Art and Place David Clarke, 1996-10-01 The book brings together a series of essays about art in Hong Kong written over the last ten years with the intention of offering a personal chronicle of the Hong Kong art world during a time of great change Many of the essays concern themselves with the work of local artists but Western and Chinese artists whose works have been exhibited in Hong Kong during this period are also discussed In addition to a consideration of particular artists and works of art there are also essays which engage with debates that have been taking place in Hong Kong concerning curatorship and various arts policy issues Fully illustrated and written in a straightforward style Art and Place is one of the first serious attempts to evaluate the art of Hong Kong It should be of use to anyone interested in the cultural life of one of Asia's leading cities

Heidegger on Art and Art Works J.J. Kockelmans, 1985-04-30 This book grew from a series of lectures presented in 1983 in the context of the Summer Program in Phenomenology at The Pennsylvania State University For these lectures I made use of notes and short essays which I had written between 1978 and 1982 during interdisciplinary seminars on Heidegger's later philosophy in general and on his philosophy of language and art in particular The participants in these seminars consisted of faculty members and graduate students concerned with the sciences the arts literature literary criticism art history art education and philosophy On both occasions I made a special effort to introduce those who did not yet have a specialized knowledge of Heidegger's philosophy to his later way of thinking In this effort I was guided by the conviction that we as a group had to aim for accuracy precision clarity faithfulness and depth while at the same time taking distance comparing Heidegger's views with ideas of other philosophers and thinkers and cultivating a proper sense of criticism Over the years it has become clear to me that among professional philosophers literary critics scholars concerned with art history and art education and scientists from various disciplines there are many who are particularly interested in Heidegger's philosophy of art I have also become convinced that many of these dedicated scholars often have difficulty in understanding Heidegger's lectures on art and art works This is understandable

Interdisciplinary Unsettlings of Place and Space Sarah Pinto, Shelley Hannigan, Bernadette Walker-Gibbs, Emma Charlton, 2019-04-25 This book brings together researchers from different fields traditions and perspectives to examine the ways in which place and space might be unsettled Researchers from across the humanities and social sciences have been drawn to the study of place and space since the 1970s and the term unsettled has been an occasional but recurring presence in this body of scholarship Though it has been used to invoke a range of meanings from the dangerous to the liberating the term itself has rarely been at the centre of sustained examination This collection highlights the idea of the unsettled in the scholarly investigation of place and space The respective chapters offer a dialogue between a diverse and eclectic group of researchers crossing significant disciplinary and interdisciplinary boundaries in the process The purpose of the collection is to juxtapose a range of different approaches to and perspectives on the unsettling of place and space In doing so Interdisciplinary Unsettlings of Place and Space makes an important contribution and offers new insights into how scholarship and research into different fields and practices may help us re envision place and space

One Place after Another Miwon Kwon, 2004-02-27 A critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s Site specific art emerged in the late 1960s in reaction to the growing commodification of art and the prevailing ideals of art's autonomy and universality Throughout the 1970s and 1980s as site specific art intersected with land art process art performance art conceptual art installation art institutional critique community based art and public art its creators insisted on the inseparability of the work and its context In recent years however the presumption of unrepeatability and immobility encapsulated in Richard Serra's famous dictum to remove the work is to destroy the work is being challenged by new models of site specificity and changes in institutional and market forces One Place after Another offers a critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s and a theoretical framework for examining the rhetoric of aesthetic vanguardism and political progressivism associated with its many permutations Informed by urban theory postmodernist criticism in art and architecture and debates concerning identity politics and the public sphere the book addresses the siting of art as more than an artistic problem It examines site specificity as a complex cipher of the unstable relationship between location and identity in the era of late capitalism The book addresses the work of among others John Ahearn Mark Dion Andrea Fraser Donald Judd Renee Green Suzanne Lacy Inigo Manglano Ovalle Richard Serra Mierle Laderman Ukeles and Fred Wilson

Hiroshige and artworks Michail Uspensky, 2022-12-06 The art of the Ukiyo-e reflected the artistic expression of an isolated civilisation which when it became accessible to the West significantly influenced a number of European artists The three masters of Ukiyo-e Hokusai Utamaro and Hiroshige are united here for the first time to create a true reference on Japanese art The three masters rank highly among the most famous Japanese artistic productions of all time This new title of the Prestige of Art collection will be a reference for art students and Japanese art lovers The Place of Many Moods Dipti Khera, 2020-09-29 India retains one of the richest painting traditions in the history of global visual culture one that both parallels aspects of European traditions and also diverges from it While European artists venerated the landscape and landscape paintings it is rare in the Indian tradition to find depictions of landscapes for their sheer beauty and mood without religious or courtly significance There is one glorious exception Painters from the city of Udaipur in Northwestern India specialized in depicting places including the courtly worlds and cities of rajas sacred landscapes of many gods and bazaars
