Beyond The Red Notebook Essays On Paul Auster:

Beyond the Red Notebook Dennis Barone, 1995 The novels of Paul Auster have captured the imagination of readers and the admiration of many critics of contemporary literature In Beyond the Red Notebook the first book devoted to the works of Auster an international group of scholars provide a rich and insightful examination of Auster's writings Paul Auster and the Influence of Maurice Blanchot María Laura Arce, 2016-04-05 Poet writer and filmmaker Paul Auster is one of the great contributors to American postmodern literature Influenced by authors like Poe and the hardboiled detective stories of the 1950s Auster's novels represented a new genre of anti detective fiction in which the case itself loses direction and is overshadowed by existential questions Analyzing three of his novels Ghosts 1986 The Music of Chance 1990 and Mr Vertigo 1994 this critical study explores the intertextual relationship between Auster's work and the oeuvre of French writer and critic Maurice Blanchot The author explores Auster's work as a fictionalization of Blanchot's concept of inspiration and the construction of imaginary space Paul Auster's "The New York Trilogy" as Postmodern Detective Fiction Matthias Kugler, 1999-10-28 Inhaltsangabe Abstract Paul Auster's New York Trilogy published in one volume for the first time in England in 1988 and in the U S in 1990 has been widely categorised as detective fiction among literary scholars and critics There is however a striking diversity and lack of consensus regarding the classification of the trilogy within the existing genre forms of the detective novel Among others Auster's stories are described as metaanti detective fiction mysteries about mysteries a strangely humorous working of the detective novel very soft boiled a metamystery glassy little jigsaws a mixture between the detective story and the nouveau roman a metaphysical detective story a deconstruction of the detective novel antidetective fiction a late example of the anti detective genre and being related to hard boiled novels by authors like Hammett and Chandler Such a striking lack of agreement within the secondary literature has inspired me to write this paper It does not however elaborate further on this diversity of viewpoints although they all seem to have a certain validity and underline the richness and diversity of Auster's detective trilogy neither do I intend to coin a new term for Auster's detective fiction I would rather place The New York Trilogy within a more general and open literary form namely postmodern detective fiction This classifies Paul Auster as an American writer who is part of the generation that immediately followed the classical literary movement of American postmodernism of the 60s and 70s His writing demonstrates that he has been influenced by the revolutionary and innovative postmodern concepts characterised by the notion of anything goes on a planet of multiplicity as well as by French poststructuralism He may however be distinguished from a traditional postmodern writer through a certain coherence in the narrative discourse a neo realistic approach and by showing a certain responsibility for social and moral aspects going beyond mere metafictional and subversive elements Many of the ideas of postmodernism were formulated in theoretical literary texts of the 60s and 70s and based on formal experiments include the attempt of subverting the ability of language to refer truthfully to the world and a radical turning away from coherent narrative discourse and plot

These ideas seem to have been internalized by the new generation of postmodern writers of the 80s to such The Imagery of Writing in the Early Works of Paul Auster Clara Sarmiento, 2017-01-06 The early works of Paul Auster convey the loneliness of the individual fully committed to the work of writing as if he were confined within the book that dominates his life All through Auster's poetry essays and fiction the work of writing is an actual physical effort an effective construction as if the words aligned in the poem text were stones to place in a row when building a wall or some other structure in stone This book studies the symbolism of the genetic substance of the world rebuilt through the work of writing inside the walls of the room closed in space and time though open to an unlimited mental expansion Paul Auster's work is an aesthetic literary self reflection about the mission of writing The writer character is like an inexperienced God whose hands may originate either cosmos or chaos life or death hence Auster's recurring meditation on the work and the power of writing at the same time an autobiography and a self criticism The stones the wall and the room the words the page and the book are the ontological structure of the imaginary cosmos generated in Paul Auster's mind like a real world born of the magma of words lost in another interior world The Implosion of Negativity Andreas Hau, 2012-03-24 Dissertation im Fachbereich Nordamerikanische Literatur und Kultur der Universität des Saarlandes The Implosion of Negativity ist die erste Monografie zu Paul Austers Frühwerk Bis 1980 betätigte sich Auster zehn Jahre lang fast ausschließlich als Lyriker um danach nie wieder ein Gedicht zu veröffentlichen The Implosion of Negativity versucht zu ergründen wie es zu diesem Bruch kam und analysiert detailliert Austers poetisches Vorleben Dabei werden bislang unbeachtete Einflüsse wie Martin Buber und Paul Celan zutage gefördert Die abschließende Untersuchung von The New York Trilogy zeigt exemplarisch welche neuen interpretatorischen Ansätze die Kenntnis von Austers vergessenem Frühwerk ermöglicht Der untote Lyriker wird zum Phantom das unablässig Austers Romane heimsucht und antreibt Die Dissertation The Implosion of Negativity ist in englischer Sprache verfasst Der Anhang enthält eine deutsche Zusammenfassung eine umfassende Bibliographie und ein persönliches Interview mit Paul Auster Englischer Klappentext For most readers and critics Paul Auster's oeuvre begins with The New York Trilogy yet his major success as a novelist was preceded by a decade of almost obsessive devotion to poetry The Implosion of Negativity is the first book length study of Paul Auster's early work From his dense intensely lyric sequences of the early 1970s to the more discursive style of Auster's final book of poems Facing the Music 1980 and on to his experimental prose of the early eighties The Implosion of Negativity traces a fascinating journey through the author's formative years Andreas Hau's dissertation begins with a detailed analysis of Auster's early long poem Unearth examines overlooked influences such as Paul Celan and Martin Buber and continues with Auster's exploration of his Jewish heritage in Wall Writing his rediscovery of the American objectivists in Disappearances and his encounters with the visual arts in Fragments from Cold Subsequent chapters investigate Auster's eventual break with the lyric form and the transitional phase of genreless prose in White Spaces and The Invention of Solitude The Implosion of Negativity closes with a re-examination of The New York Trilogy in the light of Auster's obscure early oeuvre and exemplifies how the undead poet has become the negative force that haunts and fuels Paul Auster's novels to date I remain very attached to the poetry I wrote says Auster I still stand by it In the final analysis it could even be the best work I've ever done The Implosion of Negativity sheds new light on the genesis of one of America's foremost writers The appendix contains a comprehensive bibliography and a personal interview with Paul Auster

Paul Auster's 'City of Glass' as a Postmodern Detective Novel Toni Rudat, 2007-11 Seminar paper from the year 2006 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1.3 RWTH Aachen University 13 entries in the bibliography language English abstract PAUL AUSTER's novel City of Glass published in 1985 appeared during the period of the postmodern era 1 Although it is considerably discussed at what time the beginnings of the postmodern era is to be set it is irrefutable that City of Glass belongs to postmodern literature To analyse in how far PAUL AUSTER's City of Glass serves as a representative of the postmodern era and to show the reader in what way postmodern qualities are converted into the writings of that time the main part of this paper will be divided up into two sections The first section serves to define the coming up of this movement and the qualities it possesses within the genre of detective fiction Furthermore some important idealistic features like the idea of reality and identity have to be taken into consideration The short introduction of the two identity constituting models by ERIKSON and MEAD will provide a better overview of the idea of identity formation Within the second section the novel itself will be taken into consideration Therefore it is necessary to take a close look at the main character Daniel Quinn and his character development the crisis of his identity in the course of the novel respectively Besides another striking factor namely the appearance of doublings and triplings of characters has to be clarified as well as the role of the narrator The conclusion at the end of the paper is supposed then to show to what extent City of Glass belongs to postmodern literature and which peculiarities of postmodern writings have been included in this novel Since there are just a few recent publications on Paul Auster and his novels three of them namely An Art of Desire Reading Paul Auster by BERND HERZOGENRATH Crisis The Works of Paul Auster by CARSTEN SPRINGER and the pu Ethics of Literary Forms in Contemporary American Literature Rüdiger Heinze, 2005 This work links ethics and the formal arrangement of literary texts It shows that specific formal techniques and devices and the overall form of literary texts always have an ethical dimension and beg certain ethical questions Covering the three main genres of narrative drama and poetry the discussion addresses aspects of syntax line breaks mise en scene and narrative situation as well as the table of contents list of characters and chapter structure in six texts by contemporary American authors Paul Auster Don DeLillo Tony Kushner Suzan Lori Parks John Ashbery and Jorie Graham Communication in Postmodern Urban Fiction Lisann Anders, 2020-05-20 We cannot imagine our world without its digital mirror anymore We communicate to others in mediated ways and even create ourselves through our technological devices presenting an imagined version of us to the outside world This book is concerned with precisely this imagination of the self in an increasing digitalized society going back to the beginning of our digital age to the peak of postmodernism at the end of the 20th century Looking at urban fiction from the 1980s to the early 2000s the journey of fictional protagonists through the streets of mostly New York City reveals an anxiety about the loss of self in the virtual culminating in violence and destruction From Auster and Ellis to Palahniuk and DeLillo this book highlights how an increasingly distanced communication triggers the imagination of violence making it an insightful read for scholars and aficionados of city literature postmodernism and communication alike

Constellations of Reading Carlo Salzani,2009 How to read Walter Benjamin today This book argues that the proper way is through an approach which recognizes and respects his own peculiar theorization of the act of reading and the politics of interpretation that this entails The approach must be figural that is focused on images and driven by the notion of actualization Figural reading in the very sui generis Benjaminian way understands figures as constellations whereby an image of the past juxtaposes them with an image of the present and is thus actualized To apply this method to Benjamin s own work means first to identify some figures The book singles out the Fl neur the Detective the Prostitute and the Ragpicker and then sets them alongside a contemporary account of the same figure the Fl neur in Juan Goytisolo s Landscapes after the Battle 1982 the Detective in Paul Auster s New York Trilogy 1987 the Prostitute in Dacia Maraini s Dialogue between a Prostitute and her Client 1973 and the Ragpicker in Mudrooroo s The Mudrooroo M ller Project 1993 The book thereby on the one hand analyses the politics of reading Benjamin today and on the other sets his work against a variety of contemporary aesthetics and politics of interpretation

Identity, Narrative and Politics Maureen Whitebrook,2014-04-04 Identity Narrative and Politics argues that political theory has barely begun to develop a notion of narrative identity instead the book explores the sophisticated ideas which emerge from novels as alternative expressions of political understanding This title uses a broad international selection of Twentieth Century English language works by writers such as Nadine Gordimer and Thomas Pynchon The book considers each novel as a source of political ideas in terms of content structure form and technique The book assumes no prior knowledge of the literature discussed and will be fascinating reading for students of literature politics and cultural studies

Light Writing & Life Writing Timothy Dow Adams,2000 On the surface the use of photography in autobiography appears to have a straightforward purpose to illustrate and corroborate the text But in the wake of poststructuralism the role of photography in autobiography is far from simple or one dimensional

Reader's Guide to Literature in English Mark Hawkins-Dady,2012-12-06 Reader s Guide Literature in English provides expert guidance to and critical analysis of the vast number of books available within the subject of English literature from Anglo Saxon times to the current American British and Commonwealth scene It is designed to help students teachers and librarians choose the most appropriate books for research and study

On the Turn Bárbara Arizti,Silvia Martínez-Falquina,2009-05-05 On the Turn The Ethics of Fiction in Contemporary Narrative in English is an attempt to listen to the various voices that participate in the current dialogue on the relationship between fiction and ethics The editors introduction investigates the current state of affairs on the return to ethics in critical and literary consideration and it opens up the way for the variety of approaches that follows. Participants include internationally recognized scholars like Andrew Gibson, Patricia Waugh, or Native American fiction writer and poet Gordon Henry, winner of the American Book Award in 1995. All in all, contributors cover a significant geographical diversity and their approaches also vary from general theory to particular examples from traditional interpretations to post deconstruction ethics. Authors analyze texts both mainstream and marginal, colonial and postcolonial; they examine the ethics of race, gender and sexuality, the ethics of self-positioning and orientation, the ethics of style, the ethics of reception, the ethics of mode and genre, the ethics of extreme situations of evil, disease and fascism. In its search for a better understanding of the global, nationalistic world of today, On the Turn therefore moves beyond the scope of literary criticism into issues of wider, more urgent relevance. What should I ought I may I must I do if anything on the basis of reading when I have read a literary work? What does reading a literary work authorize or even command me to do? Writing an essay about the work would be one response. On the Turn is a wonderfully diverse, learned, challenging, provocative, even sometimes controversial collection of essays on the ethical dimensions of literature. This book is testimony to the continued, lively interest in the ethical turn in literary studies. The authors are for the most part concerned with ethical theory and with ethically charged situations in postmodern novels in English as they shape readers' values and judgments. Poetry and non-print media are however also discussed. J. Hillis Miller, UCI Distinguished Research Professor of Comparative Literature and English, University of California at Irvine. The Ethics of Fiction is an important and exciting volume that explores with energy and rigour the connections between ethics and literature. Relating literature to philosophy, neurobiology, politics, religion, deconstruction and psychoanalysis, the twenty-two contributors richly advance the ethical turn recently embraced by many critics. Works by authors such as Ian McEwan, A. S. Byatt, Charles Palliser, Hanif Kureishi, J. M. Coetzee, David Malouf, George Orwell, E. L. Doctorow, Flannery O'Connor, Toni Morrison and Paul Auster are presented in a new light and complex topics such as territoriality, the nature of love, Islamophobia and the politics of representation are tackled with imagination and intellectual integrity. This book is essential reading for anyone interested in the dialogue between ethics and literature. Avril Horner, Professor of English, Kingston University. Encyclopedia of the American Novel Abby H. P. Werlock, 2015-04-22. Praise for the print edition: no other reference work on American fiction brings together such an array of authors and texts as this.

The Art of Hunger Alys Moody, 2018. When we think of writers today we often think of them as thin and poor as starving artists. This book traces the history of this idea and asks why hunger has been such a compelling metaphor for thinking about writing in modern times. Representations of Anne Frank in American Literature Rachael McLennan, 2016-08-05. This book explores portrayals of Anne Frank in American literature where she is often invoked if problematically as a means of encouraging readers to think widely about persecution, genocide and victimisation, often in relation to gender, ethnicity and race. It shows how literary representations of Anne Frank in America over the past 50 years reflect the continued dominance of the American dramatic adaptations of Frank's Diary in the 1950s and argues that authors feel compelled to engage with the problematic elements of these adaptations and their iconic power. At the same time though literary representations of Frank are associated with the adaptations critics often assume that these texts unquestioningly perpetuate the problems with the adaptations. This is not true. This book examines how American authors represent Frank in order to negotiate difficult questions relating to representation of the Holocaust in America and in order to consider gender coming of age and forms of inequality in American culture in various historical moments and of course to consider the ways Frank herself is represented in America. This book argues that the most compelling representations of Frank in American literature are alert to their own limitations and may caution against making Frank a universal symbol of goodness or setting up too easy identifications with her. It will be of great interest to researchers and students of Frank the Holocaust in American fiction and culture gender studies life writing young adult fiction and ethics.

Detecting Texts Patricia Merivale, Susan Elizabeth Sweeney, 2011-06-07. Although readers of detective fiction ordinarily expect to learn the mystery's solution at the end there is another kind of detective story the history of which encompasses writers as diverse as Poe Borges Robbe Grillet Auster and Stephen King that ends with a question rather than an answer. The detective not only fails to solve the crime but also confronts insoluble mysteries of interpretation and identity. As the contributors to Detecting Texts contend such stories belong to a distinct genre the metaphysical detective story in which the detective hero's inability to interpret the mystery inevitably casts doubt on the reader's similar attempt to make sense of the text and the world. Detecting Texts includes an introduction by the editors that defines the metaphysical detective story and traces its history from Poe's classic tales to today's postmodernist experiments. In addition to the editors contributors include Stephen Bernstein Joel Black John T. Irwin Jeffrey T. Nealon and others.

An Emotional History of the United States Peter N. Stearns, Jan Lewis, 1998. Emotions lie at our very core as human beings. How we process and grapple with our emotions how and what we emote and how we respond to the emotions of others constitute the essence of our social universe. In a very real sense we exist only through the prism of our emotions. And yet the profound effect of human emotion on history politics religion and culture remains underexamined. While the influence of emotion in such realms as American foreign policy has been well documented other emotional aspects of American history have escaped notice. What role for instance does emotion have in the practice of African American religion? How do shame and self-hatred influence American conceptions of identity? How does our emotional life change as we age? To what degree is American consumerism driven by basic human emotion? With this landmark anthology historians Peter N. Stearns and Jan Lewis provide a road map of the American emotional landscape. From the emotional world of working class Massachusetts to the prayers of evangelical and pentecostal women and the gendered nature of black rage these essays provide a multicultural snapshot of the unique nature and evolution of American emotions.
