Kids Count Elizabeth Hill, Barbara Pocock, Alison Elliott, 2007 Demand for childcare has soared over the past decade as Australian families seek to reconcile work and care responsibilities But the cost of care keeps rising waiting lists in many metropolitan centres are long and high quality services are not always available Australia s system of early childhood education and care is fragmented and the major political parties have failed to take a comprehensive approach to policy development So what would a good system of early childhood education and care in Australia look like In this book a selection of Australia s leading early childhood researchers teachers advocates and social policy experts consider The goals of a good national system How a high quality and equitable early childhood education and care system can be delivered What makes quality care Who should provide and who should pay Training and professional development for workers Regulation and funding of services The authors offer a comprehensive set of policy principles that would deliver a better early childhood education and care regime for Australian children and their families

Handbook of School Violence and School Safety Shane Jimerson, Amanda Nickerson, Matthew J. Mayer, Michael J. Furlong, 2012-03-12

The Handbook of School Violence and School Safety International Research and Practice has become the premier resource for educational and mental health professionals and policymakers seeking to implement effective prevention and intervention programs that reduce school violence and promote safe and effective schools. It covers the full range of school violence and safety topics from harassment and bullying to promoting safe, secure and peaceful schools. It also examines existing school safety programs and includes the multi-disciplinary research and theories that guide them. Examinations of current issues and projections of future research and practice are embedded within each chapter. This volume maps the boundaries of this rapidly growing and multidisciplinary field of study. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage. The chapters are divided into three parts: Foundations, Assessment and Measurement, Prevention and Intervention Programs. Together they provide a comprehensive review of what is known about the types, causes and effects of school violence and the most effective intervention programs that have been developed to prevent violence and promote safe and thriving school climates. Evidence-based Practice. Avoiding a one-size-fits-all approach to prevention and intervention, the focus throughout is on the application of evidence-based practice to address factors most commonly associated with school violence and safety. Implications for Practice. Each chapter bridges the research to practice gap with a section delineating implications for practice of the foregoing research. Chapter Structure. To ensure continuity and coherence across the book, each chapter begins with a brief abstract and ends with a table showing the implications for practice. International Focus. Acknowledging the fact that school violence and safety is a global concern, this edition has increased its focus on insights learned from cross-national research and practice outside the USA. Expertise. The editors and authors are experienced researchers, teachers, practitioners and leaders in the school violence field; their expertise includes their breadth and depth of knowledge and experience bridging research, policy and practice and representing a variety of international organizations studying school violence around the world.

Optimizing Student Success in School with the Other Three Rs Robert J. Sternberg, Rena F. Subotnik, 2006-06-01. The Other Three Rs model began as an American Psychological Association (APA) initiative sponsored by Robert J. Sternberg, IBM Professor of Psychology and Education at Yale University and Past President of the APA. For both this initiative and this edited volume, Sternberg assembled a diverse team of experts who identified reasoning, resilience and responsibility as three learnable skills that when taken together have great potential for increasing academic success. The authors of this volume present in detail their evidence-based arguments for promoting TOTRs in schools as a way to optimize student success.

Adolescent Education Joseph L. DeVitis, Linda Irwin-DeVitis, 2010. This book elucidates the complexities, contradictions and confusion surrounding adolescence in American culture and education.

Reforming a School System, Reviving a City G. Maeroff, 2013-11-19. Can a bold investment in education turn around the economy of an entire city? Gene I. Maeroff, former national education correspondent for the New York Times, explores how the nonprofit group Say Yes to Education has instituted a network of reforms in Syracuse, New York, that aim to expand the city's middle class by supporting its children      Building Blocks Gene I. Maeroff, 2025-09-23 A student's entire journey along the educational spectrum is affected by what occurs and crucially by what does not occur before the age of eight or nine. Yet early learning has never received the attention it deserves and needs. In his latest book, education expert Gene Maeroff takes a hard look at early learning and the primary grades of schooling. Building Blocks offers a concrete and groundbreaking strategy for improving early education. Filled with colorful descriptions and anecdotes from Maeroff's visits to schools around the country, Building Blocks creates a rich portrait of education in America, ranging from math lessons imported from Singapore in Massachusetts to serious but joyful kindergartens in California. He speaks of the need for schools to prepare for the burgeoning enrollment of youngsters from immigrant families and for all children to acquire the habits and dispositions that will make them committed and productive students. Maeroff issues a call to action for policy makers and parents alike.

Somebody Knows, Somebody Cares Kirsten Hutchison, Tricia McCann, 2015-06-25 Somebody Knows Somebody Cares: Reengaging Students through Relationship explores approaches to engaging young people in schooling through advocacy models of student support. In Australia, as in many nations, increasing social, cultural, and linguistic diversity in school populations is producing complex challenges for education systems, schooling, teaching, and learning. This book shares research-informed insights into the multi-layered approaches required to support vulnerable students and sustain school-based mentoring programs. This edited collection covers theoretical and empirical perspectives on student disengagement from schooling through these key ideas: The benefits of advocacy and mentoring programs on learning and school culture, particularly for students who are at risk of disconnection from learning; Transforming schooling from the bottom up by listening to students, teachers, and principals; and supporting educators in the development of situated and dynamic conditions for learning through school-university partnerships. The centrality of positive, caring teacher-student relationships, foregrounding emotional connection as a key component of effective learning, derived from the person-centred theory articulated by Carl Rogers. Written by a team of academics, teachers, and school principals, Somebody Knows Somebody Cares: Reengaging Students through Relationship is a valuable resource for teacher-educators, principals, teachers, student welfare counsellors, and counselling practitioners.

Latino Education Pedro Pedraza, Melissa Rivera, 2006-04-21 This landmark volume represents the work of the National Latino Education Research Agenda Project (NLERAP), an initiative focused on school reform and educational research with and for Latino communities. NLERAP's goal is to bring together various constituencies within the broad Latino community who are concerned with public education to articulate a Latino perspective on research-based school reform and to use research as a guide to improving the public school systems that serve Latino students and to maximizing their opportunities to participate fully and equally in all social, economic, and political contexts of society. Latino Education: An Agenda for Community Action Research conceptualizes and illustrates the theoretical framework for the NLERAP agenda and its projects. This framework is grounded in three overlapping areas of scholarship and activism, which are reflected within the chapters in this volume critical studies illuminating and analyzing the status of people of color in the United States Latino a educational research capturing the sociohistorical cultural and political schooling experiences of U S Latino a communities and participatory action research exemplifying a liberation oriented methodology for truly transformative education The volume includes both descriptive educational research and critical analyses of previous research and educational agendas related to Latino a communities in the United States According to current U S Census data Latinos now comprise the largest minority group in the total U S population Historically reflecting larger sociohistorical and economic inequalities in U S society the Latino community has not been well served by U S public school systems More attention to the Latino students educational issues is needed to redress this problem especially given the tremendous population increase and projected growth of Latino communities in the U S Latino Education An Agenda for Community Action Research is a major contribution toward this goal

Narrowing the Achievement Gap Susan J. Paik, Herbert J. Walberg, 2007-06-04 The subject of minority children s learning has long been the concern of civic leaders parents scholars and educators The federal legislation No Child Left Behind emphasizes the concern even more It specifically requires assessing the academic achievement of minority students particularly in economically disadvantaged areas and holding schools accountable for their progress Schools that fail to attain Adequate Yearly Progress face the real possibility of being forced to close if they continually fail to perform Unlike the past these are increasingly high stakes consequences for educators parents students and the schools that serve them This book is timely and relevant because it addresses these issues and recommends solutions for Latino Black and Asian students This book also has implications for the problems the nation faces in helping all students to learn well particularly those that lag in academic achievement In considering the broad problems and in recommending solutions the book provides breadth concision and unique organization As the introductory chapter makes clear the book simultaneously considers not only the three most visible minority groups in the U S but draws upon the perspectives of anthropology education ethnic studies psychology and sociology From these several perspectives this book is organized within three broad sections 1 culturally diverse families and schooling 2 issues of immigration and schooling experiences and 3 socio cultural perspectives on teaching learning and development Within each section the authors marshal research literature regarding each ethnic minority group      Deconstructing Service-Learning Janet Eyler, Shelley H. Billig, 2003-09-01 This work looks at service learning It covers such topics as challenges for service learning research enhancing theory based research on service learning dilemmas of service learning teachers the diffusion of academic service learning in teacher education and more
