diaspora almost overnight from the Middle East to Europe and the Americas The poem was republished more than a dozen times in various Armenian communities including in Syria the United States Lebanon and Cyprus up until the early 1990s and as a result became a source of inspiration for tens of thousands Published by the 120 year old Hairenik Press this is the first English translation of Tzarukian s Letter to Yerevan The translation was a collaborative effort between the former director of the ARF and First Republic of Armenia Archives and former editor of the Armenian Review Tatul Sonentz Papazian and former editor of the Armenian Weekly Rupen Janbazian It features an in depth introduction by another former editor of the Armenian Weekly and the volume s English editor Vahe Habeshian as well as six original illustrations by Yerevan based artist Meruzhan Khachatryan The Armenian language republication was edited by Yeprem Tokjian of Toronto The publication of Letter to Yerevan is the first of several initiatives planned celebrating the 120th anniversary of the Hairenik Association All the proceeds from book sales will be donated to the Hairenik Association s Newspaper Digitization Project Praise for Letter to Yerevan Letter to Yerevan 1945 is urgent and timeless It may seem easy to turn the page on an oeuvre penned in a political context that no longer exists Yet Andranik Tzarukian s powerful poetic rebuttal continues to resonate When as in the aftermath of the Velvet Revolution in Armenia Dashnak dogs and other Abov esque tropes are unleashed Tzarukian s Letter is the best antidote Hence its urgency When history is distorted and alternative facts are tossed around Tzarukian s Letter is highly relevant Hence its timelessness Translators Sonentz Papazian and Janbazian two generations apart are themselves testament to the enduring power of this work that reaches English language readers on the 100th anniversary of the First Armenian Republic Khatchig Mouradian PhD Columbia University About the Author Born in G r n Tzarukian attracted fame as both a writer and a journalist publicist whose periodical Nayiri 1941 1983 remains an indispensable record for students of the Armenian Dispersion Among his most prominent works People Without a Childhood 1955 and Ethereal Aleppo 1980 are autobiographical accounts dedicated to his childhood life in the orphanage of Aleppo He published only one collection of verse Aragastner Sails and bade farewell to poetry in Tught ar Yerevan Letter to Yerevan About the Publisher Established in 1899 and based in Watertown Mass the Hairenik Press is the publishing division of the Hairenik Association Armenian Philology in the Modern Era ,2014-06-05 Philology is one of the most investigated fields of Armenian studies At the end of the twentieth century it was important to provide an overview of the main achievements and on the methodological approaches implemented in this field till now This is the aim of the present publication Part I focuses on the manuscripts the inscriptions and the printings Its second section is devoted to the textual criticisms and the third section explores the interface between linguistics and philology Case studies form the core of Part II One chapter offers an overview on the 17th 19th centuries and two articles are devoted to the conditions of the circulation of the literary production in the 20th century both in Western and Eastern Armenian The Bible in the Armenian Tradition Vrej Nersessian,2001 The Bible in the Armenian Tradition provides a concise historical account of the development of the
