1933 Var Et Darlig Ar:

Charles Olivier and the Rise of Meteor Science Richard Taibi, 2016-11-25 This fascinating portrait of an amateur astronomy movement tells the story of how Charles Olivier recruited a hard working cadre of citizen scientists to rehabilitate the study of meteors By 1936 Olivier and members of his American Meteor Society had succeeded in disproving an erroneous idea about meteor showers Using careful observations they restored the public's trust in predictions about periodic showers and renewed respect for meteor astronomy among professional astronomers in the United States Charles Olivier and his society of observers who were passionate about watching for meteors in the night sky left a major impact on the field In addition to describing Olivier's career and describing his struggles with competitive colleagues in a hostile scientific climate the author provides biographies of some of the scores of women and men of all ages who aided Olivier in making shower observations from the Leonids and Perseids and others Half of these amateur volunteers were from 13 to 25 years of age Their work allowed Olivier and the AMS to contradict the fallacious belief in stationary and long enduring meteor showers bringing the theory of their origin into alignment with celestial mechanics Thanks to Olivier and his collaborators the study of meteors took a great leap forward in the twentieth century to earn a place as a worthy topic of study among professional astronomers

Now long out of print John Dunning's Tune in Yesterday was the definitive one volume reference on old time radio broadcasting. Now in On the Air Dunning has completely rethought this classic work reorganizing the material and doubling its coverage to provide a richer and more informative account of radio's golden age. Here are some 1 500 radio shows presented in alphabetical order. The great programs of the 30s 40s and 50s are all here: Amos n Andy, Fibber McGee and Molly, The Lone Ranger, Major Bowes Original Amateur Hour and The March of Time to name only a few. For each Dunning provides a complete broadcast history with the timeslot, the network and the name of the show's advertisers. He also lists major cast members, announcers, producers, directors, writers and sound effects people, even the show's theme song. There are also umbrella entries such as News Broadcasts which features an engaging essay on radio news with capsule biographies of major broadcasters such as Lowell Thomas and Edward R. Murrow. Equally important, Dunning provides a fascinating account of each program, taking us behind the scenes to capture the feel of the performance, such as the ghastly sounds of Lights Out, a horror drama where heads rolled and bones crunched, and providing engrossing biographies of the main people involved in the show. A wonderful read for everyone who loves old time radio. On the Air is a must purchase for all radio hobbyists and anyone interested in 20th century American history. It is an essential reference work for libraries and radio stations.
