XXVIII The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe Lisbeth Bredholt Christensen, Olav Hammer, David

Warburton, 2014-09-11 The Handbook of Religions in Ancient Europe surveys the major religious currents of Europe before Christianity the first continental religion with hegemonic ambition wiped out most local religions The evidence whether archaeological or written is notoriously difficult to interpret and the variety of religions documented by the sources and the range of languages used are bewildering The Handbook brings together leading authorities on pre Christian religious history to provide a state of the art survey The first section of the book covers the Prehistoric period from the Paleolithic to the Bronze Age The second section covers the period since writing systems began Ranging across the Mediterranean and Northern Celtic and Slavic Europe the essays assess the archaeological and textual evidence Dispersed archaeological remains and biased outside sources constitute our main sources of information so the complex task of interpreting these traces is explained for each case The Handbook also aims to highlight the plurality of religion in ancient Europe the many ways in which it is expressed notably in discourse action organization and material culture how it is produced and maintained by different people with different interests how communities always connect with or disassociate from adjunct communities and how their beliefs and rituals are shaped by these relationships The Handbook will be invaluable to anyone interested in ancient History and also to scholars and students of Religion Anthropology Archaeology and Classical Studies Pont-Euxin disciplines including classics history anthropology and archaeology address such topics as trade and consumption changing urban landscapes cultural transformations and the ways in which these issues played out in the Greek and Phoenician imaginations Situating ancient Iberia within Mediterranean colonial history and establishing a theoretical framework for approaching encounters between colonists and natives these studies exemplify the new intellectual vistas opened by the engagement of colonial studies with Iberian history

A Photographer's Impressions Francesc Català-Roca, 2025-05-22
 Francesc Catal Roca 1922 1998 was a Spanish photographer of great renown considered a pioneer of documentary photography Catal Roca A Photographer's Impressions stands as a testament to an analog era now almost entirely wiped out with the advent of the Internet and digital technologies His photographic legacy is an invaluable visual testimony of the Spanish society of his time His work in the 1940s 1950s and 1960s represented the emergence of new street photography in Spain For half a century he travelled across Spain masterfully capturing everyday scenes of the post war era and the essence of urban landscapes He worked alongside artists such as Joan Mir and Antoni Tàpies immortalizing the art and culture of the 20th century Thirty years after its first edition photography and history enthusiasts will discover previously unpublished content to enrich historiographic narratives The text both entertaining and spontaneous preserves not only anecdotes about events and figures of the 20th century but also offers humanist ideas for a responsible and passionate approach to photography Even though the technology of that time has long been surpassed this book remains full of vibrant ideas serving as an antidote to today's automatism overconsumption and globalization that can trivialize the image

Textiles in Ancient Mediterranean Iconography Susanna Harris, Cecilie Brøns, Marta Zuchowska, 2022-02-03 This volume provides an ambitious synopsis of the complex colourful world of textiles in ancient Mediterranean iconography A wealth of information on ancient textiles is available from depictions such as sculpture vase painting figurines reliefs and mosaics Commonly represented in clothing textiles are also present in furnishings and through the processes of textile production The challenge for anyone analysing ancient iconography is determining how we interpret what we see As preserved textiles rarely survive in comparable forms we must consider the extent to which representations of textiles reflect reality and critically evaluate the sources Images are not simple replicas or photographs of reality Instead iconography draws on select elements from the surrounding world that were recognisable to the ancient audience and reveal the perceptions ideologies and ideas of the society in which they were produced Through examining the durable evidence this anthology reveals the ephemeral world of textiles and their integral role in the daily life cult and economy of the ancient Mediterranean
