Alphabet Journal:

Inventing the Alphabet Johanna Drucker, 2022-08-08 The first comprehensive intellectual history of alphabet studies Inventing the Alphabet provides the first account of two and a half millennia of scholarship on the alphabet Drawing on decades of research Johanna Drucker dives into sometimes obscure and esoteric references dispelling myths and identifying a pantheon of little known scholars who contributed to our modern understandings of the alphabet one of the most important inventions in human history Beginning with Biblical tales and accounts from antiquity Drucker traces the transmission of ancient Greek thinking about the alphabet s origin and debates about how Moses learned to read The book moves through the centuries finishing with contemporary concepts of the letters in alpha numeric code used for global communication systems Along the way we learn about magical and angelic alphabets antique inscriptions on coins and artifacts and the comparative tables of scripts that continue through the development of modern fields of archaeology and paleography This is the first book to chronicle the story of the intellectual history through which the alphabet has been invented as an object of scholarship

Cadmean Letters Martin Bernal, 1990 Western civilization has long sought its cultural roots in the classical civilizations of the Aegean During the twentieth century however it has been made increasingly clear that it owes a great debt to the civilizations of the Fertile Crescent In the thick of the debate as to how much classical civilizations were influenced by the Levant has been the question of the date of the transmission of the alphabet In this monograph Bernal takes up the question anew and marshals persuasive arguments that the date of transmission of the alphabet should be moved considerably earlier than generally has been thought to the middle of the second millennium B C Growing out of his work on Black Athena the intricate matters of alphabetic history and transmission are dealt with both in terms of the history of the investigation of the topic and also with regard to the specific working out of his own new proposal

The Biopolitics of Embryos and Alphabets Ruth Austin Miller, 2017 In recent decades there has been an explosion in work in the social and physical sciences describing the similarities between human and nonhuman as well as human and non animal thinking In this work Ruth Miller argues that these types of phenomena are also useful models for thinking about the growth reproduction and spread of political thought and democratic processes By shifting her level of analysis from the politics of self determining subjects to the realm of material environments and information systems Miller asks what might happen if these alternative nonhuman thought processes become the normative thought processes of democratic engagement includes four of Kierkegaard's important NB journals Journals NB11 through NB14 covering the months from early May 1849 to the beginning of 1850. At this time Denmark was coming to terms with the 1848 revolution that had replaced absolutism with popular sovereignty while the war with the German states continued and the country pondered exactly what replacing the old State Church with the Danish People's Church would mean. In these journals Kierkegaard reflects at length on political and especially on ecclesiastical developments. His brooding over the ongoing effects of his fight with the satirical journal Corsair continues and he also examines and re-examines the broader personal and religious significance of his broken engagement with Regine Olsen. These journals also contain reflections by Kierkegaard on a number of his most important works including the two works written under his new pseudonym Anti Climacus The Sickness unto Death and Practice in Christianity and his various attempts at autobiographical explanations of his work. And all the while the drumbeat of his radical critique of Christendom continues and escalates. Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later. This edition of the journals reproduces this format includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced.

Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks, Volume 11, Part 1 Søren Kierkegaard, 2019-11-26. For over a century the Danish thinker Søren Kierkegaard 1813-55 has been at the center of a number of important discussions concerning not only philosophy and theology but also more recently fields such as social thought, psychology and contemporary aesthetics especially literary theory. Despite his relatively short life Kierkegaard was an extraordinarily prolific writer as attested to by the 26 volume Princeton University Press edition of all of his published writings. But Kierkegaard left behind nearly as much unpublished writing most of which consists of what are called his journals and notebooks. Kierkegaard has long been recognized as one of history's great journal keepers but only rather small portions of his journals and notebooks are what we usually understand by the term diaries. By far the greater part of Kierkegaard's journals and notebooks consists of reflections on a myriad of subjects philosophical religious political personal. Studying his journals and notebooks takes us into his workshop where we can see his entire universe of thought. We can witness the genesis of his published works to be sure but we can also see whole galaxies of concepts new insights and fragments large and small of partially or almost entirely completed but unpublished works. Kierkegaard's Journals and Notebooks enables us to see the thinker in dialogue with his times and with himself. Kierkegaard wrote his journals in a two column format one for his initial entries and the second for the extensive marginal comments that he added later. This edition of the journals reproduces this format includes several photographs of original manuscript pages and contains extensive scholarly commentary on the various entries and on the history of the manuscripts being reproduced. Volume 11 Part 1 and Volume 11 Part 2 present an exciting enlightening and enormously varied treasure trove of papers that were found carefully sorted and stored by Kierkegaard himself in his apartment after his death. These papers many of which have never before been published in English provide a window into many different aspects of Kierkegaard's life and creativity Volume 11 Part 1 includes items from his earliest formative years through his extensive studies at the university and up to the publication of Either/Or These materials include Kierkegaard's studies in biblical exegesis his reading of theologians such as Schleiermacher and Baader his concern with aesthetic matters including a lengthy consideration of the Faust legend his first trial sermon delivered at the Pastoral Seminary his views on the burgeoning field of political journalism in the 1830s and a group of papers he titled The First Rudiments of Either/Or The Green Book Some Particulars that were not Used
