Altered Habits

Adriana Novoa, Alex Levine

Altered Habits:

The Structure of Evolutionary Theory Stephen Jay Gould, 2002-03-21 The world's most revered and eloquent interpreter of evolutionary ideas offers here a work of explanatory force unprecedented in our time a landmark publication both for its historical sweep and for its scientific vision With characteristic attention to detail Stephen Jay Gould first describes the content and discusses the history and origins of the three core commitments of classical Darwinism that natural selection works on organisms not genes or species that it is almost exclusively the mechanism of adaptive evolutionary change and that these changes are incremental not drastic Next he examines the three critiques that currently challenge this classic Darwinian edifice that selection operates on multiple levels from the gene to the group that evolution proceeds by a variety of mechanisms not just natural selection and that causes operating at broader scales including catastrophes have figured prominently in the course of evolution Then in a stunning tour de force that will likely stimulate discussion and debate for decades Gould proposes his own system for integrating these classical commitments and contemporary critiques into a new structure of evolutionary thought In 2001 the Library of Congress named Stephen Jay Gould one of America's eighty three Living Legends people who embody the quintessentially American ideal of individual creativity conviction dedication and exuberance Each of these qualities finds full expression in this peerless work the likes of which the scientific world has not seen and may not see again for well over a century

Reform in the Balance Anthony DeBlasi, 2012-02-01 Anthony DeBlasi offers a remapping of China's intellectual landscape during the late eighth and early ninth centuries Recreating a world of intense philosophical debate influenced by political uncertainty and social disorder he reveals the logic behind the period's most popular philosophical positions Reform in the Balance casts aside traditional evaluations of the predominance of the Ancient Style Movement guwen during this era Building on recent scholarship and his own reading of Tang sources the author argues that the period's dominant intellectual position advocated moderately conservative cultural reform designed to defend literary pursuits and the broader cultural tradition from more strident critics

From Man to Ape Adriana Novoa, Alex Levine, 2010-12 The authors here offer a history and interpretation of the reception of Darwinism in Argentina illuminating the ways culture shapes scientific enterprise They reveal new ways of understanding Latin American science and its impact on the scientific communities of Europe and North America
