Angeleno Days Gregory Orfalea, 2009 Though he has spent half of his life elsewhere Gregory Orfalea has remained obsessed with Los Angeles That brutal beautiful city along the Pacific sea shaped him and led to a series of essays originally published in the Los Angeles Times Magazine These deeply moving pieces are gathered here together for the first time Populated with fascinating characters the Angelenos of Orfalea's life these essays tell the story of the author's trials He returns to Los Angeles to teach trying to reconcile the LA of his childhood with the city he now faces He takes on progressively more difficult and painful subjects finally confronting the memories of the shocking tragedy that took the lives of his father and sister With more than 400 000 Arab Americans in Los Angeles probably surpassing Detroit as the largest contingent in America Orfalea also explores his own community and its political and social concerns He agonizes over another destruction of Lebanon and examines in searing detail a massacre of civilians in Iraq Angeleno Days takes the memoir and personal essay to rare heights Orfalea is a deeply human writer who reveals not only what it means to be human in America now but also what it will take to remain human in the days to come These essays soar confound reveal and strike at our senses and sensibilities forcing us to think and feel in new ways Space, Place and Hybridity in the National Imagination Christine Vandamme, André Dodeman, 2021-10-26 This volume explores space place and hybridity in today's multicultural societies with a strong emphasis on the role of art and spatial representations in order to map out the complexity of modern nations and celebrate the creative powers of their highly dynamic communities and cultures It considers how the very idea of the nation has evolved since the emergence and development of the idea of the nation state at the end of the eighteenth century and how art can reinvigorate representations of nation states worldwide without relegating their minorities to the margin Instead of merely focusing on the role of place and land in national representations the book adopts a wider and more critical approach to space in the arts by investigating the notions of both hybridity and Bhabha's Third Space in the fields of aesthetics film studies and literature with a particular emphasis on postcolonial literature
