Art Line Thought:

Art Line Thought S.B. Mallin, 2012-12-06 Art Line Thought discusses the main issues that beset our time and philosophy by locating these same issues in artworks and describing closely what is shown there While respecting their differences art and philosophy are thus made to cross back and forth into one another delineating in fresh ways our concerns about nature the human and non human the body femininity ecology technology textism the end of history community postmodernism relativism and non Eurocentric ethics A philosophy of line gathers these issues opposing the current dominance of word and linguistic analyses Art has long been aware that the line communicates meaning at least as well as the word The volume is divided between contemporary and prehistoric art in order to reveal the presumptions of Western culture and how we might move beyond it Since the book is a critique of Eurocentric thinking and prose it works at finding new styles of both Its philosophical meditation is directed equally to those who are intellectually interested in contemporary and prehistoric art in theories of postmodern culture and criticism and in anthropology

Cultivating Perception Through Artworks Helen A. Fielding, 2021-11-30 What are the ethical political and cultural consequences of forgetting how to trust our senses How can artworks help us see sense think and interact in ways that are outside of the systems of convention and order that frame so much of our lives In Cultivating Perception through Artworks Helen Fielding challenges us to think alongside and according to artworks cultivating a perception of what is really there and being expressed by them Drawing from and expanding on the work of philosophers such as Luce Irigaray and Maurice Merleau Ponty Fielding urges us to trust our senses and engage relationally with works of art in the here and now rather than distancing and systematizing them as aesthetic objects Cultivating Perception through Artworks examines examples as diverse as a Rembrandt painting M NourbeSe Philip s poetry and Louise Bourgeois public sculpture to demonstrate how artworks enact ethics politics or culture By engaging with different art forms and discovering the unique way that each opens us to the world in a new and unexpected ways Fielding reveals the importance of our moral political and cultural lives

Heidegger and Leibniz R. Cristin,2013-04-17 Heidegger holds that our age is dominated by the ambition of reason to possess the world And he sees in Leibniz the man who formulated the theorem of our modern age nothing happens without a reason He calls this attitude calculating thought and opposes to it a kind of thought aimed at preserving the essence of things which he calls meditating thought Cristin s book ascribes great importance to this polarity of thinking for the future of contemporary philosophy and thus compares the basic ideas of the two thinkers Leibniz announces the conquest of reason Heidegger denounces the dangers of reason Their diversity becomes manifest in the difference between the idea of reason and the image of the path But is Leibniz s thought really only calculating And do we not perhaps also encounter the traces of reason along Heidegger s path With these questions in mind we may begin to redefine the relation between the two thinkers and between two different conceptions of reason and philosophy The hypothesis is advanced that Heidegger s harsh judgment of Leibniz may be mitigated but it also becomes clear that Heidegger s rewriting of the code of reason is an integral part of our age in which many signs point to new loci of rationality With his original interpretation aware of the risks he is taking Renato Cristin offers a new guide to the understanding of reason he shows forth Leibniz as one who defends the thought of being in the unity of monadology and Heidegger as a thinker who preserves the sign of reason in his meditating
