Turner, 2006-05-17 Sociology is experiencing what can only be described as hyperdifferentiation of theories there are now many approaches competing for attention in the intellectual arena From this perspective we should see a weeding out of theories to a small number but this is not likely to occur because each of the many theoretical perspectives has a resource base of adherents As a result theories in sociology do not compete head on with each other as much as they coexist This seminal reference work was brought together with an eye to capturing the diversity of theoretical activity in sociology specifically the forefront of theory Contributors describe what they themselves are doing right now rather than what others have done in the past The goal of this volume is to allow prominent theorists working in a variety of traditions who wouldn't usually come together to review their work The chapters in this volume represent a mix of theoretical orientations and strategies but these theories are diverse and represent the prominent theoretical discussions in sociology today Some areas included are Section I Theoretical Methodologies and Strategies Section II The Cultural Turn in Sociological Theorizing Section III Theorizing Interaction Processes Section IV Theorizing from the Systemic and Macrolevel Section V New Directions in Evolutionary Theorizing Section VI Theorizing on Power Conflict and Change Section VII Theorizing from Assumptions of Rationality This handbook will be of interest to those wanting a broad spectrum and overview of late 20th early 21st century sociological theory Art

Researching Creative Learning Pat Thomson, Julian Sefton-Green, 2010-11-05 It is a common ambition in society and government to make young people more creative These aspirations are motivated by two key concerns to make experience at school more exciting relevant challenging and dynamic and to ensure that young people are able and fit to leave education and contribute to the creative economy that will underpin growth in the twenty first century Transforming these common aspirations into informed practice is not easy It can mean making many changes turning classrooms into more exciting experiences introducing more thoughtful challenges into the curriculum making teachers into different kinds of instructors finding more authentic assessment processes putting young people's voices at the heart of learning There are programmes projects and initiatives that have consistently attempted to offer such change and transformation The UK programme Creative Partnerships is the largest of these but there are significant initiatives in many other parts of the world today including France Norway Canada and the United States This book not only draws on this body of expertise but also consolidates it making it the first methodological text exploring creativity Creative teaching and learning is often used as a site for research and action research and this volume is intended to act as a textbook for this range of courses and initiatives The book will be a key text for research in creative teaching and learning and is specifically directed at ITE CPD Masters and doctoral students

Realism, Rationalism, Surrealism

Fer, Francis Haskell, Briony Fer, David Batchelor, Paul Wood, 1993-01-01 This book begins by considering responses by French artists to the First World War showing how Purism Dada and early Surrealism are related to the ethos of post war reconstruction The authors then discuss the language of construction in places as dissimilar as France Germany and the Soviet Union the contrasting demands of the utility and decoration of objects and paintings and the relationship of surrealism to questions of sexuality and gender and to Freudian theory The book concludes by addressing the widespread debate over realism in art whether it represents an alternative to the elitism of the avant garde or whether avant garde art should play a role in the development of a modern realism

I Like Hong Kong Frank Vigneron, 2010-06-15 Contemporary Chinese art is nowadays a subject area widely taught and researched in academic and nonacademic publications but it has not yet been studied by localizing the research in specific cultural areas within the Chinese world Selecting Hong Kong for a first such study was an obvious choice since Hong Kong culture has had for already quite a long time very specific features which have put it apart from the generally accepted definition of Chinese national culture Although it is not a survey of Hong Kong art as such a study would demand many more books the works of about eighty artists working in Hong Kong and sometimes outside have been analyzed and contextualized in these pages
