A World of Beasts: A Thirteenth-Century Illustrated Arabic Book on Animals (the Kitāb Na't al-Ḥayawān) in the Ibn Bakhtīshū' Tradition Anna Contadini, 2011-11-11 The Kitāb Na't al-ayawān is the earliest of a group of illustrated manuscripts dealing with the characteristics of animals and their medicinal uses The present study considers both the confluence of textual traditions within this work and the stylistic and iconographic relationships of its illustrations which make it a key witness to early thirteenth century Arab painting After a re evaluation of previous approaches emphasis is placed on relating image to text on stylistic affiliations and on the modalities of production supported by technical analyses undertaken for the first time In elucidating the particular context of this unique manuscript the study contributes to our understanding of a critical period in the development of Middle Eastern painting and art

Tales Things Tell Finbarr Barry Flood, Beate Fricke, 2023-11-21 How can we understand the past in the absence of written records Pre modern histories of cross cultural exchange pose a particular problem for medieval historians They are marked by the long distance mobility of concepts individuals and materials and many of them cannot be reconstructed from the standard source texts on which historians usually depend They exist without named makers both outside and beyond official documents and court chronicles The same is true of artisans responsible for crafting objects whose circulation and reception defined aesthetic economic and technological networks that may not have conformed to political or sectarian boundaries Authored by two leading medieval historians of the Middle East Africa and Europe Object Lessons addresses the gaps in medieval sources and modern scholarship arguing for the archival value of objects images and monuments Flood and Fricke examine six case studies that focus on the twelfth and thirteenth centuries From the stone carvings at the churches of Lalibela Ethiopia which have no textual documentation to medicinal bowls from Iraq for which some data can be gathered from unassociated but contemporary sources these studies show how imagery and objects traveled across continents The authors connect the histories of medieval Europe Africa and west Asia and raise significant questions about out of place objects and how in the absence of substantial archival material we might write their histories While there have been many publications on the histories of global circulation most of them focus on the early modern period in Europe By moving away from histories with abundant written archival material Object Lessons ventures far beyond the narratives of Europe and into complex cross cultural and intercontinental histories of objects and images

Islamic Jewelry in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Marilyn Jenkins, Manuel Keene, 1983 Late Antique and Medieval Art of the Mediterranean World Eva R. Hoffman, 2009-02-09 Late Antique and Medieval Art of the Mediterranean World is a much needed teaching anthology that rethinks and broadens the scope of the stale and limiting classifications used for Early Christian Byzantine visual arts A comprehensive anthology offering a new approach to the visual arts classified as Early Christian Byzantine Comprised of essays from experts in the field that integrate the newer historiographical research into the canon of established scholarship Exposes the historical geographical and cultural continuities and interactions in the visual arts of the late antique and medieval Mediterranean world Covers an extensive range of topics including the effect that converging cultures in late antiquity had on art the cultural identities that can be observed by looking at difference of tradition in visual art and the variance of illuminations in holy books The Art and Architecture of Islam 1250-1800 Sheila S. Blair, Jonathan M. Bloom, 1996-09-25 They discuss for example how the universal caliphs of the first six centuries gave way to regional rulers and how in this new world order Iranian forms techniques and motifs played a dominant role in the artistic life of most of the Muslim world the one exception was the Maghrib an area protected from the full brunt of the Mongol invasions where traditional models continued to inspire artists and patrons By the sixteenth century say the authors the eastern Mediterranean under the Ottomans and the area of northern India under the Mughals had become more powerful and the Iranian models of early Ottoman and Mughal art gradually gave way to distinct regional and imperial styles Byzantium and Islam Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2012 This magnificent volume explores the epochal transformations and unexpected continuities in the Byzantine Empire from the 7th to the 9th century At the beginning of the 7th century the Empire's southern provinces the vibrant diverse areas of North

Africa and the eastern Mediterranean were at the crossroads of exchanges reaching from Spain to China. These regions experienced historic upheavals when their Christian and Jewish communities encountered the emerging Islamic world and by the 9th century an unprecedented cross fertilization of cultures had taken place. This extraordinary age is brought vividly to life in insightful contributions by leading international scholars accompanied by sumptuous illustrations of the period's most notable arts and artifacts. Resplendent images of authority, religion and trade embodied in precious metals, brilliant textiles, fine ivories, elaborate mosaics, manuscripts and icons, many of them never before published, highlight the dynamic dialogue between the rich array of Byzantine styles and the newly forming Islamic aesthetic. With its masterful exploration of two centuries that would shape the emerging medieval world, this illuminating publication provides a unique interpretation of a period that still resonates today.
