Louis Armstrong's Hot Five and Hot Seven Recordings Brian Harker, 2011-04-02 In Louis Armstrong's Hot Five and Hot Seven Recordings Brian Harker strikes a unique balance between 1920s views of jazz and those of today For the first time Armstrong's technical achievements are placed in a meaningful cultural context yielding unexpected insights into these seminal documents of early jazz What Abides: West Point In Afterthought James Ryan, 2022-11-05 What abides over the sixty years since President John F Kennedy spoke at my graduation from West Point This is where What Abides begins Days spent at West Point stand clearly in my mind I can envision my daily life as a cadet a bed made taut as a trampoline spit shined shoes and a sworn oath to absolute honesty No lying no cheating no stealing no locks no keys We woke in the early morning to bugles and drums Another day in which to excel Heavy academics and tough physical training ensued We might be ordered to climb a flimsy ladder to the gymnasium rafters We would leap into the swimming pool all part of the survival swimming class Academic classes physical training year round competitive sports sometimes an afternoon parade Evenings we study But West Point is more than this One day in June President Eisenhower visited the barracks I on duty greeted him and improbably we shared a joke together Wintertime at West Point is dubbed Gloom Period So the marching band played pop tunes and jazz in the mess hall to cheer us Cadets also marked the world outside West Point We traveled to an army base in Alabama Our one Black classmate in the total class of six hundred met the real world shock of Jim Crow racism When we paraded down Fifth Avenue in New York City for the last time we couldn't know that ninety cadets marching would die in Vietnam What Abides is about a brotherhood forged in rigorous training devoted to living honorable lives Our parade in New York brought memories of applauding crowds the grand backdrops of Central Park and Fifth Avenue My looking out over New York harbor brought thoughts of why and how I attended West Point Born during World War II the triumphant victory subsumed the nation during my youth The entry process was intensely competitive The official catalogue warned that admission requirements were somewhat different from other colleges Indeed they were Oh that first day at West Point With shocking suddenness military discipline was imposed by upperclassmen We left our homes as our parents children By late afternoon shorn of hair we were marching in cadence and had sworn an oath of cadetship In name West Point cadets there remained much to learn We were taught to make our beds shine our shoes and march all the West Point way We ate sitting at
