Africa Speaks, America Answers Robin D. G. Kelley, 2012-03-13 In Bedford Stuyvesant Brooklyn pianist Randy Weston and bassist Ahmed Abdul Malik celebrated with song the revolutions spreading across Africa In Ghana and South Africa drummer Guy Warren and vocalist Sathima Bea Benjamin fused local musical forms with the dizzying innovations of modern jazz These four were among hundreds of musicians in the 1950s and 60s who forged connections between jazz and Africa that definitively reshaped both their music and the world Each artist identified in particular ways with Africa's struggle for liberation and made music dedicated to or inspired by demands for independence and self determination That music was the wild boundary breaking exultation of modern jazz The result was an abundance of conversation collaboration and tension between African and African American musicians during the era of decolonization This collective biography demonstrates how modern Africa reshaped jazz how modern jazz helped form a new African identity and how musical convergences and crossings altered politics and culture on both continents In a crucial moment when freedom electrified the African diaspora these black artists sought one another out to create new modes of expression Documenting individuals and places from Lagos to Chicago from New York to Cape Town Robin Kelley gives us a meditation on modernity we see innovation not as an imposition from the West but rather as indigenous multilingual and messy the result of innumerable exchanges across a
