Economic Survival Strategies of Turkish Migrants in London Olgu Karan,2017-09-16 Economic Survival Strategies of Turkish Migrants in London by Olgu KARAN is about economic survival in the Turkish and Kurdish communities of North London with some interesting comparisons to the longer established Turkish Cypriot community It is to be welcomed that the study spans macro and micro levels Also to be welcomed is that it eschews the idea that identity and culture is fixed and unchanging providing some fascinating and important examples to the contrary and that it moves beyond essentially culturalist approaches to entrepreneurship and even more so mainstream individualist ones Dr Karan noticed that two ethnic communities in conflictual relationships with each other in home country Turkey are marshalling collective resources in a very cooperative way across ethnic boundaries and forming small business ventures and thus contributing to the empowerment and upgrading of their households and communities

Labor Markets and Economic Development Ravi Kanbur,Jan Svejnar,2009-05-07 As developing and transition economies enter the next phase of reforms labor market issues increasingly come to the fore With the increased competition from globalization the discussion is shifting to the need for greater labor market flexibility and the creation of good jobs Moreover the greater actual and perceived insecurity in labor markets has generated a new agenda on how to structure safety nets and labor market regulation The older questions of the links between the formal and informal labor market reappear with new dimensions and significance. More generally it is clear that an accurate understanding of how labor market structures function is essential if we are to analyze alternative policy proposals in the wake of these concerns. Oddly enough in spite of this great importance there are no recent monographs that bring together rigorous studies produced by academic researchers on these various issues. This book fills that gap. Under the steely editorship of Ravi Kanbur and Jan Svejnar the contributors flourish in their attempts to enliven these debates.

Europe's Near Abroad Dieter Mahncke, Sieglinde Gstöhl, 2008. In the context of the enlargements of 2004 and 2007 the European Union needed a concept for the future relationship with its new neighbours. The result was the development of the European Neighbourhood Policy ENP. In return for sharing European values and effectively implementing political economic and institutional reforms the EU offers economic incentives and closer ties to its eastern and southern neighbours. The ambitious objective of promoting stability security and prosperity beyond its own borders raises questions about the Union's intentions means and likely success. This volume analyses the logic and institutional origins of the ENP and provides a critical assessment of the promises and prospects of the EU's broader neighbourhood policies. It does so both from an issue oriented perspective e.g. security visa policy trade aid human rights good governance and a regional standpoint eastern Europe the Mediterranean the Western Balkans and Russia.

Ukraine Anders Aslund, 2015-04-17. Ukraine has been wracked by a year of unprecedented political economic and military turmoil. Russian military aggression in the east and a legacy of destructive policies and corruption have created an imminent existential crisis for this young democracy. Yet Ukraine also has a great opportunity to break out of economic underperformance. In this study Anders Aslund one of the world's leading experts on Ukraine traces Ukraine's evolution as a market economy starting with the fall of communism and examines the economic impact of its recent difficulties. Aslund argues that Ukraine must undertake sweeping political economic social and government reforms to achieve prosperity and independence. For its part the West must abandon its hesitant approach and provide broad economic assistance to help Ukraine transform itself.
