Teaching Translation and Interpreting 3 Cay Dollerup,Vibeke Appel,1996 Selected papers from the Third Language International Conference on Translator and Interpreter Training Capping the series of conferences on this theme in Denmark the present volume brings together a choice selection of the papers read by scholars and teachers from five continents and within all specialities in Translation Studies In combination with the two previous volumes of the same title the book offers an up to date comprehensive representative overview focusing on main issues in teaching in the relatively new field of translation There are informed and incisive discussions of subtitling interpreting and translation spanning from its historical beginnings to presentations of machine translation and predictions of the future of translation work Contributions ranging from discussions on the interplay between theory and teaching teaching literary translation introducing students to central issues in translation practice and historical and social issues in teaching translation The Art of Letters ,1951 Ezra Pound's Chinese Friends Zhaoming Qian,2008-02-21 No literary figure of the past century in America or perhaps in any other Western country is comparable to Ezra Pound in the scope and depth of his exchange with China To this day scholars and students still find it puzzling that this influential poet spent a lifetime incorporating Chinese language literature history and philosophy into Anglo American modernism How well did Pound know Chinese Was he guided exclusively by eighteenth to nineteenth century orientalists in his various Chinese projects Did he seek guidance from Chinese peers Those who have written about Pound and China have failed to address this fundamental question No one could do so just a few years ago when the letters Pound wrote to his Chinese friends were sealed or had not been found This book brings together 162 revealing letters between Pound and nine Chinese intellectuals eighty five of them newly opened up and none previously printed Accompanied by editorial introductions and notes these selected letters make available for the first time the forgotten stories of Pound and his Chinese friends They illuminate a dimension in Pound s career that has been neglected his dynamic interaction with people from China over a span of forty five years from 1914 until 1959 This selection will also be a documentary record of a leading modernist s unparalleled efforts to pursue what he saw as the best of China including both his stumbles and his triumphs The City of Ye in the Chinese Literary Landscape Joanne Tsao,2020-01-20 In The City of Ye in the Chinese Literary Landscape Joanne Tsao demonstrates how the city of Ye changed from an iconic space that represented Cao Cao s heroic enterprise to a symbol of the fruitlessness of human endeavour and then finally to a literary landmark a synecdoche for the vicissitudes of human life caught in the predictable cycles of dynastic rise and decline Through a close reading of literary works on Ye she illustrates how the city transformed from a lived to imaginative space to become a symbol in the poetic lexicon Making use of literary and historical texts on Ye and its material remains through the Song and beyond she shows the potency of place as a generative force in literary production and in historical discourse The Art of Letters Chi Lu,2003-01-01 Painting and Poetry Franklin R. Rogers,Mary Ann Rogers,1985 This study addresses itself to the formal in the topological sense aspect of literature and literary words and concludes that if logos discursive language and mythos literary language are indeed contiguous complementary forms they are then essentially no different from those forms with which the painter or sculptor deals in the formation of his art object

Wang Kuo-wei's Jen-chien Tz'u-hua A.A. Rickett, 1977-09-01 In the first decade of the twentieth century while other intellectuals were concerned with translating works of political and scientific import into Chinese Wang Kuo wei 1877 1927 looked to Western philosophy to find answers to the fundamental questions of human life He was the first Chinese to translate Schopenhauer and Nietzsche into Chinese and to apply their views of aesthetics to Chinese literature The influence of their concepts of genius and the sublime can easily be seen in his Jen chien tz u hua Wang was also indebted to Chinese critics for the development of his theories regarding the sphere of individuality that each poem represents ching chieh a theory that places him among the ranks of China's greatest literary critics Innovative as he was in his concepts of poetry however Wang chose to convey those concepts in the traditional form of poetic criticism the tz u hua or talks on poetry Thus this translation of the complete edition of his Jen chien tz u hua not only adds to the Westerner's knowledge of Chinese literary criticism but also provides insight into the way in which Chinese communicated with each other about their literature

Interpretation and Literature in Early Medieval China Alan K. L. Chan, Yuet-Keung Lo, 2010-07-01 Covering a time of great intellectual ferment and great influence on what was to come this book explores the literary and hermeneutic world of early medieval China In addition to profound political changes the fall of the Han dynasty allowed new currents in aesthetics literature interpretation ethics and religion to emerge during the Wei Jin Nanbeichao period The contributors to this volume present developments in literature and interpretation during this era from a variety of methodological perspectives frequently highlighting issues hitherto unremarked in Western or even Chinese and Japanese scholarship These include the rise of new literary and artistic values as the Han declined changing patterns of patronage that helped reshape literary tastes and genres and new developments in literary criticism The religious changes of the period are revealed in the literary self presentation of spiritual seekers the influence of Daoism on motifs in poetry and Buddhist influences on both poetry and historiography Traditional Chinese literary figures such as the fox and the ghost receive fresh analysis about their particular representation during this period

Tharsen, 2024-12-30 What did Old Chinese prose sound like Supported by digital texts modern technologies and historical linguistics Chinese Euphonics is a deep dive into the types of sound patterns that occur throughout the earliest corpora of narrative texts in the Chinese canon the Western Zhou bronze inscriptions the Classic of Documents and the Zuo Commentary to the Spring and Autumn Annals Tharsen demonstrates how sound patterns in the speeches preserved in these foundational texts functioned in concert with form and meaning to create phonorhetoric a tactic employed by some of the most eminent figures from Chinese antiquity to beautify and strengthen their arguments and ideas by making use of extensive phonological patterning and the power of sound Containing both a broad history of the study of prose rhyming and a wealth of new evidence Chinese Euphonics lays the groundwork for a new and more comprehensive approach to the study of early Chinese texts The Art of Letters Lu Chi's "Wen Fu", AD 302, 1951* The Modernist Response to Chinese Art Zhaoming Qian, 2003 The Modernist Response to Chinese Art is a work of both erudition and sympathy that reveals the root of modernist poets otherwise baffling interest in and use of Chinese art Most impressive perhaps is the depth of their embrace of it as Qian has so convincingly documented Patricia C Williams Chinese Literature in Transition from Antiquity to the Middle Ages Donald Holzman, 2024-12-11 This volume aims to account for the tremendous changes in the attitudes towards the world and towards themselves that can be seen in the works of Chinese writers in the early centuries of the Christian era How do the massive conversion of such a large part of the population to Buddhism and the widespread development of the Daoist religion correspond to the conversion of the West to Christianity Does this conversion to new religions that were replacing the ancient imperial religions represent similar developments on the eastern and western fringes of the Old World Can we speak with any confidence of the gradual evolution of China from an Antiquity to a Middle Ages The author attempts to show that in their attitudes towards literature and their appreciation of landscape during the Han and the first four centuries of the Christian era we can see signs of a turning inward and the birth of new forms of
