Altered Destinies How Online Learning Is Changing Our Schools And Colleges:

A Classroom of One Gene I. Maeroff, 2025-09-23 A Classroom of One is Gene Maeroff's report from the front on the short history and status of online learning in the United States and around the world. Maeroff is a reporter who takes you to the schools from Penn State's World Campus to the Florida Virtual School to the newly emerging online learning initiatives in Afghanistan. His journey ultimately provides a snapshot of the way in which technology is changing the minds of people with regard to the nature of higher education. He looks at the method of electronic delivery, the quality of the information being delivered, and quality of interaction it engenders. He looks at the way learners are adapting to this new technology and how much responsibility is put on the student's shoulders. Finally, and maybe tellingly, he looks at the business of online learning.

Also issued separately. Rebuilding Higher Education Systems Impacted by Crises: Navigating Traumatic Events, Disasters, and More Kayyali, Mustafa, 2024-04-05 The resilience and adaptability of higher education systems are under unprecedented strain. From natural disasters to pandemics and economic crises to political turmoil, universities and colleges worldwide have grappled with a myriad of crises that disrupt their core missions of teaching, research, and community engagement. As we find ourselves at the crossroads of these tumultuous times, the imperative to reconstruct and revitalize higher education systems becomes increasingly evident. Rebuilding Higher Education Systems Impacted by Crises: Navigating Traumatic Events, Disasters, and More is a pioneering work that addresses the critical issues surrounding the restoration of higher education systems in the wake of various crises. This book serves as a roadmap for educators, administrators, policymakers, and stakeholders who share a commitment to preserving and advancing higher education even in the face of adversity. The 21st century has witnessed a rapid escalation in the frequency and severity of crises affecting higher education institutions. These crises span from the abrupt shift to online learning necessitated by the COVID-19 pandemic to the enduring ramifications of climate change on campus infrastructure. Additional factors such as financial pressures, evolving demographics, and the ever-changing technological landscape further complicate the challenge. This book embarks on a deep exploration of these challenges and offers practical solutions, making it an indispensable resource for anyone vested in the future of higher education. Catastrophe and Higher Education Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2020-12-11 This book asks what it means to live in a higher educational world continuously tempered by catastrophe. Many of the resources for response and resistance to catastrophe have long been identified by thinkers ranging from Ralph Waldo Emerson and William James to H. G. Wells and Emanuel Haldeman. Jeffrey R. Di Leo posits that hope and resistance are possible if we are willing to resist a form of pessimism that already appears to be drawing us into its arms. Catastrophe and Higher Education argues that the future of the humanities is tied to the fate of theory as a form of resistance to neoliberalism in higher education. It also offers that the fate of the academy may very well be in the hands of humanities scholars who are tasked with either rejecting theory and philosophy in times of catastrophe or embracing it Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff,Staff Bowker, Ed,2004

Post Covid 19 Learning Recovery S. Veena, Covid 19 has impacted and changed the education sector to a different level Due to the widespread effects of COVID 19 schools and other educational institutions had to close In an effort to lessen the effects of COVID 19 the majority of governments first chose to temporarily close schools Children s learning has suffered as a result of the pandemic s prolonged school closures In this way a whole school year has passed with little to no curriculum learning in the present class However this is merely one type of learning loss The pervasive problem of pupils forgetting what they learned in a previous session is equally concerning because it represents a setback in their academic learning This involves losing fundamental skills that are the cornerstone of additional learning such reading comprehension and addition and multiplication which they had previously mastered Systemic diverse and well coordinated activities are necessary for learning recovery In addition to focusing on teacher capacity and support and disseminating ideas that all instructors can apply the strategy needs to be comprehensive and long term For learning recovery to be effective equitable and long lasting it must also be transformational The foundation of curriculum reform is meaningful learning and teaching coupled with an awareness of the system s capacity to implement the reform stages as effectively as possible Curriculum reform is not a stand alone process Whether it s a learner centered spiral technology centered or curriculum for the twenty first century any curriculum that adheres to pedagogy is appreciated It is vital to plan and organise the shift so that it incorporates the core topics of reading and numeracy and also establishes a connection between the learner and his or her surroundings and culture By putting such strategies into practice the failure factors of curricular reform will be slowed down The idea that the present is the best predictor of the future will help support groups choose and create a curriculum that equips kids to deal with the fallout from challenging circumstances such as the pandemic and others of a similar nature Long term gains in children s learning however depend on pre service teachers education being of higher quality Children s learning may be enhanced by strengthening the ICT environment for instruction but only if teachers ICT competencies are also improved To connect the learning of children with the professional development of teachers more study is required Students learning may benefit from increased teacher motivation brought about by certification programmes pay structure modifications improved school leadership and more transparent evaluation procedures As a result the book covers a wide range of important subjects pertaining to education in the post pandemic era such as how to establish a strong rapport between students and teachers systemic interventions that reframe teachers roles as edupreneurs the effects of digital technology on the teaching learning process techniques for filling in knowledge gaps in curricula pedagogy and assessments and safeguards for private school sustainability All those with an interest in the post pandemic recovery of schools with a focus on creating a fair inclusive and comprehensive national education system may find the book to be a useful resource

International Student Transitions Maureen Snow Andrade,K. James Hartshorn,2019-06-07 US higher education institutions host more than a million international students many of whom speak English as a second language ESL As this number is projected to grow it is vital that new curricular and non curricular approaches to English language development are considered including rigorous evaluation processes This book introduces a framework to guide institutions in examining their views and beliefs regarding language acquisition and current approaches to international student success It makes a distinction between a philosophy of support and a philosophy of development with a focus on the latter It provides stakeholders with theoretical and practical foundations from which they can design develop and implement new models for students linguistic and cultural growth Application of the framework will encourage institutions to examine support models that have been in place for decades and develop effective processes for generating innovative programming and practices aimed at helping international ESL students achieve their educational goals Delhi's Education Revolution Kusha Anand,Marie Lall,2022-09-26 In 2015 the Aam Aadmi Party AAP was elected to govern Delhi promising to improve public services including education through government schools that would be the equal of private school provision Media reports along with the party s re election in 2020 suggest strong public confidence that AAP are delivering on that promise But is this success reflected by experience in schools Delhi s Education Revolution offers a critical evaluation of the AAP s education reforms by exploring policy and practice through the eyes of one key group the government school teachers tasked with making the AAP s pledge a reality Drawing on 110 research interviews conducted via Zoom during the Covid pandemic in the summer of 2020 teachers explain how the reforms have changed their profession and practice and whether education really has improved for children of all backgrounds Analysis of views about critical issues such as inclusion and the pressure of achievement targets in classrooms that often contain more than 50 students informs their observations about the reform programme itself The study paints a more qualified picture of success than suggested elsewhere and makes a valuable contribution to the understanding of education reforms in India and most especially in Delhi
