Pre-Service Teacher Education Program and Teacher Professionalization in Pakistan Khushbakht Hina, 2017-06-23 Since the establishment of Pakistan in 1947 the country has announced more than 15 education policy regimes directing the improvement of education Each policy has been ambitious in its aims and critical of past failures A common feature of all policies plans programs and schemes however is that all of them have failed to achieve their objectives Even programmes using international resources have been unsuccessful in significantly changing Pakistan's education sector The country has been well advised over the past decade by local international and donor agencies regarding what is not

Narrative Life

Neil Hooley, 2009-04-29 Indigenous education is one of the great challenges facing humanity in the historic quest for a democratic and peaceful future The 370 million Indigenous peoples of the world demand that the racist and colonial wrongs of the past be rectified and that they stand as equals in confronting the social political and cultural problems that surround us all Education offers a way forward whether concerned with the public good schooling for all citizens including universal primary education and expanding secondary education the education of women regardless of background the inclusion of local cultures literacy and numeracy for all as a democratic right and the provision of comprehensive education that enables both personal aspiration cultural satisfaction and economic pathways What this means is that all children no matter where they live no matter what their background or the colour of their skin should expect to have access to education of the highest quality This does not impose a particular style of education for local communities but respects that educational directions must be decided independently by countries themselves Within this general context there is also something most profound about Indigenous knowing of appreciating Indigenous perspectives and applying these across all knowledge across all subjects of a curriculum Rather than accepting the one often highly conservative and dominant view of knowledge teaching and learning for all schools Indigenous perspectives offer other insights and means of analysis reflection and critique These can open up fields of creative and critical learning for all children including the dispossessed marginalised and disenfranchised

The Art of Learning to Teach Mary Beattie, 2007 For courses in Student Teaching and Field Experience The goal of this text is to help teachers to create and recreate their professional knowledge through reflection and inquiry Readers are given the opportunity to examine and consider a variety of possible responses to teaching and learning situations and to relate their thinking to their own experience and developing professional knowledge Readers are invited to reflect and respond individually and collaboratively to what they read and to document their reflections responses and ongoing inquiry In this way teachers can use what they learn to build their own unique professional knowledge in teaching and to plan their future actions and professional practices

Wane, Energy L. Manyimo, Eric J. Ritskes, 2011-10-29 Spirituality education and society An integrated approach argues the value of spirituality in education as a way to address the lived experiences and personal knowledge of students with the goal of creating a more holistic transformative educational process This edited volume has a wide array of viewpoints which all point to the importance of spirituality in the authors personal lives their communities and society at large Spirituality is conceptualised as a base from which to challenge dominant forms of knowing while in the process being able to center and engage with an important aspect of the student that has been missing from current evaluations their spiritual selves Within the diversity of this volume it becomes evident that spirituality cannot be confined to a singular definition and that educators must be willing to create spaces to foster spiritual growth and exploration if we are to break away from the commoditized disempowering system that is so dominant today This edited collection is a valuable resource for students practitioners educators and administrators who wish to engage in transformational schooling Its multidisciplinary approach engages ideas around critical pedagogy sociology of education and inclusive schooling There is an increasing need for exploring novel paradigms of studying education in the context of the dynamics that straddle social economic and technological processes that have come to characterize the world in recent years This book is a timely contribution in this respect as its focus transcends hitherto applied approaches that depend largely on western orientation The book breaks new grounds in studying education and society that find significant relevance in societies that are marginalized by the dominant western understanding The authors draw from the rich heritage of spirituality that is akin to the non western social paradigms to develop a rigorous but creative concept of schooling I am sure practitioners researchers and students of education will find it a valuable source of practical and theoretical information that would widen their horizon of understanding of sociology of education Tom Mongare Ndege PhD Moi University Kenya The editors have compiled a brilliant collection of essays Each piece of scholarly work shows how spirituality is a paramount part of our everyday lives and is connected to teaching learning living and healing This is a timely and most relevant work that is sure to spur critical dialogue and discussion This collection shows that while the spirit may be wounded it can never be broken Erica Neeganagwedgin PhD University of Toronto
