Art Matters How The Culture Wars Changed America:

Art Matters Julie Ault, 1999-09 A collection of intensive discussions about the role of visual arts in public life The past decade has seen American culture deeply divided by debates over social identity public morality communal values and freedom of expression A key focus of these polarizing discussions has been the role of visual arts in public life In Art Matters five leading cultural critics and two prominent contemporary artists show the ways that this debate has profoundly reshaped our view of American culture Lucy Lippard investigates the extraordinary recent transformations in visual art Michele Wallace takes on high art popular culture and African American identity David Deitcher discusses queer culture and AIDS Carole S Vance ponders censorship and sexually explicit imagery and Lewis Hyde considers democracy and culture Projects by artists Julie Ault and Andrea Fraser provide a context for these debates Art Matters also offers a close examination of attempts to develop alternative funding sources for artists focusing specifically on the influential private foundation Art Matters a foundation which became an important proponent for new forms of art and for protecting freedom of expression through its funding and advocacy efforts American Artists Against War, 1935 2010 David McCarthy, 2015-07-07 Artists against war and fascism Doom End your silence A network of artist activists Not in our name Bound to Appear Huey Copeland, 2013-10-28 A smart account of a defining moment in African American contemporary art The early 1990s were a game changer for black artists Many rose prominently to lead the field of advanced art more generally artists like Glenn Ligon Renee Green Fred Wilson Lorna Simpson and others It was in the early 1990s when African American artists began to produce installation and conceptual work where previously as an identity group they had focused on figurative painting and craft work Now suddenly artists were producing site specific installations sound art performance and readymades that sought to immerse the viewer in environments that provoked the experience of slavery and raised awareness of the constructedness of blackness in this country At the Crossroads of Music and Social Justice Brenda M. Romero, Susan M. Asai, David A. McDonald, Andrew G. Snyder, Katelyn E. Best, 2023-02-07 Music is powerful and transformational but can it spur actual social change A strong collection of essays At the Crossroads of Music and Social Justice studies the meaning of music within a community to investigate the intersections of sound and race ethnicity religion gender sexual orientation and differing abilities Ethnographic work from a range of theoretical frameworks uncovers and analyzes the successes and limitations of music's efficacies in resolving conflicts easing tensions reconciling groups promoting unity and healing communities This volume is rooted in the Crossroads Section for Difference and Representation of the Society for Ethnomusicology whose mandate is to address issues of diversity difference and underrepresentation in the society and its members professional spheres Activist scholars who contribute to this volume illuminate possible pathways and directions to support musical diversity and representation At the Crossroads of Music and Social Justice is an excellent resource for readers interested in real world examples of how folklore ethnomusicology and activism can together create a more just and inclusive world Where is Queer? John Fraser, Joe E Heimlich, 2016-06-16 First Published in 2016 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an Informa company The State of Art Criticism James Elkins, Michael Newman, 2007-11-13 Art criticism is spurned by universities but widely produced and read It is seldom theorized and its history has hardly been investigated The State of Art Criticism presents an international conversation among art historians and critics that considers the relation between criticism and art history and poses the question of whether criticism may become a university subject Contributors include Dave Hickey James Panero Stephen Melville Lynne Cook Michael Newman Whitney Davis Irit Rogoff Guy Brett and Boris Groys Multi-media Nick Kaye, 2007-03-16 Multi media charts the development of multi media video installation and performance in a unique dialogue between theoretical analysis and specially commissioned documentations by some of the world's foremost artists Nick Kaye explores the interdisciplinary history and character of experimental practices shaped in exchanges between music installation theatre performance art conceptual art sculpture and video The book sets out key themes and concerns in multi media practice addressing time space the resurgence of ephemerality liveness and aura These chapters are interspersed with documentary artwork and essays by artists whose work continues to shape the field including new articles from Vito Acconci The Builders Association John Jesurun Pipilotti Rist Fiona Templeton Multi media also reintroduces a major documentary essay by Paolo Rosa of Studio Azzurro in a new fully illustrated form This book combines sophisticated scholarly analysis and fascinating original work to present a refreshing and creative investigation of current multi media arts practice Local Acts Jan Cohen-Cruz, 2005-03-25 An eclectic mix of art theatre dance politics experimentation and ritual community based performance has become an increasingly popular art movement in the United States Forged by the collaborative efforts of professional artists and local residents this unique field brings performance together with a range of political cultural and social projects such as community organizing cultural self representation and education Local Acts presents a long overdue survey of community based performance from its early roots through its flourishing during the politically turbulent 1960s to present day popular culture Drawing on nine case studies including groups such as the African American Junebug Productions the Appalachian Roadside Theater and the Puerto Rican Teatro Pregones Jan Cohen Cruz provides detailed descriptions of performances and processes first person stories and analysis She shows how the ritual side of these endeavors reinforces a sense of community identification while the aesthetic side enables local residents to transgress cultural norms to question group habits and to incorporate a level of craft that makes the work accessible to individuals beyond any one community The book concludes by exploring how community based performance transcends even national boundaries connecting the local United States with international theater and cultural movements Dark Designs and Visual Culture Michele Wallace, 2004-12-06 A collection of writings from the 90s by the popular Black feminist scholar and journalist on film art and politics The Art of the Sister Chapel Andrew Hottle, 2017-07-05 The Sister Chapel 1974-78 was an important collaborative installation that materialized at the height of the women's art movement

Conceived as a nonhierarchical secular commemoration of female role models The Sister Chapel consisted of an eighteen foot abstract ceiling that hung above a circular arrangement of eleven monumental canvases each depicting the standing figure of a heroic woman The choice of subject was left entirely to the creator of each work As a result the paintings formed a visually cohesive group without compromising the individuality of the artists Contemporary and historical women deities and conceptual figures were portrayed by distinguished New York painters Alice Neel May Stevens and Sylvia Sleigh as well as their accomplished but less prominent colleagues Among the role models depicted were Artemisia Gentileschi Frida Kahlo Betty Friedan Joan of Arc and a female incarnation of God Although last exhibited in 1980 The Sister Chapel has lingered in the minds of art historians who continue to note its significance as an exemplar of feminist collaboration Based on previously unpublished archival materials and featuring dozens of rarely seen works of art this comprehensive study details the fascinating history of The Sister Chapel its constituent paintings and its ambitious creators Martha Rosler Rosalyn Deutsche, Elena Volpato, Martha Rosler, Jewish Museum (New York, N.Y.), 2018-01-01 The politically engaged work of Martha Rosler is fascinating and provocative this wide ranging survey brings timely insights at a moment of resurgence for political activism and feminism

Andrea Fraser Andrea Fraser, Rhea Anastas, Alejandro Cesarco, 2019 This publication is a substantial archive and a singular point of entry into thinking with and understanding Andrea Fraser s work and reception The interview format provides intimate insight into Fraser s self positioning as a central aspect of her practice By presenting the artist s voice as mediated through interlocutors ranging from professional peers to popular media Collected Interviews 1990 2018 uniquely contextualizes Fraser s practice in the artistic institutional and discursive fields in which she intervenes As Fraser is engaged challenged and understood from diverse perspectives readers learn as much about her artistic commitments from the artist s humor and affect as from her incisive analyses The collection spans three decades from the early 1990s to the present and is organized chronologically with minimal editing The collection s unmediated format allows

Fraser's key ideas and themes to attain deeper resonance through repetitions and subtle differentiations over multiple conversations

The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries

Ecce Homo Kent Brintnall, 2011 Drawing on perspectives from a range of disciplines including religious studies gender and queer studies psychoanalysis art history and film theory Ecce Homo explores the complex ambiguous meanings of the enduring figure of the male body in pain

Ecce Homo Kent L. Brintnall, 2024-05-31 Images of suffering male bodies permeate Western culture from Francis Bacon's paintings and Robert Mapplethorpe's photographs to the battered heroes of action movies Drawing on perspectives from a range of disciplines including religious studies gender and queer studies psychoanalysis art history and film theory Ecce Homo explores the complex ambiguous meanings of the enduring figure of the male body in pain Acknowledging that representations of men confronting violence and pain can reinforce ideas of manly tenacity Kent L. Brintnall also argues that they reveal the vulnerability of men's bodies and open them up to eroticization Locating the roots of our cultural fascination with male pain in the crucifixion he analyzes the way narratives of Christ's death and resurrection both support and subvert cultural fantasies of masculine power and privilege Through stimulating readings of works by Georges Bataille Kaja Silverman and more Brintnall delineates the redemptive power of representations of male suffering and violence

The Art Museum Redefined Johanna K. Taylor, 2019-10-04 This book presents a critical analysis of the power and opportunity created in the implementation of community engaged practices within art museums by looking at the networks connecting art museums to community organizations artists and residents The Art Museum Redefined places the interaction of art museums and urban neighbourhoods as the central focus of the study to investigate how museums and artists collaborate with residents and local community groups Rather than defining the community solely from the perspective of a museum looking out at its audience the research examines the larger networks of art organizing and creative activism connected to the museum that are active across the neighbourhood Taylor's research encompasses the grassroots efforts of local groups and their collaboration with museums and other art institutions that are extending their reach outside their physical walls and into the community This focus on social engagement speaks to recent emphasis in cultural policy on cultural equity and inclusion creative place making and community engagement at neighbourhood and city levels and will be of interest to students scholars and policy makers alike

Antitheatricality and the Body Public Lisa A. Freeman, 2017-02-02 In an exploration of antitheatrical incidents from the seventeenth to the twentieth century Lisa A. Freeman demonstrates that at the heart of antitheatrical disputes lies a struggle over the character of the body politic that governs a nation and the bodies public that could be said to represent that nation

Cover Up the Dirty Parts! Dena Shottenkirk, 2009 Cover Up the Dirty Parts takes on directly not only questions regarding the relationship between government funding for the arts and political censorship but also deeper philosophical questions regarding liberty the definition of art the role of vague terms in language and law and the epistemological role of both free expression and art itself The issue of arts funding sits in the terrain of overlap between aesthetics and political philosophy and thus elicits aesthetic questions regarding the purpose of art and how art is defined political questions regarding the nature of freedom and the role of government and epistemological questions regarding the sources of knowledge and how it is we acquire it As both an analytic philosopher and a practicing artist Shottenkirk has incorporated the insights and sensitivities of both worlds in this analysis of why art is important and why freedom of expression within cultural development must be respected if we are to embrace a society able to provide the maximum degree of stimulation and safety for all its members In this context art is viewed as valuable both as a tool for knowledge acquisition for the individual and as a source of consensus building for the culture As a device for consensus building art has the role of practicing respect for differing opinions and balancing competing points of view as well as serving as self expression for the individual Interviews with two artists the first of whom is an American central to the funding debates of the last few decades and the second of whom is a contemporary Iranian writer imprisoned for her writing combine with both narrative and philosophical analysis to give a complete picture of the issues and what is at stake for all of us who care not only about art but about freedom as well While the distinction between censorship and non funding is explored also analyzed is the need for tolerance in the face of offense as well as respect for others TM rights and cultural differences

Reframing Bodies Roger Hallas, 2009-12-02 Examines how queer filmmakers and videographers bore witness to the historical trauma of the AIDS epidemic in the late 1980s and 1990s
