McLean,Daniel G. Yoder,2005 Learning to resolve a dilemma ethically is a complex skill that recreation leaders and managers must learn in order to be successful because they face ethical issues every day They must ask themselves What is the right thing to do in this situation Is my decision ethical for everyone involved How will my decision affect each of the stakeholders and my career Teaching applied ethics requires an understanding of how moral dilemmas can be justly resolved as well as techniques and approaches to accomplish these goals Issues in Recreation and Leisure Ethical Decision Making guides students through this complex process of resolving real life recreation dilemmas by presenting activities techniques and a field tested three step process This process helps students develop sound approaches to dealing with contemporary issues in leisure and recreation In addition this text contains the following features Thematic chapters that address current major issues in recreation management therapeutic recreation outdoor recreation tourism and culture so that students can comprehend the range of issues in these diverse areas of recreation Eight case studies based on current dilemmas from a variety of recreation and leisure settings providing students with valuable practice in applying the three step method for resolving ethical dilemmas Learning activities in each chapter that help students apply leisure philosophy to resolve dilemmas Part I explores ethics in leisure services and examines how dilemmas are naturally solved It covers ethical theory and introduces a three step method that can be widely applied Students learn how recreation professionals worked through an actual dilemma and how their problem solving strategies affect their solutions and their careers Part II presents real life dilemmas common to a variety of leisure management areas ethical issues in therapeutic recreation and problems in outdoor education The authors also tackle various issues surrounding tourism including culture sex tourism the natural environment and virtual tourism Part III contains a consideration of professionalism in parks and recreation and related fields a peek into the future and eight contemporary case studies drawn from leisure services fields These case studies test students abilities to apply ethical problem solving by using the three step method presented earlier in the book The studies present issues in four major areas of recreation and leisure Issues in Recreation and Leisure Ethical Decision Making provides new insights into the recreation and leisure profession It comes with a flexible format that can be used for one to three credit hour courses in recreation issues It arms students with the theory and knowledge they need for ethically resolving dilemmas As such it prepares them to make a difference as effective leisure service providers

Calling Wild Places Home Laura Waterman, 2024-02-01 This is some of the finest writing in Laura Waterman's long and distinguished career Anyone who values the history of conservation or the gnarled wilds of the Northeast or the complexities of the human spirit will find nourishment in these pages Bill McKibben author of Wandering Home In this new book Laura Waterman tells the full story of her unique life It began on the campus of a boy's school and took her to mountains growing her own food and writing In these pages readers find what it's like to grow up the daughter of the scholar who put the dashes back into Emily Dickinson's poetry how Waterman coped with that brilliant father's alcoholism her development as a groundbreaking climber and her homesteading life for almost three decades In these pages she reveals how she kept her strong sense of self while living with a dynamic lovable and often challenging man her late husband Guy Waterman She examines closely her role in his suicide on Mount Lafayette in 2000 Christine Woodside editor of Appalachia and the author of Libertarians on the Prairie Laura Ingalls Wilder Rose Wilder Lane and the Making of the Little House Books

The Green Guide to Low-Impact Hiking and Camping Guy Waterman, Laura Waterman, 2016-06-07 A classic of backpacking literature Backpacker now updated with a brand new foreword by environmentalist and best selling author Bill McKibben Originally published as Backwoods Ethics in 1979 Laura and Guy Waterman's definitive guide to low impact hiking and camping was a prophetic call to reevaluate the impact of outdoor recreation on the wilderness Enthusiastically received by environmentalists and wilderness managers at the time its warnings and advice are now more relevant than ever With wisdom and gentle humor Laura and Guy Waterman present a strong case for the importance of respecting the natural world while you're enjoying it In his foreword to the new edition world famous environmentalist Bill McKibben puts the Watermans advice into context for today's world Day hikers campers and backpackers who follow the sensible techniques laid out in this book will help preserve the wilderness experience for generations to come

Teaching Adventure Education Theory Bob Stremba, 2009 Teaching Adventure Education Theory

Best Practices offers stimulating fun and engaging activities instructors can use in assisting future adventure educators outdoor leaders and group facilitators in making the connections between adventure theory and practice Wilderness Ethics Guy Waterman, Laura Waterman, 2014-10-17 The classic environmental call to action 2014 marks the 50th anniversary of the passing of the Wilderness Act the landmark piece of legislation to set aside and protect pristine parts of the American landscape This anniversary edition of Wilderness Ethics should help put the many issues surrounding wilderness in focus

Losing the Garden Laura Waterman, 2025-02-01 In 1971 Laura and Guy Waterman left New York City for thirty seven acres in Vermont where they would live in a hand built cabin without running water or electricity for the next thirty years It was a life based largely in the nineteenth century a life of hauling their own water and growing their own food of lighting candles in the evening and heating their cabin with wood from the surrounding forest Combined with the trail tending they did in the alpine zone of the White Mountains and the books they wrote about environmental stewardship it made for a rewarding healthy and fruitful existence But that was only part of their story Guy's depression was another part and his ultimate decision to take his own life on the wintry summit of Mount Lafayette a decision he made with Laura's support was the crux a term climbers use to describe the hardest move on the climb Being a climber herself Laura had to confront the crux This meant taking a close look at Guy's suicide and asking herself a hard question How or why had she come to support the decision of the man she loved In Losing the Garden Laura Waterman comes to terms with her husband's long depression and the complex nature of a gifted humorous man who was driven by obsession self absorption and a strange lack of confidence Her account of her own marriage idyllic from the outside but riddled from within is nonetheless a love story a portrait of an intense and unusual marriage and an affirmation of life after loss Trail Walker, 1992 Proceedings of the 1995 Northeastern Recreation Research Symposium, 1995 General Technical Report NE, 1980 The Conservationist, 1979 Wilderness Ethics: Preserving the Spirit of Wildness Guy Waterman, Laura Waterman, 2000-12-17 In February 2000 Guy Waterman died in the White Mountains of New Hampshire In recognition of the renewed interest in his life and work The Countryman Press is proud to reissue this classic text with a new appreciation of her late husband by Laura Waterman In this environmental call to action Laura and Guy Waterman look beyond preserving the ecology of the backcountry to focus on what they call its spiritual dimension its fragile untamed wildness Without some management wildness cannot survive the number of people who seek to enjoy it they write But with too much management or the wrong kind we can destroy the spiritual component of wildness in our zeal to preserve its physical side Trailside huts and lodges large groups seeking wilderness experiences federal and state regulations and technology such as radios cell phones global positioning devices and emergency helicopters all have an impact on our experience With humor and insight the Watermans explore these difficult wilderness management issues They ask us to evaluate the impact that even environmentally conscious values have on the wilderness experience and to ask the question What are we trying to preserve
