Art Of Time Medieval Calendars And The Zodiac:

Time in the Medieval World Colum Hourihane, 2007 This volume is a rich resource for the study of time as represented by the signs of the zodiac and occupations of the months documented in the comprehensive files of the Index of Christian Art at Princeton University The measurement and documentation of time has been a universal issue since the dawn of civilization and no more so than in the medieval period when images representing the signs of the zodiac and occupations of the months were commonly used Nature and the occupations or labors that each month brought were reflected in earthly calendars while the movements of the heavens and their impact on mankind were recorded in the signs of the zodiac The changing compositions that were used to represent these twin calendars in several hundred works of art are documented in this volume which provides an unrivaled visual record for the student and scholar

The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture

Imaginings of Time in Lydgate and Hoccleve's Verse Karen Elaine Smyth, 2016-05-13 Using empirical research to explore medieval writers imaginings of time this study presents a new morphology by which to study narratives of time in fifteenth century literary culture focusing on poems of John Lydgate and Thomas Hoccleve Karen Smyth begins with an overview of medieval time keeping devices and considers collective and individual attitudes and perceptions of time She then examines a range of Middle English authors appropriations and innovations in relation to such perceptions identifying competitions of tradition and innovation allowing for an interrogation of commonly accepted medieval theories of time An empirically based morphology emerges and is used to examine narratives of time in Lydgate and Hoccleve's work Through a series of close readings of selected short poems and Lydgate's Troy Book Fall of Princes and Siege of Thebes and of Hoccleve's Regiments of Princes and Series Karen Smyth looks at expressions of time and examples of the authors negotiation of time consciousness illustrating how both poets manipulate a range of cultural narratives of time in order to create multiple and sometimes competing temporalities within a single poem Smyth simultaneously draws attention to Lydgate's and Hoccleve's underestimated artistic skills and lays out a means to re evaluate medieval cultural attitudes towards time

Woodcuts as Reading Guides Andrea Leerdam, 2025-10-01 In the first half of the sixteenth century the Low Countries saw the rise of a lively market for practical and instructive books that targeted non specialist readers This study shows how woodcuts in vernacular books on medicine and astrology fulfilled important rhetorical functions in knowledge communication These images guided readers perceptions of the organisation visualisation and reliability of knowledge Andrea van Leerdam uncovers the assumptions and intentions of book producers to which images testify and shows how actual readers engaged with these illustrated books Drawing on insights from the field of information design studies she scrutinises the books material characteristics including their lay outs and traces of use to shed light on the habits and interests of early modern readers She situates these works in a culture where medicine and astrology were closely interwoven in daily life and where both book producers and readers were exploring the potential of images

Farmers, Monks and Aristocrats K. M. Dobney, D. Jaques, James Barrett, Cluny Johnstone, 2007-12-12 The environmental archaeological evidence from the site of Flixborough in particular the animal bone assemblage provides a series of unique insights into Anglo Saxon life in England during the 8th to 10th centuries The research reveals detailed evidence for the local and regional environment many aspects of the local and regional agricultural economy changing resource exploitation strategies and the extent of possible trade and exchange networks Perhaps the most important conclusions have been gleaned from the synthesis of these various lines of evidence viewed in a broader archaeological context Thus bioarchaeological data from Flixborough have documented for the first time in a detailed and systematic way the significant shift in social and economic aspects of wider Anglo Saxon life during the 9th century AD and comment on the possible role of external factors such as the arrival of Scandinavians in the life and development of the settlement The bioarchaeological evidence from Flixborough is also used to explore the tentative evidence revealed by more traditional archaeological materials for the presence during the 9th century of elements of monastic life The vast majority of bioarchaeological evidence from Flixborough provides both direct and indirect evidence of the wealth and social standing of some of the inhabitants as well as a plethora of unique information about agricultural and provisioning practices associated with a major Anglo Saxon estate centre The environmental archaeological record from Flixborough is without doubt one of the most important datasets of the early medieval period and one which will provide a key benchmark for future research into many aspects of early medieval archaeology

Zodiac Calendars in the Dead Sea Scrolls and Their Reception Helen R. Jacobus, 2014-10-30 The ancient mathematical basis of the Aramaic calendars in the Dead Sea Scrolls is analysed in this investigation Helen R Jacobus re examines an Aramaic zodiac calendar with a thunder divination text 4Q318 and the calendar from the Aramaic Astronomical Book 4Q208 4Q209 all from Qumran Jacobus demonstrates that 4Q318 is an ancestor of the Jewish calendar today and that it helps us to understand 4Q208 4Q209 She argues that these calendars were taught in antiquity as angelic knowledge described in 1 Enoch and the Book of Jubilees The study also encompasses Babylonian Hellenistic Byzantine astronomy and astrology and classical and Jewish writings Finally a medieval Hebrew zodiac calendar related to 4Q318 with an astrological text is published here for the first time

After the Carolingians Beatrice Kitzinger, Joshua O'Driscoll, 2019-07-08 A volume that introduces new sources and offers fresh perspectives on a key era of transition this book is of value to art historians and historians alike From the dissolution of the Carolingian empire to the onset of the so called 12th century Renaissance the transformative 10th 11th centuries witnessed the production of a significant number of illuminated manuscripts from present day France Belgium Spain and Italy alongside the better known works from Anglo Saxon England and the Holy Roman Empire While the hybrid styles evident in book painting reflect the movement and re organization of people and codices many of the manuscripts also display a highly creative engagement with the art of the past Likewise their handling of subject matter whether common or new for book illumination attests to vibrant artistic energy and innovation On the basis of rarely studied scientific religious and literary manuscripts the contributions in this volume address a range of issues including the engagement of 10th 11th century bookmakers with their Carolingian and Antique legacies the interwoven geographies of book production and matters of modern politics and historiography that have shaped the study of this complex period Western Mesoamerican Calendars and Writing Systems Mikkel Bøg

Clemmensen, Christophe Helmke, 2023-06-08 Mesoamerica is one of the few places to witness the independent invention of writing Bringing together new research papers discuss the writing systems of Teotihuacan Mixteca Baja the Epiclassic period and Aztec writing of the Postclassic These writing systems represent more than a millennium of written records and literacy in Mesoamerica Time's Visible Surface Mike Gubser, 2006 Expands our understanding of Alois Riegl beyond his role as an art historian to a pivotal figure in cultural theory at large while placing his interest in history and time within the intellectual world of fin de siècle Vienna Alois Riegl's art history has influenced thinkers as diverse as Erwin Panofsky Georg Lukacs Walter Benjamin Paul Feyerabend Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari One of the founders of the modern discipline of art history Riegl is best known for his theories of representation Yet his inquiries into the role of temporality in artistic production including his argument that art conveys a culture's consciousness of time show him to be a more wide ranging and influential commentator on historiographical issues than has been previously acknowledged In Time's Visible Surface Michael Gubser presents Riegl's work as a sustained examination of the categories of temporality and history in art Supported by a rich exploration of Riegl's writings Gubser argues that Riegl viewed artworks as registering historical time visibly in artistic forms Gubser's discussion of Riegl's academic milieu also challenges the widespread belief that Austrian modernism adopted a self consciously ahistorical worldview By analyzing the works of Riegl's professors and colleagues at the University of Vienna Gubser shows that Riegl's interest in temporality from his early articles on calendar art through later volumes on the Roman art industry and Dutch portraiture fit into a broad discourse on time history and empiricism that engaged Viennese thinkers such as the philosopher Franz Brentano the historian Theodor von Sickel and the art historian Franz Wickhoff By expanding our understanding of Riegl and his intellectual context Time's Visible Surface demonstrates that Riegl is a pivotal figure in cultural theory and that fin de siècle Vienna holds continued relevance for today's cultural and philosophical debates The Visual Culture of Baptism in the Middle Ages Harriet M. Sonnede Torrens, 2017-07-05 Under the guidance of the leading experts on baptismal fonts and the co directors of the Baptisteria Sacra Index the world's only iconographical inventory of baptismal fonts a research project at the University of Toronto this collection of essays by a group of European and North American scholars extends the traditional boundaries associated with the study of baptismal fonts. The visual is privileged whether it is in the metaphysical literary or empirical realms of scholarship offering a rich understanding of the powerful role of baptism played in medieval and renaissance society. In the quest for a holistic understanding of the vessels, the settings and contexts, the rituals and the spiritual significance of the font itself, the contributors have turned to a range of sources: folkloric tales, baptismal records, liturgical sermons, civic records, literary accounts, hagiographies and historical documents about local families, communities and ecclesiastical developments. Previous scholarship about baptismal fonts has often focused on the purely stylistic, iconographical and liturgical perspectives using primarily ecclesiastical and liturgical documentation. This collection of essays shows the wealth of new information that baptismal fonts can offer when scholars adopt interdisciplinary approaches and engage in readings that question traditional assumptions inherited in scholarship.

Byzantine Media Subjects Glenn Peers,2024-06-15 Byzantine Media Subjects invites readers into a world replete with images icons frescoes and mosaics filling places of worship politics and community Glenn Peers asks readers to think themselves into a world where representation reigned and humans followed and indeed were formed Interrogating the fundamental role of representation in the making of the Byzantine human Peers argues that Byzantine culture was already posthuman The Byzantine experience reveals the extent to which media like icons manuscripts music animals and mirrors fundamentally determine humans In the Byzantine world representation as such was deeply persuasive even coercive it had the power to affect human relationships produce conflict and form self perception Media studies has made its subject the modern world but this book argues for media having made historical subjects Here it is shown that media long ago also made Byzantine humans defining them molding them mediating their relationship to time to nature to God and to themselves

Canones: The Art of Harmony Alessandro Bausi, Bruno Reudenbach, Hanna Wimmer, 2020-11-23 The so called Canon Tables of the Christian Gospels are an absolutely remarkable feature of the early late antique and medieval Christian manuscript cultures of East and West the invention of which is commonly attributed to Eusebius and dated to first decades of the fourth century AD Intended to host a technical device for structuring organizing and navigating the Four Gospels united in a single codex and in doing so building upon and bringing to completion previous endeavours the Canon Tables were apparently from the beginning a highly complex combination of text numbers and images that became an integral and fixed part of all the manuscripts containing the Four Gospels as Sacred Scripture of the Christians and can be seen as exemplary for the formation development and spreading of a specific Christian manuscript culture across East and West AD 300 and 800 In the footsteps of Carl Nordenfalk's masterly publication of 1938 and few following contributions this book offers an updated overview on the topic of Canon Tables in a comparative perspective and with a precise look at their context of origin their visual appearance their meaning function and their usage in different times domains and cultures
