The Art of Grahame King Sasha Grishin, Libby Bright, Caroline Field, 2005 Grahame King's life as an artist began with his mastery of the new art of colour reproduction as a photolithographic colour etcher in Melbourne in the 1930s. At the same time study at the National Gallery Art School with George Bell assisted his development as a painter. After war service and travels abroad King returned to Melbourne with his wife the sculptor Inge King. The two held a number of joint exhibitions of paintings and sculptures in Australia throughout the 1950s and then from c 1962 Grahame King turned his attention increasingly towards the art of lithography becoming a master in this field of printmaking. He has also devoted himself to promoting the art of lithography and printmaking generally through the Print Council of Australia. He is often called Australia's patron saint of printmaking. The book examines his seven decades working as an artist in Melbourne and is lavishly illustrated with colour reproductions throughout. A Modern Grand Tour, 2009 Grahame King Grahame E. King, Jane L. Eckett, 2011. The book traces the many ways in which drawing led King to the arts of monotype and lithography in which he became a master printmaker. The book begins with 1940s sketches of soldiers, shearers and dockworkers and then moves on to his wonderful pen and wash jottings of European architecture and scenery encountered during his travels. Grahame King Grahame E. King, Jenny Zimmer, 2002 Grahame E. King Grahame E. King, Cubism & Australian Art Lesley Harding, Sue Cramer, 2009. Cubism was a movement that changed fundamentally the course of twentieth century art. It had far reaching effects both conceptual and stylistic which are still being felt today. Described in 1912 by French poet and commentator Guillaume Apollinaire as not an art of imitation but an art of conception, Cubism irreversibly altered art's relationship to visual reality. I paint things as I think them, not as I see them. Picasso said. Cubism and Australian Art examines for the first time the impact of this transformative art movement on the work of Australian artists from the early 1920s to the present day. The authors argue that by its very nature Cubism was characterised by variation and change, that the idea of a pure or original Cubism was short lived and that its appearance in Australian art parallels its uptake and re interpretation by artists internationally. In the words of French artist Andr   Lhote, mentor to several Australians who studied at his Academy in Paris: There are a thousand definitions of Cubism because there are a thousand painters practising it. More than eighty international and Australian artists are showcased with over 300 works featuring Sam Atyeo, Ralph Balson, Grace Crowley, Frank Hinder, Roger Kemp, Godfrey Miller, Stephen Bram and Daniel Crooks as well as Pablo Picasso, Georges Braque and Fernand L  ger. Australia has one of the largest inventories of rock art in the world with pictographs and petroglyphs found almost anywhere that has suitable rock surfaces in rock shelters and caves on boulders and rock platforms. First Nations people have been marking these places with figurative imagery, abstract designs, stencils and prints for tens of thousands of years, often engaging with earlier rock markings. The art reflects and expresses changing experiences within landscapes over time spirituality history law and lore as well as relationships between individuals and groups of people plants animals land and Ancestral Beings that are said to have created the world including some rock art Since the late 1700s people arriving in Australia have been fascinated with the rock art they encountered with detailed studies commencing in the late 1800s Through the 1900s an impressive body of research on Australian rock art was undertaken with dedicated academic study using archaeological methods employed since the late 1940s Since then Australian rock art has been researched from various perspectives including that of Traditional Owners custodians and other community members Through the 1900s there was also growing interest in Australian rock art from researchers across the globe leading many to visit or migrate to Australia to undertake rock art research In this volume the varied histories of Australian rock art research from different parts of the country are explored not only in terms of key researchers developments and changes over time but also the crucial role of First Nations people themselves in investigations of this key component of their living heritage

Aesthetics of Interaction in Digital Art Katja Kwastek, 2015-08-21 An art historical perspective on interactive media art that provides theoretical and methodological tools for understanding and analyzing digital art Since the 1960s artworks that involve the participation of the spectator have received extensive scholarly attention Yet interactive artworks using digital media still present a challenge for academic art history In this book Katja Kwastek argues that the particular aesthetic experience enabled by these new media works can open up new perspectives for our understanding of art and media alike Kwastek herself an art historian offers a set of theoretical and methodological tools that are suitable for understanding and analyzing not only new media art but also other contemporary art forms Addressing both the theoretician and the practitioner Kwastek provides an introduction to the history and the terminology of interactive art a theory of the aesthetics of interaction and exemplary case studies of interactive media art Kwastek lays the historical and theoretical groundwork and then develops an aesthetics of interaction discussing such aspects as real space and data space temporal structures instrumental and phenomenal perspectives and the relationship between materiality and interpretability Finally she applies her theory to specific works of interactive media art including narratives in virtual and real space interactive installations and performance with case studies of works by Olia Lialina Susanne Berkenheger Stefan Schemat Teri Rueb Lynn Herschman Agnes Heged s Tmema David Rokeby Sonia Cillari and Blast Theory
