15th Paul D. Converse Symposium James D. Hess, Abbie Griffin, 2001      The Service-Dominant Logic of Marketing Robert F. Lusch, Stephen L. Vargo, 2014-12-18 Expanding on the editors award winning article Evolving to a New Dominant Logic for Marketing this book presents a challenging new paradigm for the marketing discipline This new paradigm is service oriented customer oriented relationship focused and knowledge based and places marketing once viewed as a support function central to overall business strategy Service dominant logic defines service as the application of competencies for the benefit of another entity and sees mutual service provision rather than the exchange of goods as the proper subject of marketing It moves the orientation of marketing from a market to philosophy where customers are promoted to targeted and captured to a market with philosophy where the customer and supply chain partners are collaborators in the entire marketing process The editors elaborate on this model through an historical analysis clarification and extension of service dominant logic and distinguished marketing thinkers then provide further insight and commentary The result is a more comprehensive and inclusive marketing theory that will challenge both current thinking and marketing practice      The Marketing Era Kalman Appelbaum, 2004-06-01 Marketing has situated itself as an indispensable tool in today's business world an unavoidable step in the process from production to consumption This book is the first of its kind to map out the organizing principles and cultural logic of marketing and trace the profession's ascent to global domination Appelbaum argues that marketing can be seen as a particular set of cultural practices that surfaced in reaction to the affluence of Western society and not the answer to the call of inherent human needs and wants In order to understand globalization transnational corporations and the spread of consumer culture one must understand the logic of marketing      Consumption and Spirituality Diego Rinallo, Linda M. Scott, Pauline Maclaran, 2013 This book sheds light on the consumption of spiritual products services experiences and places through state of the art studies by leading and emerging scholars in interpretive consumer research marketing sociology anthropology cultural and religious studies The collection brings together fresh views and scholarship on a cultural tension that is at the centre of the lives of countless individuals living in postmodern societies the relationship between the material and the spiritual the sacred and the profane The book examines how a variety of agents religious institutions spiritual leaders marketers and consumers interact and co create spiritual meanings in a post disenchanted society that has been defined as a supermarket of the soul Consumption and Spirituality examines not only religious organizations but also brands and marketers and the way they infuse their products services and experiences with spiritual meanings that flow freely in the circuit of culture and can be appropriated by consumers even without purchase acts From a consumer perspective the book investigates how spiritual beliefs practices and experiences are now embedded into a global consumer culture Rather than condemning consumption the chapters in this book highlight consumers agency and the creative processes through which authentic spiritual meanings are co created from a variety of sources local and global and
