Backstage At Stratford:

Backstage at Stratford Joan Ganong, 1962 Backstage at Stratford Joan Ganong, 1962 From the enviable vantage point of staff writer for two seasons Ioan Ganong has written the graphic humorous and warmly enthusiastic account of how the beauty and magic of Stratford's productions are conjured up not in general terms but in the actuality of the 1961 season when Coriolanus Henry VIII and Love s Labour s Lost drew the largest box office in Stratford s history Knowing as she does just what the layman wants to learn of theatrical tradition and practice she describes vividly the workings of Props and Wardrobe who mount the plays and Tanya Moiseiwitsch and Brian Jackson who design them She explains the blocking of plays how rehearsals both on the stage behind the scenes and on the actual stage must be synchronized so that the fifty one actors may not only rehearse in three different plays but have as well 211 costumes fittings not to mention dance fencing and choir rehearsals She shows the Stratford workshop in action as it creates the wonderful costumes jewels and furniture the flags and weapons which deck the bare apron stage so that neither backdrops nor curtains are missed for a moment once the cannon has boomed and the house lights have been lowered Into this tapestry of colour and movement she weaves an unforgettable picture of the dynamic directors Michael Langham and George McCowan and of the actors with all their glamour and eccentricity In this particular season the stars were John Colicos Zoe Caldwell Joy Parker and the crowning glory Paul Scofield the brilliant star who is now a sweeping success on Broadway While she describes the intricate and laborious steps by which the productions are built the plays are gradually taking place before the eyes of the delighted reader This is an absorbing book which every theatre lover will want to own Publisher Backstage at Stratford Joan Coriolanus on Stage in England and America, 1609-1994 John Ripley, 1998 Drawing upon promptbooks and Ganong, 1962 other theater documents engravings and photographs reviews interviews letters diaries and memoirs he creates a richly layered account of a play persistently denied its character and rarely staged without explicit or implicit apology Double Life Don Harron, 2012-11-17 After 15 books about somebody else mostly alter ego Charlie Farquharson Don Harron now presents the colourful story of his 77 year career in the entertainment business The Routledge Companion to Directors' Shakespeare John Russell Brown, 2009-06-02 The Routledge Companion to Directors Shakespeare is a major collaborative book about plays in performance Thirty authoritative accounts describe in illuminating detail how some of theatre's most talented directors have brought Shakespeare's texts to the stage Each chapter has a revealing story to tell as it explores a new and revitalising approach to the most familiar works in the English language A must have work of reference for students of both Shakespeare and theatre this book presents some of the most acclaimed productions of the last hundred years in a variety of cultural and political contexts Each entry describes a director s own theatrical vision and methods of rehearsal and production These studies chart the extraordinary feats of interpretation and innovation that have given Shakespeare's plays enduring life in the theatre Notable entries include Ingmar Bergman Peter Brook Declan Donnellan
