Story-telling in the Framework of Non-fictional Arabic Literature Stefan Leder,1998 Labyrinth of Digressions René Bosch,2007-01-01 With their appearance during the 1760s the five instalments of Laurence Sterne s The Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy Gentleman caused something like a booksellers hype Small publishers and anonymous imitators seized on Sterne s success by bringing out great numbers of spurious new volumes critical or ironic pamphlets and works that in style and title express a congeniality with Tristram Shandy This study explores these eighteenth century imitations as indicators of contemporary assumptions about Sterne s intentions Comparisons between the original the first reactions and a number of late eighteenth century imitations show that Tristram Shandy was initially read against the background of Augustan and Grub street satire The earliest imitators harked back to traditions of banter and folklore bawdy and grotesque humour pathetic stories and orthodox religiosity reaffirming a pattern of moral and aesthetic values that was conservative for its time Philosophical Sentimentalism appears to have been a late development It is also argued that partly because of their bad reputation some of the authors of forgeries and parodies had a greater influence on the original than the reviewers to whom Sterne is often said to have listened The imitators followed leads and themes in the first instalments developing them according to their own conception of Sterne s project and the reasons for his success As a consequence they unintentionally put a pressure on Sterne to alter his course and even to abandon some of the narrative lines and themes he had set out for himself The literature section contains a chronological checklist of English eighteenth century Sterneana Emotions in Non-Fictional Representations of the Individual, 1600-1850 Malina Stefanovska,Yinghui Wu,Marie-Paule de Weerdt-Pilorge,2022-01-01 This book addresses the distinct representations of emotions in non fictional texts from the seventeenth to the mid nineteenth century 1600 1850 Focusing on memoirs autobiographies correspondences and conduct manuals it argues that in those writings passions and emotions are differently expressed than in fiction It also offers a comparative study of texts from cultures as diverse as English French Korean and Chinese and of emotions in relation to genre identity and morality during significant cultural transformation of the early modern period This book is distinctive in its choice of non fictional genres its period and its cross cultural approach It can benefit scholars interested in exploring emotion as a historical and cultural product and in enriching their knowledge of an emerging scholarly direction studies in self narratives autobiography memoirs dream narratives letters etc often insufficiently explored in earlier historical periods
