performing arts and media music cinema TV etc generate and shape the feeling of collective nostalgia It shows how the cultural production of nostalgia reflects distinct social political contexts and serves particular political purposes The collective monograph prioritizes cases from the post Soviet context However the authors do not argue that the collapse of the socialist bloc in general and the USSR in particular has established some unique nostalgic precedent The book claims that mechanisms of producing nostalgia and marshaling it for political purposes are broadly similar in most modern or postmodern settings It is not our intent to demonize Russia nor do we want Russia to be our dominant frame of reference even if in most of our cases here nolens volens appeared first in Russia centric post Soviet discourse The Russian bloc has been placed in the second part of the book in order to give primacy to non Russian subjects
