This Impermanent Earth Douglas Carlson, Soham Patel, 2021-09 With its thirty three essays This Impermanent Earth charts the course of the American literary response to the twentieth century's accumulation of environmental deprivations Arranged chronologically from 1974 to the present the works have been culled from The Georgia Review long considered an important venue for nonfiction among literary magazines published in the United States. The essays range in subject matter from twentieth century examples of what was then called nature writing through writing after 2000 that gradually redefines the environment in increasingly human terms to a more inclusive expansion that considers all human surroundings as material for environmental inquiry. Likewise the approaches range from formal essays to prose works that reflect the movement toward innovation and experimentation. The collection builds as it progresses: later essays grow from earlier ones. This Impermanent Earth is more than a historical survey of a literary form; however, The Georgia Review's talented writers and its longtime commitment to the art of editorial practice have produced a collection that is, as one reviewer put it, incredibly moving, varied, and inspiring. It is a book that will be as at home in the reading room as in the classroom.

In the Eye of History William Matson Law, 2015-11-11 An oral history of the JFK autopsy. Anyone interested in the greatest mystery of the 20th century will benefit from the historic perspective of the attendees of President Kennedy's autopsy. For the first time in their own words, these witnesses to history give firsthand accounts of what took place in the autopsy morgue at Bethesda, Maryland, on the night of November 22, 1963. Author William Matson Law set out on a personal quest to reach an understanding of the circumstances underpinning the assassination of John F. Kennedy. His investigation led him to the autopsy on the president's body at the National Naval Medical Center. In the Eye of History comprises conversations with eight individuals who agreed to talk: Dennis David Paul O'Connor, James Jenkins, Jerrol Custer, Harold Rydberg, Sandra Spencer, and ex-FBI Special Agents James Sibert and Frances O'Neill. These eyewitnesses relate their stories comprehensively, and Law allows them to tell it as they remember it without attempting to fit any pro or anticonspiracy agenda. The book also features a DVD featuring these firsthand interviews.
