Besonders die altindustrialisierten Regionen in Deutschland stehen heutzutage vor großen strukturellen Problemen Ihr ehemaliger Entwicklungsmotor die Schwer Industrie ist nicht mehr in der Lage zur Weiterentwicklung in der Region beizutragen sondern steht vor umfangreichen Betriebsschließungen Für die Bevölkerung in diesen Regionen ist dies mit einem tiefgreifenden Wandel ihres bisherigen Lebens verbunden Arbeitsplatzverlust und damit der Verlust der ökonomischen Sicherheit können zu Abwanderungen führen Die Region gerät in eine Art Schwebezustand zwischen zwei möglichen weiteren Zukunftsszenarien Einerseits besteht die Gefahr eines Resignierens was starke Abwanderungserscheinungen Beralterung keine Neuinvestitionen und einen Verlust der Lebensqualität der Bevölkerung zur Folge hätte Andererseits besteht die Möglichkeit die eigene Zukunft aktiv zu gestalten indem man das Image der Region verbessert Innovationen in die Region holt und damit die Standortattraktivität für Unternehmen und die Lebensqualität der Bevölkerung erhöht Alte Industrieanlagen die als scheinbar wertlos gewordene Hüllen im Raum stehen prägen das Landschaftsbild dieser Räume Vom Großteil der Bevölkerung werden sie als Schandflecken und Zeichen des wirtschaftlichen Niedergangs angesehen und ihnen wird keinerlei Wert zugemessen Eine Möglichkeit diese alten Industrieanlagen und damit auch die Region dennoch zu neuem Leben zu erwecken besteht in der touristischen Nutzung Obwohl dieser touristischen Nutzung vielfältige Hindernisse entgegenstehen besteht in ihr die Möglichkeit in einer Region zum Strukturwandel beizutragen Herauszufinden inwiefern dies möglich ist welche Merkmale Besucher industrietouristischer Projekte aufweisen und wie die industrietouristischen Angebote gestaltet werden müssen damit sie in das Bewusstsein der Menschen rücken und sich erfolgreich auf dem Tourismusmarkt positionieren können war Ziel dieser Arbeit Ausgegangen wurde von den in der Literatur dargestellten theoretischen Grundlagen zum Thema Industrietourismus Die Arbeit beschäftigt sich vordergründig mit Tourismus in stillgelegten aber auch in noch aktiven Industriebetrieben stattfindet wird dieser mit seinen Merkmalen im theoretischen Teil ebenfalls erörtert Nach einer kurzen Vorstellung ausgewählter industrietouristischer Angebote und Institutionen soll an einem konkreten Projekt in der Niederlausitz der stillgelegten Industrial Cities Clemens Zimmermann, 2013-09-10 Ob Birmingham Rotterdam oder Wolfsburg Industriestädte haben nicht nur völlig unterschiedliche Gesichter sie unterliegen auch einem bemerkenswerten zeitlichen Wandel Die Autoren behandeln die Vergangenheit Gegenwart und Zukunft der Industriestadt als europäisches Phänomen Aus soziologischer historischer geografischer und medialer Perspektive erörtern sie unterschiedliche historische Modelle und Typen von Industriestädten im 19 und 20 Jahrhundert diskutieren die Frage nach der Zukunft von

O'Sullivan, 2011-06-27 This book focuses on the use of computer vision and graphics in architecture. It arose from a convergence of several hot topics: 1. visualization of built environments for engineering, historical and other purposes; 2. virtual reconstruction of architecture from visual data of existing structures, whether via photogrammetric or range sensing techniques; and 3. augmentation of video data of architecture with useful information. The focus here is on architecture and how to present it, enhance its abilities, make it easier to understand and make it accessible to a larger public. Collective interest in this topic led to the International Symposium on Virtual and Augmented Architecture, whose papers are contained in this book. As editors, we were very pleased about how well the different papers chosen gave a nice focus to the topic and conference. It is clear that there are many different research approaches still active in this area; this makes it an exciting time. We hope that this book captures that excitement and succeeds in bringing it to you. Kisho Kurokawa Kishō

Kurokawa, Dennis Sharp, Catherine Slessor, Tomio Ōhashi, 1999. The completion of the first phase of Kuala Lumpur International Airport in 1998 resulted in two 4000 m runways and a 335 000 m<sup>2</sup> main terminal building. The airport can handle 25 million passengers a year. By 2020, however, the airport will be able to handle 120 000 000 passengers a year. It is not surprising that everyone should wonder why Malaysia would need an international airport of that size. The reason is the intense strategic competition that has already started. Unquestionably, the world will have an entirely new high speed transportation system by 2025 at the latest. This will be the HSST (Hypersonic Speed Transport) which will carry between 300 and 500 passengers at speeds up to Mach 3.5. The HSST will be meaningless for short routes. Therefore, the required international hub airports will be limited to two in North America, one in Central and South America, one in Africa, two in Europe, one in Russia, and three in Asia. Like China and South Korea, Malaysia is very eager to obtain one of the three Asian international hub airports because a country with such an airport and the associated infrastructure is very likely to become a financial, information, tourism, and advanced industrial centre. The airport is an integral part of a future linear capital corridor which was also developed by Kurokawa. The area surrounding the airport will be used for an experiment in artificially restoring the tropical rain forest. Creating such a forest is the most effective method for blocking out noise from the airport. This is the basis of the architect's concept for a symbiosis between airport and forest. In addition, the architect believes that this is effective for expressing the identity of Malaysia, as tropical rain forests are the typical vegetation of the country. Kurokawa was a key figure of Japanese Metabolism; he has played an essential role in this movement not only through projects and buildings but also through theoretical writings. Since then, he has been one of the leading architects in Japan.

Aus der Geschichte des Weltkulturerbes "Alte Völklinger Hütte", Frank O. Gehry, Gottfried Knapp, Christian Richters, 2000. Text in English and German. After his deconstructive beginnings in the eighties and nineties, Frank Gehry increasingly practised a very plastic form of architecture. His expressively sculptural cultural buildings include the Vitra Design Museum in Weil am Rhein, his project for the Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles, and above all the Guggenheim

Museum in Bilbao see Opus 32 have shaped the architectural awareness of our period and provided exemplary artistic alternatives to the architectural canon of Modernism Within Gehry's rapidly growing volume of work the comparatively small energy forum for the Minden Ravensburg Electricity Company EMR plays a particularly striking role insofar as the extraordinarily complex brief almost contradictory functions had to be blended in a very cramped space compelled the architect to use highly differentiated forms and materials In this way something like a primal model of sculptural building emerged a massively fissured subtly lit structure that explains itself inside with amazing naturalness making visitors gasp with its changing spatial situations as an exhibition and events centre exploding all conventions as an office building and translating the theme of energy into sensual forms by architectural means as the electricity company's technical distribution centre The old dictum form follows function acquires a new and radical quality in the architecture of the Energieforum In addition to the presentation of the energy forum in Bad Oeynhausen this book contains an illustrated survey of all other buildings by Frank Gehry in Europe
