

A photograph of a Berber kasbah in a desert landscape. The kasbah is a large, multi-story building with many windows and a flat roof, built from reddish-brown earth. It is situated in a valley with dry, yellowish-brown vegetation. In the background, there are large, rugged mountains with reddish-brown cliffs under a clear blue sky.

Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World (2 vols.) Susan Sinclair, 2012-04-03 Following the tradition and style of the acclaimed Index Islamicus the editors have created this new Bibliography of Art and Architecture in the Islamic World. The editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all European languages except Turkish between 1906 and 2011. This comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in Muslim societies.

Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art & Architecture: Three-Volume Set Jonathan Bloom, Sheila Blair, 2009-05-14 The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture deals with all aspects of Islamic art and architecture ranging from the Middle East to Central Asia to Southeast Asia and Africa. The volumes cover all subject areas in Islamic art including artists, rulers, writers, architecture, ceramics, sculpture, metalwork, painting, calligraphy, textiles and more. The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture provides unparalleled scope and depth on this rapidly growing area of interest. It offers fully updated articles and bibliography as well as more than 500 plans, maps, diagrams, illustrations and colour plates. Similar in scope and design to The Grove Encyclopedia of Decorative Arts, this three volume reference work contains articles of various lengths in alphabetical order. The shorter, more factual articles, none shorter than 50 words, are combined with larger, multi-section articles tracing the development of the art forms in various geographical locations.

Architecture, Islam, and Identity in West Africa Michelle Apotsos, 2016-05-20 Architecture, Islam and Identity in West Africa shows you the relationship between architecture and Islamic identity in West Africa. The book looks broadly across Muslim West Africa and takes an in-depth study of the village of Larabanga, a small Muslim community in Northern Ghana, to help you see how the built environment encodes cultural history through form, material and space, creating an architectural narrative that outlines the contours of this distinctive Muslim identity. Apotsos explores how modern technology, heritage and tourism have increasingly affected the contemporary architectural character of this community, revealing the village's current state of social, cultural and spiritual flux. More than 60 black and white images illustrate how architectural components within this setting express the distinctive narratives, value systems and realities that make up the unique composition of this Afro-Islamic community.
