houses one of the most highly regarded collections of twentieth century American art anywhere including paintings by Edward Hopper Georgia O Keeffe Mark Rothko Willem de Kooning Marsden Hartley Robert Motherwell Robert Henri Grant Wood Frank Stella and many more internationally renowned artists Calling the Sheldon collection exemplary the art historian and critic Barbara Rose notes Because the collection does not reflect fashion the misguided inspiration of much art collecting today but is rather an effort of connoisseurship and informed by an art historical viewpoint it is certain to remain as durable and exciting tomorrow as it is today The American Painting Collection of the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery offers for the first time a full description of the collection now numbering more than one thousand works that has been nearly a century in the making The first part of the book presents full color reproductions of 101 of the most noteworthy paintings in the collection each accompanied by a brief discussion of the artist and his or her work The second part or catalog consists of a complete inventory of the collection including for each painting its physical description provenance exhibition history and publication history as well as a black and white reproduction Publication of the book coincides with a year long celebration of the centennial of the Nebraska Art Association the Sheldon Gallery s support group and one of the oldest continuous arts organizations in the country The Darby School of Art Mark W. Sullivan,2023-11-15 This first full length account of the

Darby School of Art overturns Philadelphia s long held unwarranted reputation and demonstrates that Philadelphia was a hub of avant garde painting in the early twentieth century This first full length account of the Darby School of Art overturns Philadelphia s long held unwarranted reputation as artistically stodgy unwilling and unable to embrace Impressionism post Impressionist and abstract art and demonstrates that Philadelphia was more avant garde in the early twentieth century than previously thought This is the story of an almost completely forgotten summer art school that flourished first in Darby PA and then in Fort Washington PA between 1898 and 1918 The Darby School of Art was founded and operated by Thomas Anshutz and Hugh Breckenridge two artists who taught during the academic year at the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts Anshutz and Breckenridge brought a lot of new ideas about painting back to Philadelphia after their European sojourns and introduced those ideas to a public that was initially not very responsive to Impressionism Post Impressionism and semi abstract art But an appreciation for modern styles of painting began to slowly grow among Philadelphia artists and collectors and Anshutz and Breckenridge were in the forefront of this development They also sympathized with what some have called the New Woman movement which backed women who wanted to pursue careers outside of the home In this new history expert Mark Sullivan argues that the Philadelphia area was a genuine hub of avant garde painting in the early twentieth century even though it has earned the reputation of lagging far behind New York City in its openness to new styles of painting It also discusses how the Darby School should be recognized as an institution that got behind the idea of women as professional artists at a time when that concept was quite radical
