Jerome Rothenberg's Experimental Poetry and Jewish Tradition Christine Meilicke, 2005-07 On a more specific level this book analyses Rothenberg's use of postmodern appropriative strategies such as collage assemblage palimpsest parody pastiche forgery found poetry and theft These strategies illustrate the concept practice and problematics of appropriation Embracing postmodern experimentation and drawing on heterodox Jewish sources Rothenberg constructs a contemporary American Jewish identity that does not rely on institutionalized Judaism Jacket The Experimental Impulse in George Meredith's Fiction Richard C. Stevenson, 2004 This book argues that George Meredith as a writer of Victorian fiction is most critical for us today because of the ways in which he wrote against convention The focus is on seven novels An Essay on Comedy The Ordeal of Richard Feverel The Adventures of Harry Richmond The Egoist One of Our Conquerors Lord Ormont and His Aminta and The Amazing Marriage which clearly illuminate the experimental and transgressive impulse in Meredith as seen in his treatment of controversial contemporary themes in his departures from conventions of genre and in his innovations with narrative technique and the representation of consciousness canonical writers we now associate with the first wave of modernism in the English novel James and then Woolf Forster Lawrence Conrad Ford and Joyce to varying degrees all saw Meredith as an influence to be reckoned with in their own novelistic experimentation an influence this book proposes essential to understanding the modernist translation of nineteenth century realism into new formal thematic and psychological realms twentieth century British novel at the University of Oregon Breaking the Sequence Ellen G. Friedman, Miriam Fuchs, 2014-07-14 These nineteen essays introduce the rich and until now largely unexplored tradition of women's experimental fiction in the twentieth century The writers discussed here range from Gertrude Stein to Christine Brooke Rose and include among others Virginia Woolf Jean Rhys Jane Bowles Marguerite Young Eva Figs Joyce Carol Oates and Marguerite Duras Friedman and Fuchs demonstrate the breadth of their research first in their introduction to the volume in which they outline the history of the reception of women's experimental fiction and analyze and categorize the work not only of the writers to whom essays are devoted but of a number of others too and second in an extensive and wonderfully useful bibliography Emma Kafalenos The International Fiction Review After an introduction that is practically itself a monograph eighteen essayists too many of them distinguished to allow an equitable sampling take up three generations of post modernists American Literature The editors see this volume as part of the continuing feminist project of the recovery and foregrounding of women writers Friedman and Fuchs's substantive introduction excellently synthesizes the issues presented in the rest of the volume Patrick D Murphy Studies in the Humanities Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Experimental Arts in Postwar Japan Miryam Sas, 2020-03-17 In the years of rapid economic growth following the protest movements of the 1960s artists and intellectuals in Japan searched for a means of direct impact on the whirlwind of historical and cultural transformations of their time Yet while the artists often called for such direct encounter their works complicate this ideal with practices of interruption self reflexive mimesis and temporal discontinuity In an era known for idealism and activism some of the most cherished ideals intimacy between subjects authenticity a sense of home are limitlessly desired yet always just out of reach In this book Miryam Sas explores the theoretical and cultural implications of experimental arts in a range of media Casting light on important moments in the arts from the 1960s to the early 1980s this study focuses first on underground post shingeki theater and then on related works of experimental film and video buto dance and photography Emphasizing the complex and sophisticated theoretical grounding of these artists through their works practices and writings this book also locates Japanese experimental arts in an extensive sustained dialogue with key issues of contemporary critical theory
