

SELF-REFLECTION

DEFINITION

Self-reflection is the process of introspectively analyzing one's thoughts, feelings, and actions to gain deeper understanding and insight. It's a conscious effort to step back and assess one's experiences, decisions, and overall life journey. Through self-reflection, individuals can identify strengths, weaknesses, patterns, and areas for growth or change.

EXAMPLES

- Meditation: Setting aside time for stillness and inner exploration to understand oneself better.
- Feedback Seeking: Actively asking peers, mentors, or colleagues for input on your behavior and performance.

Art Of Professional Reflection:

Professional Experience & the Investigative Imagination Richard Winter, Alyson Buck, Paula Sobiechowska, 1999
This book explains how creative writing can be used successfully in the context of professional education. It argues that there is a role for this imaginative style in an area that has traditionally favoured a more distanced approach. Reflective Practices in Arts Education Pamela Burnard, Sarah Hennessy, 2006-08-12 It is an exciting time to be an artist and artist educator. Networks of schools and artists are being motivated by arts partnerships, a relatively new phenomenon in a field which whilst disparate in its character and practice is marked by a common intention to respond effectively and critically to politically driven agendas of accountability, school improvement and pupil attainment. More than ever, artists and educators alike have begun to realise the need to develop practices which offer the development of artist educator pedagogies as agencies for change and political action. Understanding the function of reflective practice, the conditions which support it and its impact on learning are addressed throughout this book. We hope that the book will motivate readers with a diversity of interests and needs to engage in reflections of their own professional practices and of the practices of the communities in which they work. This book is about reflection. The thesis about the field it covers and major premise of this book is that reflection matters at every turn in arts engagement and even more so in educational settings where artist educators share a passion for facilitating and understanding the how of learners' engagement with particular art forms. It aims to show ways in which reflection can inform and transform practice in terms of what, when and how reflection is embodied in arts engagement. Becoming a Visually Reflective Practitioner Sheri R Klein, Kathy Marzilli Miraglia, 2024-09-10 A consideration of how self-study using arts-based methods can enable purposeful reflection toward understanding and envisioning professional practice. Professional practice is increasingly becoming more complex, demanding, dynamic and diverse, and the fluctuating nature of professional practice necessitates the pursuit of discernment and clarity through ongoing reflective practice. Ideal for visual arts practitioners of all levels, this book presents a self-study model grounded in compelling research that highlights arts-based methods for examining four areas of professional practice: professional identities, work cultures, change and transitions, and new pathways. Each chapter focuses on a component of the self-study model and an area of professional practice. Additional chapters are devoted to artistic materials and research methods for interpreting self-study artifacts with the aim of goal setting. Throughout the text, charts and end-of-chapter prompts summarize key points, and images by visual arts practitioners represent a wide range of artistic media, methods and approaches appropriate for self-study. The appendices provide additional resources for enhanced understanding of chapter concepts and key terms, guidelines and rubrics for writing reflections, creating visual responses, and using a visual journal in the self-study process. Creating the Reflective Habit Michelle Lucas, 2023-06-12 Reflection is a critical skill which can enhance the quality of our professional and domestic lives. Yet in a world of busy reflective practice often falls to the bottom
